

No. 1

Hankings
May 11, 1938.

Dearest:-

I think I'd better start a series as check to see whether you are getting what I send you. Not much response has come in the last ten days: two cards, I think.

Wilson bought a check with which to pay Fuller for groceries.

Please return the letter from a camp leader who has at last but very reluctantly cooperated with our camp-closing program. This is just a sample of what we meet daily, sent because it's written and in English.

Residences almost clear, and with little hardship or resentment, I think.

Letters to Japanese Consulate-General were written after consultation with Allison, who is ready to take further steps in both matters.

The birds, whether double-diaphragmed or single-, roar repeatedly in flocks each day, flitting back and forth to no good purpose.

Hard work still on surveys, which strike all sorts of unexpected problems.

Love - Searle