NEWS ITEMSRESIGNATION OF REV. E.W. BURT.

The news of the resignation of the Rev. E.W. Burt M.A., has just come to hand and has been received with great regret.

It is just thirty-two years since Mr. Burt first arrived in China. For the first few years he resided in Tsouping and was engaged in church and evangelistic work in country districts, a work in which he always maintained a keen interest. On the commencement of union educational work he was appointed to the staff of the Arts School at Weihsien. His many and varied services since 1904, - as Professor, Dean of the Theological School, and for some time as Acting President, are too recent to need detailed mention. Mr. Burt has given twenty years to the service of the University, a longer period than that of any other foreign member of the staff.

Mr. Burt has always been, throughout his life, a very keen advocate of union, not only in educational matters but in all directions. His steady devotion to his work and his generous and catholic spirit have always been a source of strength to the University and all other union efforts. Mrs. Burt most ably supported her husband in all ways. She has been greatly missed in the work amongst women in connection with the Extension Department. Though they are no longer residing with us we know that in them both we have staunch and royal friends of Shantung Christian University, who will forward its interests in every way in their power. As indicated in the letter from Mr. Burt, which we print below, he and Mrs. Burt are expecting to return to China for special service in connection with their own mission; we can therefore look forward to seeing them again before very long in a visit to their old home in Tsinanfu, where they will always be sure of a most cordial welcome from all.

London, November 22, 1924.

To the President of Shantung Christian University.

Dear Mr. President,

It is with sincere regret that I now hand in my resignation from the staff of the University.

When I left Tsinan in June of last year, it was very uncertain whether I should be able to return to China, owing to family affairs. Gradually the way seems to be opening for return in 1925.

Meanwhile, a strong and unanimous invitation has come from the B.M.S. in China to become their Field Secretary. It has come entirely unsought. On personal grounds it would be more congenial to return to my former work in the University. The task I am taking up is a difficult and responsible one, but after full deliberation it appears to be my duty to accept it.

It will be a great wrench to sever my connection with the University with which I have been so closely associated ever since its birth in 1904. Indeed, I believe I have the honour of being the only member of the staff who has been connected with the University continuously since its foundation, and who had a considerable share in the still earlier steps that led to its foundation. My twenty years service is a happy memory. I have had loyal and beloved colleagues, and with past and present students my relations have always been close and cordial. It is with inevitable feelings of regret that I place my resignation in your hands, but it is some consolation to believe that I shall still have opportunities of serving the University, whose birth and growth I have shared in with such intense interest.

To all the members of the staff - Chinese and foreign - I send greetings, and thank them one and all for their unfailing sympathy and friendship.

I shall never cease to pray and work for the University, and I would ask the prayers of all my friends on my behalf in the tasks I am taking up.

I am, dear Dr. Balme and colleagues,

Yours sincerely and affectionately,

/s/ F.W. Burt.

STAFF BIDS FAREWELL TO DR. AND MRS. BALME.

On Monday night of this week the University staff turned out en masse to say their farewells to Dr. and Mrs. Balme and the children. When the train pulled out at eleven o'clock there were more of the faculty members at the Kiaotai station than can often be mustered for official staff meetings, and the leave-taking was that of a large family group saying reluctant good-byes to five of its members.

Letters from Tsingtao tell of the safe journey of the Balmes that far, and at this time they are probably on their way to Shanghai.

VISIT OF REV. W.T.A. BARBER, D.D.

During the coming week-end we are to have the great pleasure of a visit from Dr. Barber, one of the members of the British Joint Board.

The senior members of our community will remember Dr. Barber as an old missionary colleague. Dr. Barber reached China as a young man in 1885, and was for some years on the staff of the Wesleyan Methodist Missionary Society in Central China. He acted as one of the Secretaries of the Second Shanghai Missionary Conference in 1890, and soon rose to a prominent position in missionary educational circles, taking a prominent part in starting the first Wesleyan Educational Settlement at Wuchang, which has since developed into the Central China University.

After leaving China, Dr. Barber acted as Missionary Secretary for China in the London district, and later was appointed to the Headmastership of the Leys School, Cambridge, a British Public School under Wesleyan auspices, where for many years he carried on the splendid work of his predecessor Dr. Moulton. During recent years Dr. Barber has been acting as President of the Wesleyan Ministers Training College at Richmond. His denomination paid him the highest honour in their power when they elected him President of the Wesleyan Methodist Conference.

The W. M. F. S., whose work in China Dr. Barber is visiting, is represented on our own staff by Dr. Ellis: while we have recently had the pleasure of welcoming Miss Nunn as a representative of the Women's Auxiliary.

Dr. Barber will preach the Baccalaureate sermon next Sunday, and will also give the Commencement Address on Monday. We take this opportunity of extending to him a very hearty welcome to Tsinan.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

At the close of the present semester there will probably be twenty-six students who are entitled to receive diplomas; sixteen from the Arts College and ten from the Medical School.

Commencement time is in many ways the most solemn occasion in the round of University activities, for it marks the completion of one more cycle of the primary and fundamental task of the University - the preparation of young men and women for positions of Christian leadership in the Republic of China. Whatever else the University may accomplish, this is after all our central and supreme duty; and on the quality of our graduating classes must rest the final judgment of whether the school is worthy of continued existence.

Almost twenty years ago these twenty-six young men, together with hundreds of others who have one by one dropped out of the struggle, began the long climb which leads through the lower and higher primary classes, the middle school courses, the Junior College, and finally the Senior College and the Medical School. By all the laws of elimination and survival they should be the fittest and worthiest of those hundreds of boys who have been their classmates through all these years. And if the educational institutions they have attended have been worthy of the responsibility they bear, each of these young men should have his native abilities and capacities developed to such a high degree as will insure the quality of his service in the Kingdom of God and the Republic of China. That these young men might have the education they are now completing, innumerable sacrifices have been made, and there has been spent tens of thousands of dollars contributed by generous-hearted givers all over the world, much of this money representing willing self-denial and genuine self-sacrifice on the part of those who had no personal interests at stake and whose sole motive was the extension of the blessings of the Kingdom of God on earth. Into their education has gone the labor and prayers, and even the lives, of the innumerable workers who have assisted the members of this graduating class on their upward way. And so it is that this commencement, like every other, must be a time when our prayers and the spirit of all our thinking and speaking, must look toward the consecration of these graduates to lives of genuine, devoted service, rather than merely self-seeking and personal advancement.

The first of the commencement exercises will be the Baccalaureate Service in the University Church at 9:45 a.m. on Sunday. All members of the faculty are requested to meet in McCormick Hall, in academic costume, promptly at 9:30. The academic procession to the chapel will march in the following order: (1) Choir; (2) Arts Graduates; (3) Medical Graduates; (4) Instructors; (5) Assistant Professors; (6) Associate Professors; (7) Professors; (8) Deans, President, and Speakers. The graduating classes will take the front pews in the center of the church, and members of the staff will occupy seats immediately behind them. The members of the staff taking part in the service, together with the Deans and probably the full Professors will have seats in the chancel. The detailed order of the procession and the plan of seating arrangements will be posted in McCormick Hall before 9:30 Sunday morning.

The order of the Baccalaureate Service will be as follows:-

1. Organ Voluntary.
2. Processional Hymn.
3. Silent Prayer, Invocation and the Lord's Prayer.
Rev. L.V. Cady
4. Responsive Reading. Selection 6 Dr. Wm. McClure
5. Offering and prayer.
6. Praise -- Special Music by Choir.
7. Scripture.
8. Prayer.
9. Praise.
10. Baccalaureate Sermon. Rev. W.T.A. Barber, D.D.
11. Words to the Graduating Class. Prayer of Consecration.
The Acting-President.
12. Praise.
13. Benediction.
14. Recessional Hymn.
15. Organ Voluntary.

The Graduation Ceremony will be held in the Assembly Hall of the Extension Department at 10:00 a.m. on Monday. The faculty will assemble in the Recreation Rooms of the Institute at 9:45 a.m. and will march into the assembly hall in the same general order as used in the Baccalaureate Service. The programme will be as follows:

Opening Prayer	Rev. L.V. Cady
Introductory Remarks	The Acting-President
Speech	The Military Governor
Speech	The Civil Governor
Speech	The Commissioner of Education
Presentation of Diplomas
Valedictory Speech	Mr. Wang Li Ch'ien
Graduation Address	Rev. W.T.A. Barber, D.D..
Hymn and Benediction.

Following the graduation ceremony the faculty and graduates will assemble outside the Institute for a photograph.

All members of the University community, and all others who may be interested in coming, are cordially invited to be present at both the Baccalaureate Service and the Graduation Ceremony. No special invitations are being sent to the University community.

The Dinner to the Graduating Class will be given in the Assembly Hall of the Medical School at 7:00 p.m. on Monday. Chinese food will be served. It is hoped that there will be a large crowd present, and that the affair will be a most enjoyable one. All who are planning to attend should inform Dr. Li T'ien Lu or Mr. Li Wen Ch'ang not later than 8:00 p.m. today (Saturday).

THE RESIGNATION OF MR. BURT.

In last week's Bulletin we regretfully printed the letter from Mr. Burt in regard to his resignation. No note was made, as should have been, that the letter has not yet been acted upon by the Field Board, and of course arrangements will not be final until such action has been taken.

