Spent another morning on accounts except when I took John in bathing.
A full 12 page letter from Dr. Leakee came describing the typhoon at Kityang. Other letters came from Mr. Carman and Mr. Wallace, giving more horrible details. Whole village wiped away - a few ten left out of a thousand - three left out of a household of twenty one etc. etc. We shall send on Dr. Leakee's latest. Our cooie must us that compound walls are down, roofs badly injured - bales of giveen, bathrooms blow in etc. etc.

Thursday
August 10 1922
Beautiful day. George's birthday.

Ed and I took John to the little hill, "the little round ones" where he has been begging to go for weeks. Then Ed and I went up to see Ben, who had sent for us to talk over affairs as he planned to leave Saturday for Chowchowfu.

I took John in bathing.

Miss Palmer, Miss Stacey, Miss Gilchrist now here for tea. Then we went to Badminton.

No home letters this year. Newsletter sent.

1922

Friday
August 11
Beautiful day.
I worked hard again on the sermon, and I worked at deck, except when I took John in bathing. It seemed good to get cool.

Saw Wilda and Mildred come in for tea.
Badminton after tea.
Played organ in the car. The children love it — and John asks for song after song.

1922
Saturday
August 12
John went to S. S. Ellien preached and had a really fine sermon, the best and most carefully prepared one I have ever heard him give. All seemed to enjoy it and be helped. He has been studying about the Atonement all the spring and he got us away from the theological phrase into the real meaning.

Played organ again in evening. 1922

Sunday August 13
On Aug. Bob went to call on Mr. Denn. who is laid up. John & I called on Mary. Ellerson is fighting off a cold and feeling rather mean. John went in bathing.

Children had a picnic in PN, and we all went to the hill to celebrate Mrs. Norley’s birthday. Husband of course made us fun it made instead of food. A very pleasant time, but I was beginning to feel worse and after we had exchanged the news of latest letters which arrived while we were there they came home early.

Monday August 14
Beautiful day until one when there was a heavy thunderstorm with a fierce wind.

Made fudge. Whitened all family shoes. Sewed.

Took children in bathing and the river was very dirty. Beth and William came to bathe.

Badminton after tea. Letters came from Chatsworth with more details which I will write in home letter. Houses are not habitable for more than one or two people as present.

Thursday August 17
Hare Jim Deen these. We belles send on to John. & be to Jan or return to me.
Misty and frequent shows. E. does not feel well (temp. above normal.) but he went up to go to tea at the Mackenzies with us in the P.M. John and William were invited too.

We ate at clock
most of day while E, lay in bed most of time.

Played organ in evn.

1922
Tuesday
August 15
Showers.
Accounts with cook - letters.
Serving - making alice's bathing suit.
He invited six guests for tea with Mildred & us. Typhoon now still holds the centre of interest and each new mail brings new details of horror or marvelous escape.
I cannot realize the horror of it. Some photos show awful destruction of property. Mildred's dinner room roof creeps Wednesday August 16
Had a very busy day finding a place to put the things I was about to unpack. Had Ben Baker here for lunch and kept Mr. James for supper. Mr. Baker then started for Thaiyong to help Mrs. Baker come down.

Cleared things so that there was a semblance of a living room. Ceiling is all broken and our long banner is caught up in ceiling and can't be loosened with pliers. Leaving it down.

Friday, September 1

Was very busy. I had a little temperature. Unpacked, and also packed up things.
I did not wake up finally until 8:45, and so did not go to church, which had been rather hard to arrange at any rate because the bridge is not repaired sufficiently to be very safe.

We sent Soo Kui, the student whom I support, to his home so that he could go with me on Mon. and go help only by Chhim to do all the work.

Sunday September 3
E and I finished our packing leisurely; I could not get a chair and so walked. Went to R.R. station just in time to avoid a big chaos which reminded me that I had forgotten to bring my rain coat. Also--it still rained when we reached Swatow. Mr. McDonn and his rich steward the station to meet me, and I asked me to come all Miss Boss and have tea, which I did. Then Mr. Athens stayed with me until leaving Elliott, lending me his rain coat. Mr. Wales had a big party of letters from Alice 73- about children.
Overcast.

I went to Swatow with E. and then went to Shao chin. She was with me a little while, and then excused herself saying that she was sick.

I bought quite a lot of drawn work and ordered some things. Then E. came to tell me that the steamer would not be in until tomorrow. She went with me to tell Coach to come to Kachchik, and then he went to have lunch with Mr. Lewis and I returned to Mr. King's hootchy koo in a rickshau. 1922

Tuesday
September 5
Calm day - clear.
Later we ran into rain.
"I have done nothing but read a little, walk the deck, write a good deal, and read a little, play a game of tiles, with the children, and eat meals!"
Saw a rainbow by moonlight last evening, an unusual thing; I take it slight out of the sea.

1922
Friday 8
September
Some embassies from the Bretholimes will come later.
In Rabat.

I spent a large part of the day making up the drawn work parcels and listing them and doing up, and making invoices and declaration slips. It really is quite a job, and I was very glad not to have the steamer come in this day. Mr. Cowles called.

He played a geographic game in the evening.

Wednesday, September 6, 1922.
Ellen went early to Sweater for a Red Cross meeting. I packed my trunks over again leaving out some things - and thus making room for a few things people wanted me to take.

We heard at 9 p.m. that the steamer had come. Then we heard that there was room for "the lady and nine kids - no more." But not until 3:10 P.M. did we hear that the steamer was going at 4:10. We had to hurry!

Miss Johnson or Mildred came down from Thingamajig and brought latest word from the children who are well and happy.

