

Dennis. Abroad. 27. Aug 1873

Dear Doctor. Just a line to add to what Miss Livingston is writing. Do not despair of Tanganyika & Bonkers Lake being one: if the Rufiji sends a current to the South and you have a current in the Lake at Ujiji to the North, does it not follow that there must be an outlet somewhere on the E. or W. side?
Any one might miss the outlet in the reeds & tangle. How providentially all is working for E.
Africa! Everything that would not go now seems to be a stir. It will be such a gratification for you when you are in the outer world again.
Miss Livingston is looking better than I ever saw her. Oswald has passed his examinations with great credit. Tom is well at Alexandria, and your daughter Mary is also well. God bless & spare you to be with us all one more. Ever yours faithfully J. Wallis