Further, since the acceptance by Mr. Burt of the invitation of the English Baptist Mission to undertake the Secretaryship of the I.P.C. does not necessarily involve his severing relations with the University, it is still to be hoped that he may be persuaded to reconsider his resignation.

SCHOOL CHILDREN RETURN TO TUNGCHOW.

In spite of some misgivings on the part of parents and friends, the group of children from the missionary community who have been spending the Christmas holidays with us, began on Monday morning of this week their journey back to Tungchow. Word has reached us that they arrived safely in Peking on Tuesday afternoon. Dr. C.E. Scott accompanied the children as far as Tehchow, and then put them in charge of Mr. Matthews who went with them the rest of the way. Dr. Scott reports that on his return from Tehchow it was necessary for him to stand up all the way in an open freight car, the journey lasting from two a.m. until almost noon!

TRAFFIC CONDITIONS.

The week has brought a slight improvement in the conditions of the various lines of communications radiating out from Tsinan. The Kiao-Tsi line seems to be operating on a comparatively regular schedule, and the Ching-Pu Road northward to Tientsin and Peking has been maintaining some semblance of service, though mails are delayed and irregular, and travel most uncertain and likely to be quite uncomfortable. Nothing seems to be getting through from Pukow and Nanking as yet, though for several days the Tientsin newspapers have been announcing that the road would soon be cleared up and repaired. Shanghai mails have been coming in from six to eight days late, and from the small quantity received it is obvious that much of the mail is being delayed for even a longer period.

IN PRAISE OF CHINESE STUDENTS ABROAD.

There has this week been received from the President of the State College of Washington the letter which we give below. Such a letter as this furnishes us with genuine cause for rejoicing, both because the Chinese students in Western countries are winning such commendation for themselves and their country, and also because there is such a strengthening of the ties that bind the East and the West together in Christian fellowship.

"Shantung Christian University,
Tsinan, Shantung, China.

"Gentlemen:

" A few weeks ago we wrote you concerning the Immigration Act of 1924, giving some information regarding students who may wish to come to the State College of Washington. Since then a very commendable act on the part of the Chinese Students has taken place.

"On the 10th of October, 1924 the State College Administration dismissed all Chinese Students from classes. This was in honor of the 13th Anniversary of the Chinese Republic. The Chinese Students gave a large Banquet and Celebration, and the program was indeed a credit to them. Out of this friendliness on the part of the faculty and the Chinese Students has grown a greater spirit of understanding. Each group is now more willing to give its best to the other.

"The Chinese Club is making a place for themselves on the State College Campus. Never on the part of a single group has there been a more earnest desire for true knowledge, and true self-improvement, than is displayed in our Chinese Students. This desire for knowledge, and the cooperative and inquisitive spirit, has won its place in the hearts of our Professors.

"The goodwill and spirit of the Chinese Students has been matched by our Students. A small group of men students banded together in the Y.M.C.A. and decided not only to give greater aid to the Chinese Students on the campus, but to contribute financially to Christian work in China from their own allowances. As a result the young men are sending financial support to "Ben" Schmidt, a former Washington man, now in Nanchang with the hope that he will represent them in China and that the ties between America and China will grow stronger and stronger.

"This, in so far as words can describe, is the spirit of the State College of Washington, Faculty, Chinese Students and American Students work together in cooperation for the advancement of knowledge and the betterment of humanity. Every student becomes a part of this great corps when he enters the State College of Washington.

Very sincerely yours,

STATE COLLEGE OF WASHINGTON,

/s/ E. O. Holland,

President."

A LETTER OF THANKS.

We are glad to insert the following cordial letter of thanks, sent to us by the Salvation Army:-

The Salvation Army,
Tsinan, 2/1/1925.

"The Editor, Cheeloo Bulletin,

"Dear Sir,

"I would like, through the pages of your Bulletin, to thank the Foreign Community for the generous manner in which they assisted the Salvation Army, in providing Christmas cheer for the poor.

"We were enabled by the donations received, to dispense cheer in three different centres, providing for 1,733 adults and children.

"Three hundred eighty-four children were provided with nuts, candies, and cakes. The adults who received cheer were 1,349. To these were given 7,816 pieces of Chinese bread and 5,440 basins of t'ien mo.

"Thanking you on behalf of the Officers stationed in Tsinan, I am, dear Editor,

Yours faithfully,

/s/ Harry D. Penhall
Ensign"

LOST.

Mrs. McHardy has asked us to announce the loss of a child's wicker chair, which was loaned for the use of the Community Christmas Tree Party on December 23rd. Three other chairs loaned at the same time have been returned, but this one chair has in some manner gotten lost. It is a child's hemp chair from Hong Kong, and is slightly mended with wicker. If anyone has seen such a chair wandering about in a homeless manner, Mrs. McHardy would appreciate your assistance in finding it.

NEWS BREVITIES.

Those of the staff who had the pleasure of meeting Judge Joseph Buffington when he was in Tsinan a few years ago will be interested to learn of his marriage to Miss Marguerite Fairfax Clendenin. The ceremony took place on November 18th in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

All who are interested in the work of the Shantung Board of Christian Education are reminded that visitors will be welcomed to all the open discussions of the Board, which will be in session on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of next week. A detailed program of these meetings was printed in the Bulletin for December 27th.

The January meeting of the Society will be held on Tuesday evening, January 13th, at 8:30 o'clock, in Bergen Hall. Dramatic sketches will be presented under the auspices of Mr. and Mrs. H.V. Murray.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL LEAGUE.

The league has now completed most of the games on the fixture for 1924-1925, and because of the examinations and the approaching holidays will not have any more contests until February 14th. The game played on Saturday between the International team and the Tsinan Union Club resulted in a tie, neither team being able to break through the opposing defense. The standing of the teams to date is as follows:-

Club	Won	Lost	Tie	Pct.
University	6	0	0	1000
International	2	3	1	400
Tsinan Union	1	6	1	143

OUR DEEPEST SYMPATHIES.

The entire community is sorrowing with Dr. and Mrs. Stearns over the death of their little son David, aged 18 months. He was taken ill with scarlet fever in the middle of last week but responded promptly to treatment and everyone rejoined in thinking him out of danger. He had a serious recurrence of the illness again on Wednesday and passed away during the early morning hours of Friday. The circumstances are the more sad because of the birth on Tuesday, the 13th, of his little sister, Anne Elizabeth ^{Carolyn}. We were all so happy over the combined good news of the remission of David's illness and the arrival of the little daughter, that the sudden word of the bereavement has been hard to bear.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The Commencement Exercises of the week were quite in keeping with what ceremonies should be. The committees and officials in charge of the arrangements did their work thoroughly and efficiently, and all the details of the ceremonies were carried out with smoothness and dignity. The Baccalaureate Service was simple and quietly impressive, and the Graduation Ceremony itself a fitting climax to mark the close of the collegiate education of the twenty-six young men of the graduating class. At both these services Dr. W. T. A. Barber gave very earnest and impressive addresses, and by his presence and assistance increased greatly the already enormous debt of gratitude which the University has long owed to him. We are grateful, too, for the interest on the part of the officials of the province, who either in person or through their representatives conveyed to the University the evidence of their cordial spirit of cooperation. The dinner for the graduating class was well attended and was a very happy and delightful occasion.

Now that the ceremonies are over and one more class of graduates have gone out from Cheeloo to take up their work in the various parts of the country, the University has both made one more contribution to the cause of humanity and Christianity, and at the same time increased the weight of its responsibility. In a very real sense the future of the University is tied up in the future of these and our other graduates, and we will follow their activities with our keenest interest and our most earnest prayers.

THE SHANTUNG BOARD OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION.

This week representatives of the seven missions co-operating in the work of the Shantung Board of Christian Education; together with numerous visitors from Tsinan and other cities, have been conducting their annual meeting in the buildings of the University. These annual educational gatherings are both keenly interesting and deeply significant, showing as they do the trend of Christian education throughout the province, and revealing the problems which our schools are constantly facing. There have been discussions covering almost every important phase of educational work; and a number of important and forward-looking actions have been taken.

Some of the out-of-town visitors who have been attending the conference are:- Miss Margaret Frame, Tengchow; Mr. R. A. Lanning, Tengchow; Mr. Ullin Leavell, Huanghsien; Miss Clifford Hunter, Huanghsien; Miss Marjorie Rankin, Ichowfu; Miss Alice Reed, Techow; Rev. E. G. Rinnell, Kiaochow; Rev. J. Wellington, Taian; and Mr. R. C. Wells, Weihsien.

TSINAN LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Tsinan Literary Society held their annual dramatic program on Tuesday evening last in the student society room of Bergen Hall. The evening was planned and directed by Mr. & Mrs. H.V. Murray. Two one-act plays were given, - "The Rest-Cure", and "Five Birds in a Cage", and, in the interval between plays, a reading by Mr. Murray from Galsworthy's "The Little Man". A stage complete with scenery and all the amateur theatrical accoutrement was erected for the occasion. One scene was laid in a London nursing home, another in a London tube-lift. (This latter the Americans soon realized meant a subway-elevator.) The two sketches were filled with delightful humor, and were copiously decorated with genuine cockney dialogue. The evening was the result of many weeks of very careful preparation. Those who witnessed the performances were impressed with the special skill displayed in selecting the characters for the different parts.

DEATH OF MRS. J.N. HAYES.