October 9, 1921:

Ellison at Pong Khai. Nurse went to church in Am. and I helped her a good deal in P.M. so that I wrote little or nothing.

The James's and Mr. Pritchard called.

Mr. & Mrs. Baker and Miss Boes came in during the evening for a little stroll. Played hymns to husband - The Lechers arrived in Scatow yesterday.
Was busy getting out linen, silver, and overseeing cleaning for guests.

At 5 P.M. I cared for children while nurse sewed 17 curtains for front door. I inserted felt squares into the hemstitched voile and it looks pretty although it is a little achy.

Mrs. & Miss Failing from Portland, Ore. arrived about 5:30. had supper with us, and spent the evening & night.

Bakers, Miss Bates & Miss Rollman came over for the evening.

John, Alice, and I rowed on the river in the boat with the guests who had to return today.

I tackled a bureau top piled high with miscellaneous things from cleaning, laid out work for the nurse, went to the kitchen to prepare Alice's food, and all about dinner and now am at my desk to write a little. Hope while John plays with nurse in the next room and Alice sleeps.

John slept three the whole night last night except for a minute or two and I was relieved not to have him awake for an hour or two as he has been for three nights in succession.

We heard the pattering of little feet and John stood in the doorway. 'Mother, I heard music up in my room (the attic) and it didn't sound like earthly music. It sounded as if it came from heaven.' "Well John, you run back to bed and close your eyes and you will soon be asleep." "But, mother, I like to hear it." (The wind on the telegraph and telephone wires.) He didn't know what it was, but he wanted his mother to share the beautiful experience with him.

Then Howard went this way, John said, "I want you Howard!" They kissed one another

This morning John found the gold fish (which Ellen bought for him Friday) dead.

"We must mend that," he said.

And they:

"Oh, Kitty did die the fish."
The communion on the porch the other day John came running in, saying, "a good boy!"

"Why are you a good boy," I asked.

"I broke Alice's funny," he replied. "You need it!"

He started off yesterday after to go get you. He had had a new yellow umbrella. He kept turning back and saying, "Mamma, don't feel badly." He said it two or three times as he advanced out of yard to comfort me for his going away to get you. You should have heard him and Alice shouting at the top of their voices for you, "Daddy, Daddy, Daddy," first John on the veranda, and then Alice inside until they must have raised the whole house.

I took John to church (yesterday) Sun. PM and he fell asleep in my arms. Every tiny rain came on and I didn't know how I should get him back, but he waked up without being cross as so many children are; I took him to river, the boy took him across while I watched. But at this moment, and I went down to bridge just in time I guess, for the water had almost reached the planks.

When he was going to sleep to-night, John said, I like Dramma! Grandma! Grandma! Grandma! Hildref!

"I like Drampa here." "Grandma who?"

"Drampa Hildref!"

"Dramma not like bursts." I could not make out for a long time what he said, and maybe this is not right. Then he saw I was puzzled. He said, "Dramma not like Humpty Dumpty!" Whether his bursts meant the unmentionable break or not I don't know.

"Where is the sun?" he asked several times after it was dark.
brilliantly. The poor dying sphen must be cold and uncomfortable. I feel let to go and cover her over if she is unconscious as I expect, but I have not done it.

I washed the blankets this AM, quite a job! Nurse was busy making this AM and ironing all PM. If I had not been so silly to try to pack as well as look out for the children, we should all have had a happier time, but I hardly dared take them to the river; it seemed so damp and Another reader's semi-photographic report of remarks by Alice March 11, 1925.

John Place, Bessie, and I had been digging dirt to deepen Bessie's swimming pool which is now dry. Waiting for the spring rains.

In so doing we had got our shoes full of sand. Place went up stairs with me when I went to empty out the sand.
This P.M. Alice was standing on Baker's verandah. I said "Hello, little dumpling," and she said "All right," and came on the run. Her little eyes and arms flapping. Bless her baby heart; whenever she happens to realize that I'm here, she comes on the run. She loses her seat in my lap for a long time at a stretch, and tonight she explained to me that she liked to do it because she loved me. They are dear children. Alice is slightly more enjoyable now. John is passing this at a slight transition, due to growth. I don't think he is quite adjusted to his new status. Now am I, and his acts are not quite consistent with either his former age or his present age—naturally enough. But Alice is wholly consistent and wholly delightful.

This morning John found a tiny dull pocket knife of mine and went to him to take it down to the court, where he had a lovely time cutting grass, and I thought he was old enough to be trusted with that kind of a knife. But this afternoon theavel found him pretending to stab... enjoyment was only slightly dampened by Alice breaking her cup after half an hour or so; she kept the saucer lovingly. She insisted on weaving the dress from both Ann and the hib, both of which were nice, and John loved the and put it on a lot of times. The back is a red and white check, and the front is a lovely dull gray. Very aesthetic. John has been greatly inter-tested in the stencil cards—brown, with stenciled pictures of animals, etc., to be drawn this—one of Edwin Word’s former treasures.

I have told you how John loved the lamb;
Alice was greatly pleased with the watering pot which was painted a lovely red—and has played a great deal with the red Riding Hood doll, whose clothes could be manipulated in lots of ways. She liked the 2 painted tin tea sets. But the grand success was the wash-clothes outfit from Miss Buckley supplemented by another from someone else.
And the set of carp tools that she gave John were Miss L. M. mother has a remarkable faculty for bringing up babies. She has cared for children underweight and sickly, and brought them back to health, and has also kept well children (among them, my own) in better condition than others, even their own mothers, were able to do.

Having been an obstetrical nurse, she has also the intimate knowledge which comes from such training. Not bound by hard and fast rules, she believes in developing each child according to his individual tendencies. I would recommend no other person so highly.