The University community has recently heard with sorrow of the death of Mrs. J.N. Hayes of Soochow. Mrs. Hayes was the mother of Miss M. May Hayes of the Presbyterian Mission, Tsinan, and was well known to a number of the University staff. She was injured in a richsha accident in Shanghai before Christmas, and died on the third day of January. Our sincerest sympathy goes out to Miss Hayes in her bereavement.

ARRIVAL OF MR. AND MRS. HARMON.

News has been received by telegram that Mr. & Mrs. F.H.B. Harmon and family left Shanghai for Tsingtao on the 14th. They will probably reach Tsinan on Saturday or Sunday and will receive a hearty welcome from their many friends.

CHINA MEDICAL MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION.

On Monday evening a party consisting of Drs. Wheeler, McAll, Evans, Wright, H.R. Wright, Mosse and Kiang, left by train for Tsingtao en route for the Hongkong Conference of the China Medical Missionary Association. They will take the "President Lincoln" from Shanghai on the 17th, together with several score of other physicians bound on the same errand. The Conference begins on January 21st.

THE SPRING TERM BEGINS.

After three weeks of comparative quiet, the University has once more assumed an appearance of busy activity. The campus has not, however, by any means been deserted during the Chinese New Year season, for the confused state of transportation has kept a large number of students from returning home for the holidays and has resulted in the postponement of many trips once contemplated by members of the staff.

It is probable that the enrolment for the spring term will be only slightly smaller than during the fall semester, for the graduating class is partially replaced by the return of former students and the entrance of a few new ones. Complete statistics should be available next week.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL.

Mr. Harold Smith, who is Director for the 1925 Summer School, informs us that plans for the school are well under way and an announcement of courses will be issued shortly. The summer school this year will be conducted by Cheeloo alone. It will begin on July 1st and close on July 25th. Courses will be offered for elementary school administrators, junior and senior middle school administrators and teachers, pastors and evangelists, and also for students of England.

DEPARTURE OF DR. AND MRS. ELLIS.

It was a very sad party of friends from the University and Settlement who gathered at the Kiaochi Station on the night of January 23rd to say farewell to the Ellises. Dr. Ellis, by his magnetic qualities, his enthusiasm, his professional abilities and his willingness to throw himself into everything that could help the life of the community, had won himself a unique place in the hearts of us all, and Mrs. Ellis had her own position among a smaller circle who appreciated her patience and winsome, unselfish personality. Their going inflicts a loss on the University which we do not like to contemplate; and we perfectly realise that, much as we regret to have them go, they even more regret the necessity which compelled them to leave. We can only say that we hope that circumstances may combine to bring them back to us. Our hearts will follow them on their journey and we shall look with eagerness for every bit of news that arrives.

OCCUPATIONS OF GRADUATING CLASS.

An investigation of the positions into which the members of last term's graduating class have gone shows that with only a few exceptions all the graduates have entered at once upon definitely Christian work. All ten of the medical graduates are going into missionary hospitals, fourteen of the arts graduates are taking up teaching in Christian schools, one arts graduate is teaching in a private school, and one is going into a government bureau. The work the different graduates are beginning is as follow:-

THE APPOINTMENT OF MISS COCHRAN.

During the last month there has come the good news that the American Presbyterian Board has appointed Miss Margaret Watts Cochran to the Medical School of the University. Miss Cochran, who is already well known to many members of the staff, has for several years been in America completing her medical training. After one year at Smith she went to the Presbyterian Hospital Training School, where she graduated after three years. She has also had one year's service under the hospital anaesthetist. It is probable that she will arrive in Tsinan some time during the summer. In addition to welcoming this new member of our staff, the University rejoices with Dr. and Mrs. Cochran that they will have their daughter with them and sharing in the work to which they have both made such a large contribution.

DR. STEARNS PROGRESSING WELL

Reports this week indicate that Dr. Stearns has been making very favorable progress, and it is hoped that within the near future he will be up and about once more.

SCHICK AND DICK

On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week Dr. Cochran, assisted by Dr. Chang, Dr. Scott, and Dr. E.M. Ewers of Weihsien, has been giving to the foreign school children and teachers and the hospital nurses the Schick test for diphtheria and the Dick test for scarlet fever. The Schick test was given last summer and all those showing a positive reaction at that time were given diphtheria inoculation, so there were few positive results at this time. The Dick test had not been previously given and a larger number of positive reactions were found.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. AND MRS. LOUCKS.

On the morning of January 31st a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Loucks of the business community. Little Miss Jane rather spoiled the happy occasion by developing complications which threatened to make her stay with us quite brief, but at the latest reports she seems to be doing quite well.

THE UNIVERSITY BELL.

A number of the staff have requested information as to the exact time at which the University bell is supposed to ring in announcing the different services. Herewith is the schedule which is followed:-

Regular morning chapel: The bell is rung for two or three minutes beginning at 8:35, then is silent for two or three minutes, and is rung again for a few strokes just as chapel is ready to begin at 8:40.

Wednesday morning chapel: The same plan is followed, except the bell is rung first at 8:25, and again briefly at 8:30.

Sunday morning service: The bell rings at 9:35 for two or three minutes, then rings briefly at 9:45 for

Sunday afternoon service: The bell rings first at 4:15, then again at 4:30

A CHEELOO ALUMNUS ABROAD

Recently a large group of young people met in Massy Hall, Toronto, to voice their approval of Church Union in Canada. Friends of Chang Pei Hwei will be interested to know that he was one of the most popular speakers at this meeting.

VACATION HAPPENINGS.

Dr. Tucker and Miss King have this week returned from a three-week pilgrimage to Peking, where they seem to have had a very interesting and eventful time. They began their journey to the northern capital travelling in a box-car (goods wagon) crowded to the doors in New York subway style, but their return trip was a trifle more comfortable.

Mr. Cady also spent a large part of the vacation in Peking, where he was attending meetings of North China Kung Li Hui Committee on Theological Education. We have asked him to give us for a future issue a statement of some discussions he heard.

Word has arrived that the party of University representatives who have been attending the conference in Hong Kong have been delayed in Shanghai and will not be able to get back to Tsinan before Monday or Tuesday of next week.

During the holidays the University acted as host for the conference of the English Baptist Mission. A number of out-of-town guests were present for the meetings.

Dr. E.M. Ewers of the Shadyside Hospital, Weihsien, was in Tsinan during the early part of this week.

FOOTBALL TEAM RETURNS FROM PEKING.

The University football team returned from its trip to Tientsin and Peking still undefeated. The trip was, however, somewhat disappointing to the players who made the journey. They had been training hard all fall in anticipation of stiff competition in the annual North China Football Tournament, and left for the north in response to letters from Tsinghua College inviting them to this meet. However, they found on arrival in Peking that the meet had been cancelled because of the disturbed state of transportation. They at once began seeking for games with the various government and missionary colleges around Peking, but found most of the teams disbanded for the holidays. At last they succeeded in arranging a game with the Peking Higher Normal School, which has been in the lead in Peking this season. The game was played on the grounds of the Higher Normal, and resulted in a tie score, one to one. It was then proposed to play another game on a neutral ground; and this the Higher Normal team accepted at the time, though on the day of the match they failed to arrive. No other games could be arranged, so the team returned home. It is hoped that the team may later have another opportunity to meet some other strong University team.

NEW BULLETIN OF GENERAL INFORMATION.

There is now being prepared a new Bulletin of General Information to take the place of Bulletin No. 29, which for some time has been obsolete and out of print. The new Bulletin, in addition to lists of faculty members and student body and information of a general nature, will also contain sections showing the work offered by the three colleges of the University.

Notes have been sent to all members of the staff, asking for information in regard to their preparation and their work here and elsewhere. A number have not yet sent in their replies, and it is to be hoped that they will attend to the matter at once. The Bulletin should be off the press in about a month.

RETURN OF THE MEDICAL DELEGATION

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week the University representatives at the conference of the C. M. M. A. recently held in Hongkong, after encountering all of the obstacles that beset travellers in China at the present time, finally reached Tsinan. They report that they were delayed in Shanghai from Tuesday until Saturday of last week, due to the breakdown of the machinery of the boat on which they were booked to sail; and were again held up in Tsingtao from Monday until Wednesday of this week because of the strike on the Kiao-Chi Railway. They brought us the news that Dr. Cochran has been elected the new President of the C.M.M.A. We hope to give a more detailed report of the Conference in next week's issue.

WELCOME TO DR. HEATH AND HER MOTHER.

This week the University staff has been pleased to have Dr. Frances Heath with us again after her furlough in America. We have also been glad to welcome Dr. Heath's mother, who has returned with her daughter for a stay in China. Dr. Heath was in Hongkong for the Medical Conference, and returned to Tsinan with the party of University representatives.

VISIT OF DOCTOR CHASE.

One of the delights of the Cheeloo-Yenching Summer School of 1923, which was held on the S. C. U. campus in Tsinan, was the presence on the staff of Dr. Lewis Chase of Peking. He brought with him a rich experience as a teacher and a writer. Enroute on a short lecture tour which includes Shanghai, Nanking, and Tsinan, Dr. Chase will arrive this week-end ("d.v.", the authorities of the Literary Society insert in parenthesis), and on Monday evening will give his reading of "Glory of the Morning", a play by W.S. Leonard.

CHORAL SOCIETY WILL GIVE MUSICAL PROGRAM.

For some time the Choral Society has been at work preparing a program of sacred music, and on Friday, February 20th will render "Rebekah", a Sacred Idyll by J. Barnby. It will be given at the University church beginning at 8:30 p.m.

WITH OUR SICK MEMBERS.

If we listen to the words of the pessimist, the year is composed of seven plagues. It begins with winds and ice and coal gas and fuel bills; moves on to the time when everyone has the "flu" or some kindred complaint; skips into the days of the spring poet; brings us then mosquitoes, sand-flies, and soaring thermometer; confronts us with the same old problem of the summer vacation; recalls us with the necessity of resuming the accustomed grind and buying the stock of winter clothes; and finally winds up with the mad rush and hurry and expense of the holiday season. Just now we are possessed by the second of these afflictions, and in nearly every house on the campus it seems that someone is ill, or has just recovered, or is threatened with trouble of some sort. Fortunately there seem to be very few really serious cases among our University community, and most of those who have been ill are about again now. However, Dr. Cochran, Mr. McHardy, and Mr. Ozorio are still confined to their rooms; and Miss Whitewright has been making but slow progress. We extend to them and all the others who have been ill of late our sincerest sympathies.

DR. AND MRS. ELLIS LEAVE SHANGHAI.

Word has come to us that Dr. and Mrs. Ellis sailed from Shanghai on February 7th. They were not able to sail on the steamer for which they were originally booked but secured passage on a Japanese steamer going to England by way of Suez.

ORGAN NEEDED BY THE THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL.

The Theological School has for some time been desirous of securing a small organ for their various meetings. Incidentally it would be of great benefit to the Wednesday evening prayer meeting. It is requested that anyone having an organ of which he would be willing to dispose will please notify Mr. Harrison.

APOLOGIES FROM THE BULLETIN STAFF.

Through a misunderstanding in the office, copies of last week's Bulletin were not sent to the large number of people on the campus who have put off paying their subscription, and when the matter came to our attention we found that these copies had been subtracted from the usual supply mimeographed so the issue was exhausted and the stencil destroyed. We had intended giving ample warning before dropping any of our subscribers for being in arrears, and regret that you were so forcibly reminded. The Bulletin of course cannot carry on unless folks pay up their subscriptions, still all of us are at some time or another guilty of carelessness in attending to such matters and we know all of you will bring around your two dollars after awhile if we remind you often enough. It will keep us keep our accounts in order if everyone receiving the Bulletin will either return the subscription blank with their two dollars or their promise to pay later, or else send us a note asking us to discontinue their copy.

THE STEARNS NOW ON THE CAMPUS.

We are glad to have the Stearns family once more on the campus, rather than some distance away in the East Suburb. Although Dr. Stearns is still quarantined in the Hospital Mrs. Stearns is now getting established in 'the Ellis House'. We hope that Dr. Stearns will soon have his quarantine lifted and be able to resume his usual activities.

CONGRATULATIONS AGAIN!

This week we are extending our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Tsang Shu-wen on the arrival of a young daughter.

A WIDE-SPREAD DISEASE.

Considering the fact that Mr. Kuei has during recent weeks been besieged with requests for dictionaries and books of synonyms, and considering the serious rumors that certain members of the University community are rising earlier and retiring later than is their usual wont, the following clipping from the "Weekly Times" of January 15th may contain a timely note of warning:-

"The Contagion of 'All America' has spread to London. It is said that a young American brought it here of set purpose. Whether his intents were evil or charitable is uncertain, but he was determined that his countrymen should not be subject to the crossword puzzle and England go free. As his name is given, there may be something in the story. Anyhow, most of us are vexed and enthralled, delighted and perplexed, by the search for missing words. The home dictionary is worn to shreds. The office dictionary is never to be had for a legitimate purpose. Innocent people are startled by sudden requests for the name of a vegetable with two tails, or some such nonsense. Omnibus seats are occupied by bewilderment biting a pencil over a mysterious square. The theatre interval no longer buzzes cheerfully with conversation, for half the audiences are racking their brains or consulting one another in serious tones. Duty is interrupted and leisure takes on the semblance of work. We are all bewitched."

CROWDS AT THE INSTITUTE.

That the popularity of the Extension Department is steadily increasing is being constantly demonstrated in more ways than one. While this growing popularity is affecting all classes of people, it seems particularly noticeable among the women. Monday of each week is "Women's Day" at the Institute, and on that day the buildings and grounds become a swarming bee-hive of feminine activity, curiosity, and eagerness. The value of the educational and spiritual influence of the institution on these thousands of women visitors who see so little of the world outside the narrow limits of their own homes can scarcely be over-estimated. On each of the first two Mondays of this Chinese New Year the previous record attendance of 8,364 visitors in one day was not only greatly eclipsed but in one case actually doubled. On the first Monday of the year there were 11,653 visitors, and on the second Monday 16,623 visitors. So great were the crowds that many of the exhibits were taken into the large lecture hall, and even out of doors in the courtyards. Yet for all multitudes and the consequent discomfort and confusion everyone was happy and good-natured.

NEWS ITEMSDR. JAMES BOYD NEAL.

A cable this week has brought news that we have long been dreading to hear, of the final calling home of Dr. James Boyd Neal. To most of those who have been for some time connected with this University and with the Presbyterian Mission in Shantung, little need be said about Dr. Neal as his record and personality is so well known. It is worth while, however, to record a brief description of his life in China as some of the newcomers have not been in touch with him, and it is a story which none of us would wish forgotten.

Dr. Neal was born in Pennsylvania in 1855 and graduated at Yale University in 1877. Following this he took a two-year course at Sheffield Scientific School preparatory to the study of medicine. He entered the School of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania and graduated therefrom in 1883, coming to China in the same year. He married Miss Elizabeth B. Simonton and all recollections of Dr. Neal are closely bound up for us with those of his beloved wife, of whom it is impossible to think apart from him.

The Neals lived first at Tengchow in the home of Dr. Calvin Mateer, and the influence of that noted Chinese scholar was shown in the ardour with which they pursued the study of the language. Dr. Neal's proficiency in it may be judged by the translation of medical books which he carried on during his years in China. In connection with the hospital and dispensary work in which he was engaged in Tengchow, he began the teaching of classes of students in medicine. In 1890 he was transferred to Tsinan where medical work had been begun by Dr. Stephen A. Hunter. A small room on the main street was the only place that could be obtained for a dispensary and "haunted houses" were the only available residences for missionaries. Those of us whose ideas of travel are framed by modern railroads have little idea of the slowness and difficulty of transportation and the general surroundings of the life of missionaries in Shantung in the nineties. It is hard for newcomers to realise the prejudice, superstition and even danger which surrounded the beginnings of medical practice in those days, and also the courage, and perseverance which it took to lay the foundations of the work now so prosperous. In the course of time a plot of land was obtained in the East Suburb, and by the time Dr. Neal returned from his first furlough the McIlvaine Hospital was ready. In the following year, Dr. Neal completed the building of the wards for inpatients and a separate court for his medical students. The money for building this court was given him by his aunt, Mrs. Boyd, who also gave the funds for erecting the Louisa Y. Boyd Hospital for Women which has done such great service for women and children in Tsinan. While in America Dr. Neal had secured Dr. Sarah Poindexter for this hospital, and brought her out when he and Mrs. Neal returned from furlough, but her stay in Tsinan was not a long one after she began work, and the supervision of the women's hospital fell upon Dr. Neal during the intervals when no women doctor was on the field.

Dr. Neal conducted the so-called "peripatetic" medical school in co-operation with Dr. Johnson of Ichowfu and physicians of the English Baptist Mission at Tsingchowfu and Chouping. This was the beginning of union medical education in Shantung and afterwards grew into the present medical school. Dr. Neal was permitted to see the fulfilment of his hopes and labours of so many years in the establishment of this institution in 1909. This school was one of the units which was later built into the Shantung Christian University and Dr. Neal was its Dean for many years after this amalgamation.

It is needless to say that Dr. Neal's ability and fine qualities early attracted attention outside the bounds of his own province and in 1903 he was elected President of the China Medical Missionary Association, a position which he served for three years, and was thereafter always influential in its councils.

In 1915 the Medical School at Tsinan was asked by the China Medical Board to take over several of the classes of the Peking Union Medical College and to carry them on to graduation, and in 1916 steps were taken, under the advice of the Council on Education of the C.M.M.A. to amalgamate the Medical Department of Nanking University with the school at Tsinan. In 1917 the Medical School at Hankow also joined this union. All these changes centred round Dr. Neal as the capable administrator whom all trusted to carry them through to successful service. In 1919 he was elected President of the University and served as such until January 1921 when a sudden illness laid him permanently aside from all active work. He returned to America in 1922 and since then has lived in Philadelphia.

During all these years he was greatly interested in the building up of medical literature in Chinese and was the translator of books on Physiological Chemistry, Ophthalmology and Dermatology. He was one of the leaders in forming the Committee on Scientific Terminology for China. As a teacher his name was especially associated with Ophthalmology and Physiological Chemistry.

Dr. Neal was greatly beloved by all his associates. He was a loyal friend, generous, warm-hearted and sympathetic. In all his relationships with colleagues, students and the general public he was courteous, considerate and helpful. He was devotedly fond of children and rare was the child with whom he could not make friends. His heart was always touched by suffering. Once when the hospital gate-keeper's child was dying, the superstitious parents put it out into the courtyard lest evil spirits should haunt the room. Dr. Neal took it into his own room and gave it every care until it breathed its last. Although never blessed with children of his own, Dr. Neal was foster father to many missionary children who spent months in his home, and they, together with many Chinese children, will rise up and call him blessed.

Dr. and Mrs. Neal were the centre of a most delightful home life which they shared with unfailing hospitality with many friends who will never forget its charm and beauty.

As an educator Dr. Neal was greatly respected for his strict discipline, and yet was trusted and loved by those who studied under him.

PROFESSOR LEWIS CHASE, AN TSINAN.

In spite of auguries to the contrary, the Tsinan Literary Society on Monday evening last was able to adhere to the program and introduce Dr. Lewis Chase of Peking, who gave a reading of "Glory of the Morning" a one-act play by W.E. Leonard, one of the modern school of American play-wrights. "Glory of the Morning", was a Wisconsin Indian squaw the character about whom the play was built. Dr. Chase's dramatic presentation was much enjoyed.

The speaker, it was announced, was completing a short tour of readings and lectures, including visits to Shanghai and Nanking, and railway service while still anything but comfortable had mended just sufficiently to make his visit to Tsinan possible. Dr. Chase gave a reading of nursery rhymes to the children of the Tsinan Foreign School, and addressed the Weh Hsueh Hwei of the University.

SUMMER SCHOOL.

The preliminary announcement of the Summer School in the form of a postcard is now being distributed. Copies may be obtained from the Registrar's office. We would call attention to the courses in Rural Church problems and in Home Economics on which we wish to place especial emphasis this year.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY TEA.

Washington's Birthday will be observed this year by a tea at which the members of the American Association are serving as hosts. The tea will be given today the Tsinan Club, beginning at four o'clock. All members of the Tsinan foreign community are cordially invited to be present.

THE MEDICAL CONFERENCE AT HONGKONG.

Dr. Wheeler has very kindly furnished us with the following account of the recent Medical Conference held in Hongkong:

The Tsinan delegation to the combined conference of the China Medical Missionary Association and the British Medical Association which was held in Hongkong by kind invitation of the authorities of the Hongkong University left on the night of Monday Jan. 12th for Tsingtao, proceeding thence by steamer to Shanghai. From Shanghai to Hongkong special rates had been arranged for members of the Conference on the S.S. "President Lincoln", which left Shanghai on the 17th. There were some 90 of us in all travelling by this ship and the two and a half day journey down south were most enjoyable, though some members seemed to have their time much occupied by committee meetings.

Shortly after 8 a.m. on Tuesday Jan. 20th we arrived in Hongkong and were met by various officials of the Conference who told us the names and addresses of our various hosts, and at 4 p.m. the Conference officially opened with a tea given by the Governor of the Colony, who is also Chancellor of the University. This was followed by a special 'Congregation', at which the hon degrees of LL.D. were conferred upon Dr. Muir of India, Dr. Houghton of Peking, Dr. Hume of Changsha, and Dr. Cousland of Shanghai. Then followed an address of welcome by Dr. Aubrey, the local President of the British Medical Association, and a suitable reply by Dr. Kirk, President of the China Medical Missionary Association.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday were given up to papers and discussions on various subjects of medical interest. On Saturday, China New Year's Day, excursions round the island, and on the 'new territory' on the mainland were organised. On Sunday there were special services in the Cathedral and in the Union Church. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were devoted more to the missionary side of the work and the Conference closed with a devotional meeting at 5 p.m.

Arrangements had been made for any who wished to visit Canton to proceed by steamers leaving Hongkong at 10 p.m. on Wednesday. Many availed themselves of this opportunity and arrived at Canton in time for breakfast on Thursday. Thursday and Friday were spent visiting various institutions, such as the Medical Schools and hospitals of Hackett Hospital, Canton Christian College, the Hospital for the Insane, etc., and also getting some idea of the city, though being Chinese New Year most of the important shops were closed.

Leaving Canton on Friday evening we were in Hongkong in good time on Saturday to catch our old friend the S.S. "President Lincoln", which landed us in Shanghai on Tuesday morning soon after breakfast. Most of the Tsinan party had booked passages on a steamer for Tsingtao which was due to leave Shanghai on the 4th - the day after our arrival there - but owing to engine trouble the sailing was cancelled and we had to wait another three days, finally getting away on Saturday and reaching Tsingtao on Monday, to find that the railway hands were on strike and there was no hope of proceeding to Tsinan. Two of our own number made an attempt on a 'break-strike' train but were only able to get as far as Kiaochow, whence, after some three hours of talking with the mob, they were finally forced to return to Tsingtao.

Dr. Ch'uan, Superintendent of the Putsi Hospital, very kindly provided accommodation for six of us in the hospital and we very much enjoyed three days of enforced stay in Tsing-tao. The strike terminated on Wednesday, Feb. 11th. and some caught the train that night, arriving in Tsinan the next morning. The remainder of the party reached Tsinan on Thursday evening.

TSINAN SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND.

For some time a large number of the leaders in the Chinese Christian community of Tsinan have been working on plans for establishing a school for the blind. Prominent among those interested in the work are Chinese pastors and elders, Y.M.C.A. workers, Christian business men, and teachers in the University and elsewhere. Among our faculty members, the following are assisting with promoting this much-needed work:- Mr. Chou Hsing, Mr. Tang En-liang, and Dr. Wang Hwei-wen. Mrs. Shie and Mrs. McAll are also serving on the Committee.

The folder issued by the committee sets forth the reasons for beginning a School for the Blind as follows:-

"Since China became a Republic, education has gone rapidly forward. Colleges, normal schools, middle schools, and elementary schools are being everywhere established, and students have many opportunities for obtaining knowledge. But as yet there is no opportunity for the blind in Shantung to study and learn a trade. Therefore the churches and philanthropists have discussed the problem and are starting a school, the Tsinan Blind School, to educate blind boys,

"All should consider the great importance of such a school at this time. We hope that all generous and kindhearted men will help in making this school go forward successfully."

The estimated budget for this year is $1678, of which $1000 has already been provided by the Chinese supporters of the movement. It is estimated that tuition fees will bring in another $180. This still leaves a balance of about five hundred dollars which is to be raised by contributions among the Chinese and foreign communities. The committee also is seeking to obtain other essentials not included in the budget, such as a teacher's desk, an organ, books printed in the Braille system, and the like. One special need just now is for a quantity of old magazines (not newspapers) which can be used in the preparation of the Braille characters. It is requested that anyone willing to assist with any of these needs will get into communication with Mrs. Shields.

LOST AND FOUND COLUMN.

Lost:- A pair of tan spats. Reward offered for information leading to their recovery! Communicate, please, with Mrs. H.F. Smith.

The University Press informs us that it has on hand some children's books and a Presbyterian Hymnal which were sent to them for re-binding about two months ago, and which have not been claimed. Anyone knowing about the books is asked to communicate with Mr. Yang.

CONFERENCE ON UNIVERSITY ENTRANCE.

Invitations have been issued to the Middle Schools of our constituency to send representatives to a Conference on University Entrance to be held at the University, April 3rd and 4th. It is hoped to have Dr. Wallace and Dr. Lobenstine with us.

The agenda includes the following:

1. Standards and regulations for accrediting Middle Schools. The University is planning to admit highly qualified students on recommendation, without examination.
2. The organization of a Council on University Entrance. This is to be composed of University and Middle School representatives, and is to be a permanent body with large powers.
3. The organization of preparatory subjects into prescribed and elective courses, with definite means of measurement.

It is expected that much of very great benefit, both to the University and to the Middle Schools, will come from this Conference.

VISIT OF MR. & MRS. W.H.P. ANDERSON & DR. H. FOWLER.

On Saturday, Feb. 28th Mr. and Mrs. W.H.P. Anderson, of the Mission to Lepers, and Dr. H. Fowler, formerly of the London Mission at Hsiaokan, arrived in Tsinan and stayed until Monday evening, when Dr. Fowler returned to Shanghai and Mr. and Mrs. Anderson continued their trip round the world. Mr. Anderson is in the East as representative of the Mission to Lepers, investigating the conditions in the different locations where work in which they are assisting is situated. Mr. Anderson for ten years was in charge of a Leper Refuge in India, and from there was asked to go to London to act as Secretary for the Mission. Dr. Fowler, as is well known, was for many years in charge of a hospital at Hsiaokan, one of whose most interesting features was a refuge for lepers, and is now connected with the Mission to Lepers in Shanghai.

Their visit is due to the effort now being made in Tsinan to establish a Refuge for Lepers. It is estimated that there are at least 20,000 in Shantung and that number is probably on the increase, rendering it one of the major problems of Preventive Medicine of this part of China.

Two of the graduates of the University have been greatly interested in this question, namely Mr. Wang Yuan Teh, formerly one of our Field Board of Managers, and a prominent member of the local Independent Church, and Mr. Huang Chu San (Tzu Kao), a graduate of the University in 1910. Dr. Huang Chu San immediately on graduating from the University was engaged in Plague Prevention work, in connection with Dr. Schultz, then of our Faculty. He was also one of the committee organized in 1918 to deal with the local epidemic of pneumonic plague. More recently, having a position in connection with the Tsingtao Administration, he became greatly interested in the problem of lepers, from the point of view of Preventive Medicine, and undertook the treatment of several rescued from the streets. He got such good results from his treatment that he was anxious to go on with this question, if he could get support for an asylum. Meeting with Dr. Wang, they joined forces, and, knowing that the University was also interested in the subject, they approached us, and together we have gone on with an effort to organize a Leper Home, and have been in correspondence with the Mission to Lepers. Hence the visit from Dr. Fowler and Mr. Anderson. In the course of their visit we have come to an understanding satisfactory to all parties concerned, under which work for lepers will be started shortly. Land has already been purchased with funds supplied by the Governor. Mr. Anderson promises to recommend an appropriation from the Mission to Lepers of sufficient amount to erect buildings, and the local committee, which is formed of representatives appointed by the Independent Church, the Provincial Government, the University and the Mission to Lepers, will raise locally funds needed for equipment. It is planned that the annual up-keep be jointly cared for by money contributed from the Mission to Lepers and the Provincial Government.

CHEELLOO MAGAZINE ARRIVES.

As if to compensate us for their unpardonable delay in handling the December issue of the CHEELOO Magazine, the shipping companies have hurried the March issue through in record time, so that the magazine has arrived a week ahead of schedule. Copies are being distributed today.

CHEELLOO begins its second volume in a new dress, both as to cover design and color of binding. We are indebted to Mr. Drake for the attractive view of the chapel which will grace the magazine during 1925. He also is responsible for the idea of varying the color of the cover from issue to issue. The March issue appears in a greyish-brown which certainly matches ideally the world about us at this season of the year.

The staff would remind subscribers that most subscriptions expire with this issue, and it would appreciate prompt renewals so that the number of copies needed can be correctly estimated.

HIKER-BOHEMIANS ORGANIZE.

The latest addition to the family of student clubs and student activities is marked by the organization during the last week of the Cheeloo Hiking Club. The club plans a number of Saturday afternoon hikes to places in the vicinity of Tsinan, and is making plans for a two or three day tramp the during the Spring Ming holidays.

YENCHING GEOLOGIST VISITS TSINAN.

Professor George B. Barbour of the Department of Geology of Yenching University, Peking, arrives to spend this week-end in Tsinan. Professor Barbour was formerly connected with Pei-yang University, and is remembered by some of our students who formed part of the joint field-trip organized by Cheeloo and Pei-yang two years ago. The visiting lecturer has made a special study of the geology of Tsinan's famous water supply, and on Monday evening will address the Tsinan Literary Society on "When the Dinosaurs Came to Tsinan". An illustrated talk is scheduled under the auspices of the students' Science Society, to which the student body of the University at large is being invited.

FACULTY TRACK SQUAD AT WORK.

Wednesday afternoon the ex-runners, ex-jumpers, ex-hurdlers, ex-weight-heavers and general sometime-athletes of the faculty assembled together to organize a track squad which would demonstrate to the world at large that years and wrinkles and greying hair mean nothing to them. A large crowd was present, and there is a genuine hope that the faculty may produce a track and field squad which will furnish real competition for the students who are training for the forthcoming meets of the spring. It was decided that the squad will work out daily at 5:30, though it not expected that every member will be able to come out every day. Members who can come out at 4:30 or 5:00 can do much to assist with the coaching of the students and will be warmly welcomed, but probably many will prefer to come out at 5:30 when the field and equipment will be less in use by the students. It is hoped that it may be possible to arrange for a dual meet with the University track team some time before the North China Meet in April.

Dr. Shields was elected captain of the squad, and has issued a call to everyone who is interested in the athletics of the school to come and lend their assistance.

"SOCIAL GLIMPSES OF TSINAN".

The results of the social survey of Tsinan which was made by the Department of Sociology last year, and which has been published in the December and March numbers of CHEELOO, has been reprinted in an attractive 32-page pamphlet and is now on sale by the Department of Sociology. Copies, including envelopes for mailing, may be obtained from Mr. Parker for ten cents each, or one dollar per dozen. Probably a considerable number of the faculty will find the pamphlet of great value in giving our friends at home and in China a glimpse of the life and social problems of the city about us. For convenience in mailing it might be mentioned that each pamphlet mailed should bear the following postage: Local, 1/2 cent; China, 1 cent; foreign, 4 cents.

DEEPEST SYMPATHIES.

The University community and Mr. T'ang En Liang's many friends in the city deeply sympathize with him and Mrs. T'ang in the loss of their second son, aged fourteen, who died on March 2nd from pneumonia, after an illness of five months duration. Our hearts go out to Mr. and Mrs. T'ang with even greater sympathy because their eldest son has been ill for over a year and is still in a serious condition.

WELCOME TO THE WEEKLY BULLETIN IN CHINESE.

The long-talked-of Weekly Bulletin in Chinese has at last become a reality, and the first issue is due to be put in circulation today. The work of organizing the undertaking has been carried on for several months by a committee composed of Dr. Li, Mr. Chou, and Mr. Peng, and due to their efforts the Chinese Bulletin promises to be a splendid example of cooperation between the faculty and the student body of the University. The Editorial Staff consists of Mr. Chou Han T'ang, Mr. Peng Hsiang Sheng, Mr. Leo Teh Chin, Mr. Wu Chin T'ing, Mr. Chang Mo Sheng; and a group of students, including eleven from the Arts College, three from Medicine, two from Theology, and three women students. In the Business Staff Mr. Hsiao Kuo Kuei is the Department Head, Mr. Li Wen Ch'ang the Advertising Manager, Mr. Han Tsung Ch'i the Circulation Manager, and Mr. Hsin Teh Jen the Treasurer.

The "Ch'i Ta Chou K'an" will be distributed at a subscription rate of $1.50 per year, 80¢ for half a year, and 3 coppers per issue. We wish every success to our Chinese contemporary, and await the first issue with great interest.

SPECIAL CINEMA FOR CHILDREN.

As indicated in the Weekly Calendar, there will be a special cinema for the foreign children on Wednesday, March 11th, at 4:15 p.m. in the lecture hall of the Institute.

THE EDUCATIONAL SITUATION CONTINUED.

The seventh phase was the meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Education at Nanking. At that meeting the storm centre was the question of the recovery of Government control of education. This was the objective of their motions. One needs to understand the state of mind which was behind the actions of the educators at that meeting and the reasons for their motions. The first of these was the necessity they were under to meet the demands of the previous resolutions and the movement behind them, and in the second place to take means to combat a campaign of de-nationalisation which was being carried on by the Japanese along the zone of the Southern Manchuria Railway, where the Japanese had established their own system of education, were teaching Japanese in the schools, and controlling the programme of the schools so as to alienate the Chinese students from their national sympathies. To appreciate the degree to which this had been carried out Dr. Lew quoted the results of a carefully prepared questionnaire which was given these students to test the degree of Japanese influence, such as, in reply to the question "draw a picture of the national flag", most of the students drew the Japanese flag. In reply to the question "What cities would you like most to visit", in which some western, some Chinese and some Japanese cities were mentioned, the great majority chose Tokyo. Other straws pointing in the same direction gave them every reason to fear for the effects upon national loyalty of this Japanese education. Some of the worst opponents of the Christian schools at that time were said to be graduates of graduates of Nanking and Canton Christian Universities. Another contributing cause was the Report of the Educational Commission, organised in America and England, which drew up plans for a complete Christian educational system alongside of the Government scheme. So at that meeting two motions previously formulated were changed to the effect that all Christian schools ought to be registered; that there should be two types of schools which should be recognised, first those who came into full conformity to the Government schools; graduates of which should have all the privileges of Government institutions. Graduates of the second type, those who came into partial conformity would not be given full rights. The more drastic resolutions against Christian education, through the influence of prominent Christians who are in Government education, were put on the table.

The eighth phase was the recent meeting of the National Education Association at Honan. It is to be noted that the National Association for the Advancement of Education is not an official organisation, but that the National Educational Association is an official organisation recognised by the Government, whose resolutions are for the most part adopted by the Minister of Education. Their recent resolutions are well-known but it seems worth while to briefly summarise them here:-

- (1) All schools must be registered.
- (2) All schools must therefore follow the Government regulations on education.
- (3) They must be under the supervision and orders of local magistrates.
- (4) All their teachers must be up to required standards.
- (5) No tuition must be charged higher than that of other schools privately founded recognised by Government.
- (6) Graduates of any schools that do not so register will not be granted any privileges or any diplomas recognised by the government.
- (7) Unregistered schools must be closed.
- (8) In foreign schools all rites and ceremonies used must be according to the Government regulations.
- (9) No schools will be allowed to propagate or teach religion.
- (10) There is to be no founding of new schools or expansion of present work.

The immediate reaction to these drastic resolutions is to be seen first in the strikes in the Christian schools in Hunan and Hupeh, second in the lecturing against Christian education carried on in places like Canton, the printing of attacks upon Christian education, organisation of regular preaching bands to talk against Christian propaganda, the stimulation of strikes in Christian schools, the invasion of churches at the celebration of Christmas, and the entrance of non-Christian students into Christian schools simply for the sake of instigating trouble.

This summarised the movement up to the present. Dr. Lew asked what were we Christian educators to do about it? First he says we are not to be afraid of this. In the second place we should not ignore it because it is a type of public opinion and we cannot afford to ignore public opinion. Thirdly it is an excellent opportunity for self-criticism and self-examination. Fourthly, we should make it an occasion to try to understand the attitude and the motives of those who are opposing us.

What are we going to do about it? We might appeal to treaty rights and consular support, but this would be only to add fuel to the fire. We should see clearly our present position. We should ask ourselves, Has the Church a right to establish schools? Have we a right to carry on educational work and to propagate religion through our educational work? Or should we improve our methods so as to accomplish our end of Christianising China?

At the close he said that he had a vision which he thought might startle his hearers, but as he saw it, ten years from now none of the lower schools would be in the hands of the church, but would all be managed by private Chinese; and that twenty years from now none of our middle schools would be church organizations but would also be privately managed. Through these private schools Christian educators would make their Christian testimony by the excellence and thoroughness of their educational work and the spirit they put into their labor. Therefore the Chinese ought to be getting ready to take over responsibility for these schools. Does this mean, then, that we are going to lose our opportunity for religious education? No, but we shall take a new method. He saw a vision of week-day schools of religious education planted in every centre where there was a lower school, opening its doors daily, frankly teaching religion and nothing else, in which the pastor would urge the Christian parents to place their children for stated instruction under a man who was qualified to teach religious education, and that non-Christian children would be attracted into the schools alongside the Christian children. There would be no pretence about it, there would be no possibility of making the charge that we were teaching religion by means of general education, but we would be frankly and effectively teaching the Christian religion itself.

YENCHING GEOLOGIST VISITS TSINAN.

Professor G.B. Barbour's five-day visit to the campus proved a very stimulating one. On Monday evening a talk was given before the Tsinan Literary Society, which instead of being a collection of dry and aged information proved to be a very delightful and informal canter over the last ten million years of Tsinan's history. Slides demonstrating the growth of crystals were thrown on the screen, and numerous drawings and diagrams prepared specially to illustrate phases of Tsinan geology were exhibited. The audience was impressed with the ingenuity displayed in the preparation of this illustrative material.

A lecture was given to the university students on Saturday evening on "Earthquakes", where similar lantern and demonstration material was used. The children of the Tsinan Foreign School were also given a simple talk on "Rocks". -- Mr. Barbour is especially interested in the problem of the iron deposits in the center of Shantung province, and took this occasion to make another trip to study the formations at the Tieh-shan Mines, near Chin-ling-chen.

MR. B.J. SOLE TO BE AT ANGLICAN HOSTEL.

Bishop Scott passed through on Tuesday on his way to Weihsien and Chefoo. He is planning to assign Mr. B.J. Sole, B.A. for residence in the Anglican Hostel, with oversight over the students, during Mr. Hunter's absence on furlough. Mr. Sole was formerly of Jesus College, Cambridge, and has taught in America. He has been in China for two and a half years and has taught in the Boys' School at Taian.

ALAN KNAPTON ILL WITH MENINGITIS.

The entire community has heard with sympathy and anxiety of the serious illness of Alan Knapton with meningitis. He was apparently perfectly well on Wednesday morning, fell ill at noon, and a diagnosis was made by lumbar puncture in the evening. Anti-toxin was administered with favorable results, and the case seems progressing as satisfactorily as could be hoped.

CONCERT AT TSINANFU CLUB.

The Tsingtao Trio will give a concert at the Club this evening.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE MURRAYS!

The entire Tsinan foreign community is rejoicing with Mr. and Mrs. H.V. Murray this week over the safe arrival of a young son, who joined our number on Wednesday morning. So far we haven't been able to learn the young gentleman's name.

MISS HICKSON ILL.

Miss Hickson has been absent from the President's office for several days, being kept at home by the popular pastime of entertaining the 'flu'. Her being away leaves a big gap in administration circles, and we are hoping that she may soon be about again.

MR. CASSAT AT VASSAR.

We have all been very much pleased to hear that Mr. Cassat has just been appointed Comptroller of Vassar College, that world-famous institution of higher feminine learning near Poughkeepsie New York. The appointment came after Mr. Cassat had spent some time in an accounting bureau in Philadelphia. He has already taken up his new position, and Mrs. Cassat and the children hope to join him in a short time. The Vassar campus is considered one of the most beautiful in America, and the location is esteemed ideal from the standpoint of health, so there is every reason to hope that Mr. Cassat's work will give him opportunity to improve in health and strength.

THE CHOIR.

Mr. Harrison has this week sent us the following request for assistance in the Choir. This assistance is urgently needed, and we trust the appeal will not go unheeded.

"The Choir is in great need of sopranos and altos. With a little help it would be possible to add greatly to the service of praise. At the same time it is a form of service that does not make very great demands upon one's time - one hour a week only. Anthem books are on order, and it is hoped that we may be able in the future to make a worthier contribution to the Sunday services. We shall welcome to our practices on Thursdays at 6:30 any to whom this appeal may commend itself".

DON'T FORGET THE TRACK SQUAD.

Captain Shields has been setting a good example to the squad by grinding out three or four miles every afternoon on the cinder path, half a dozen more have been reasonably faithful, and several others have been coming out when the cold hasn't been too thick or the wind too sharp. But, sad to say quite a number of the staff athletes who once were the admiration of the applauding multitudes haven't yet gotten up sufficient courage to brave the chill winds of March and the critical eyes of their students. To all such we would address an urgent appeal to get busy. Dig the old track suit out of the moth-balls, file the rust off the spikes, and limber up those creaking joints and flabby muscles.

NEWS ITEMS.

VISIT OF DR. HARRY F. WARD.

Dr. Harry F. Ward, Professor of Christian Ethics at Union Theological Seminary, New York, and writer of many works dealing with the problems of a Christian Social Order, is now in China for a period of six months in which he will give a series of lectures at the leading centers of education. He is just closing his work at the first of these centers, Peking. Reports come that he has received a most hearty response at the Government University, Tsinghua College and Yenching. It is noteworthy that he has appeared on the invitation of the same lecture association which gave its platform to Russell and Dewey. Peking vernacular papers are giving his lectures front page space.

We are most fortunate to secure Dr. Ward for three days in Tsinan from March 28 - 30th. Three addresses have been arranged for the University, one on Saturday morning, one at the University Sunday Service, and one on Monday morning. Arrangements have been made to allow an hour for the Saturday and Monday morning addresses which will be at 8:40 A.M. In addition, the Associations have arranged a Mass Meeting at the Provincial Assembly Hall for government students for Sunday afternoon when they can be at liberty. It is also hoped to arrange a tea and reception for Dr. and Mrs. Ward to give the community an opportunity to meet them. It is planned to have Dr. Ward speak informally at that occasion without interpretation.

In addition to Dr. Ward's study and personal and intimate contacts with labor movements in the United States he has recently been in both Russia and India from which he brings fresh impressions. In view of the type of charge made against Christianity by the Anti-Christian Movement Dr. Ward's message is most timely. More detailed information will appear in next week's Bulletin.

CONCERT BY THE STRAUSS TRIO.

The Strauss Trio from Tsingtao gave a concert to the Nankuan community in the Medical Hall on Tuesday evening. The Hall was nearly filled, including a large attendance of undergraduates of the University who evidently greatly appreciated the music. The hall had been decorated for the afternoon reception to Mr. MacRae, the attendance was appreciative, and the players responded by excellent music. It was the more enjoyable in that many old favourites were included in the programme.

VISIT OF PROFESSOR GEE.

Dr. N. Gist Gee, Director of Pre-Medical Education of the China Medical Board in Peking, spent from Tuesday to Friday with Dr. Adolph on a visit to the Pre-Medical Department of the School of Arts and Science.

TUNGCHOW SCHOOL.

Dr. Cochran is attending the meeting of the Board of Managers of the Tungchow School on Tuesday, March 24th, in Peking, and leaves Tsinan on Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Cochran. Word comes that an epidemic of scarlet fever has invaded the Tungchow School, Sammy Cochran and Teddy Romig being among the victims. News has been received of satisfactory recovery. Randolph Shields was indisposed and under suspicion but it turned out to be a false alarm.

DINOSAUR TRAILS.

Professor Barbour has sent from Peking additional copies of the single page drawing which was used by him in the lecture of last week illustrating Tsinan's past geologic history. They have been sent in response to inquiries from a number who did not receive copies on the evening of the lecture and may be obtained from Dr. Adolph in Bergen Hall.

RECEPTION FOR MR. MACRAE.

On Tuesday afternoon of this week the University staff and community extended its formal welcome to Mr. MacRae at a reception given in his honor in the Assembly Hall of the Medical School. Both Chinese and foreign members of the staff attended in the large numbers. The ladies who acted as hostesses are deserving of unusually high praise for the excellent arrangements, the tasteful decorations, and the enjoyable refreshments.

LIBRARY NEWS.

The joint visit of Dr. Balme and Mr. MacRae to Winnipeg was both enjoyable and fruitful. One member of Augustine congregation afterwards informed his pastor that he had discovered that a missionary is "neither a fool nor a plaster saint".

What will chiefly interest our readers, however, is the fact that the Librarian and the Chairman of the Library Committee are now relieved from one cause of anxiety; they need have no further visions of closed doors, with students and staff denied access to the stacks of mental problems on the library shelves. Our loyal friends, the Augustine congregation in Winnipeg, have now undertaken to provide the sum of $1200 gold for annual maintenance.

Those accustomed to frequent the library must often have longed for a few pictures to cover its bare walls. That need, too, has been met. Mrs. C.A. Baird, a member of the same congregation, has presented to the library a number of copies of well-known masterpieces, which will soon be put in place to cover some of the empty spaces.

DR. MINER ATTENDS N.C.C. CONFERENCE.

Dr. Luella Miner left on Wednesday evening for Shanghai, to attend a meeting of the National Christian Council's Committee on Religious Education.

E.A. WILLIAMS COMING.

We are looking forward to a visit in the near future from Mr. E. Ariam Williams, who is returning to India after several years of study in Britain. During the past six months Mr. Williams has been visiting the United States and Canada in the interest of the Student Christian Movement.

DR. LI SPENDS WEEK-END IN TAIAN.

During the last week-end Dr. Li T'ien Lu spent Saturday and Sunday in Taian, where he gave a series of three addresses, the first to the students of the Tsui Ying School, the second to the combined student bodies of the various schools of the Methodist Mission, and the third to the teachers of all the schools in the city.

ADVANCE NOTICES OF SPRING.

The calendar man announces that this is the first day of spring, though as yet that fickle goddess of the maker of verdant rhymes hasn't begun to array herself in very bright colors. But the campus gardeners have for some weeks been busy with their spring preparations, and as a result of their labors the campus will be more attractive than ever during the coming months. A large number of shrubs have been moved to more favorable locations, and numerous new shrubs and trees have been planted. The student tennis courts have been put in order and already crowds are beginning to make use of them throughout the day. The faculty courts are being rapidly put into condition, with one court already finished and the early enthusiasts taking advantage of it whenever opportunity offers.

ECHOES OF WASHINGTON.

The foreign Missions Convention of the United States and Canada, which met recently in Washington, was a notable assembly. More than five thousand delegates representing the protestant churches of North America were present. The aim of the convention was to present, in the light of today, and from the standpoint of those who stand behind the movement in the West, the world task of the Christian church.

The interests concerned, as well as the area represented, were necessarily somewhat more circumscribed than at the Edinburgh Conference in 1910. The very full programme of addresses was more than flesh could endure and tempted even the most devoted lover of "Conferences" and "talk" to take more than one half-day off to see the sights of the Capital. The afternoon hours were given to Simultaneous Conferences on such subjects as:- Evangelism, Medical Work, Agriculture and Industry, Social Service, Christian Literature, Educating the Church, Recruiting Missionaries, Foreign Missions and the Congregation, Missions in the New Generation, Education, etc. Those who participated were, for the most part, people with special knowledge and experience from which to contribute.

It is only necessary to mention the names of platform speakers like Chas. E. Brent, Mr. J.H. Oldham, Dr. E. Stanley Jones, Mrs. Henry Peabody, Dr. John R. Mott, Dr. Robt. E. Speer, Prof. Cornelius, Dr. T. Kagawa, and others, to indicate the worth of the addresses. President Coolidge came from the "White House" a couple of blocks away, to deliver the address of welcome. It was a real message, of unique significance as a pronouncement upon World Missions from the Head of a great nation. Morning by morning the devotional hours led by men like Dr. Robert Forgan of the Established Church of Scotland, Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, or the veteran Dr. Julius Richter, were truly "moments on the Mount". None could fail to be moved by the passionate appeal of Dr. E. Stanley Jones on behalf of India, or that of Dr. Samuel Zwemer for the Mohammedan world. Kagawa gave a human touch to his response to the invitation to speak when he said: "Americans show great hospitality to my countrymen after we get into America". As a result of this Convention the churches of North America should catch a new vision of the world-wide task to which they are committed in our day.

J.D.M.

ALAN KNAPTON IMPROVING.

Throughout the week little Alan Knapton, who is in the hospital with spinal meningitis, has been making definite progress toward recovery.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR SOCIAL SERVICE CENTRE.

Don't forget the entertainment in Aid of the Social Service Centre, to be given at the Institute this evening, beginning at seven o'clock. The programme will consist of instrumental and vocal music, indian club swinging, juggling, sleight of hand, and the like, followed by a moving picture entitled "Younger Brother". Admission will be 50¢, $1, and $5.

NEWS ITEMS.DEPARTURE OF MISS LOGAN.

Miss Logan left for Tsingtao on Monday on route for England. She sails from Shanghai on the P. & O. "Mantua" on March 31st, and is expecting to break her journey in India, visiting a brother, for a month or so. The heartiest good wishes of the entire Tsinan community go with her for a happy furlough and a speedy restoration to health.

NEWS FROM DR. COCHRAN.

News has come from Dr. Cochran from Peking that Sammy and the other children suffering from scarlet fever at Tungchow are all progressing well. As there have been several more cases during the last week, the Easter holidays are indefinitely postponed.

Dr. Cochran expects to return on Friday.

RECEPTION TO DR. AND MRS. WARD.

Dr. and Mrs. Ward arrived in Tsinan on last night's express, and the first of Dr. Ward's series of lectures was given this morning. This afternoon from four until six o'clock a tea and reception will be given in their honor in McCormick Hall. Dr. Ward will speak informally at that time.

VISITORS TO TSINAN.

Dr. and Mrs. J.G. Cormack of Peking are spending a few days with their daughter, Mrs. D.C. Baker.

Mrs. W.G. Harmon arrived on Wednesday from Tientsin, and is staying with Mrs. Poulsen.

Miss Atzell and Dr. Rorer of the American Board Mission, Taiku, are in Tsinan for a day or two, visiting with Mrs. Cady.

WELCOME TO MRS. MCAFEE.

The University community has been very happy this week to greet Mrs. Cleland B. McAfee, who with Dr. McAfee has been busily engaged for the last year in visiting the different mission fields of Asia. Our welcome to Mrs. McAfee has been especially warm and sympathetic because of her connection with Mr. and Mrs. A.G. Parker. We rejoice with Mrs. Parker and her mother in their reunion after four years of separation.

Dr. McAfee is now giving a series of lectures in Nanking, whence he will go to Wuchang and Changsha. After leaving Changsha he will come to Tsinan for a week, during which he will deliver a number of lectures. Further details concerning his visit will be announced later.

THE VESTRY FURNITURE.

Under the direction of an efficient committee, the vestry of Kumler Memorial Chapel has been provided with a beautiful and appropriate set of furnishings which are now ready for inspection and well forth a visit from those interested.

NEWS FROM DR. BALME.

There has been received this week from Dr. Balme a long and intensely interesting letter written from New York on February 26th. It is full of news of meetings and conferences all looking toward the growth and development of the University, but it interspersed too with more personal items, such as visits to the relatives and friends of a large number of the members of staff. While it is not possible to reproduce the entire letter here, we quote the following bits which are typical and interesting:-

"--- In Toronto I got let in for a few somewhat exacting speaking engagements, but got through them with nothing more than a little tiredness, and feel they were distinctly worth while. The most important was a gathering of the leading men from all the churches at a supper meeting, at which the chief message of the Washington Conference was presented. They had 764 present, and I had a unique opportunity to speak of China's present problems and our attempt to make a contribution towards their solution."

"--- While in Philadelphia I spent a delightful evening with Mrs. Neal, who is bearing up wonderfully under her great sorrow. The account she gives of the last days of Dr. Neal were most characteristic of the dauntless, plucky spirit in which he met each attack. He was "game" to the very last, considerate and thoughtful of all around him, and anxious to avoid giving trouble to anyone. We have lost one of God's great Christian gentlemen in his passing, and one to whom we owe more in the University than we can ever know."

"--- You will be amused to hear that last week I had the novel experience of giving a half-hour's talk by radio from one of the powerful New York broadcasting stations, on 'Present conditions in China with special reference to the S.C.U.' It was the queerest experience to be talking to an unseen audience, whilst in the next room was a mixed assortment of jazz-band players, sentimental vocalists, ethical lecturers, and the like, all waiting their turn, and meanwhile listening to my missionary address by means of the loud speaker!"

FACULTY-STUDENT ATHLETIC MEET NEXT WEEK!

On Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of next week Age and Youth will measure their strength and skill and endurance on the University Athletic Field. While the odds seem to be very overwhelmingly in favor of Youth, still it is to be hoped that Age will at least give a good account of itself.

The University Track Team this year promises to be even stronger than the squad which last year captured second place in the North China Meet, and fourth in the All China competition. Most of the members of the team have been training earnestly and are already beginning to round into mid-season form. The Faculty Squad is still a rather uncertain quantity, with some of its reinforcements still hesitating on the sidelines, with several members having difficulty throwing off the burden of years, and with at least one member, Dr. Heimburger, pretty definitely out of the meet with a strained knee.

It is to be hoped that a large crowd will be present on the athletic field on Wednesday and Thursday of next week, to demonstrate the interest of the entire University in the athletic activities of the student body.

MIDDLE SCHOOL CONFERENCE.

On Friday and Saturday of next week the University will be the scene of a most important conference between representatives of most of the important middle schools throughout North China and representatives of the University. The central purpose of the conference will be to develop a fuller understanding between the University and the middle schools and to work out plans for more complete and satisfactory cooperation in all points of mutual interest.

All members of the University staff are urged to attend as many of the sessions as possible, in order that all may acquaint themselves more fully with the needs and the view-point of the middle schools whence our students are coming year by year. A tentative program of the conference is given below:

MRS. NEAL SENDS NOTE OF THANKS.

There has this week been received from Mrs. J.B. Neal a very warm and sincere note of thanks, in which she expresses her deepest gratitude to the University community for the cablegram sent her at the time of Dr. Neal's death.

We have received also a copy of the Memorial Minute on Dr. Neal adopted by the Presbyterian Board on February 26th, in which the Board pays the Highest and most earnest tribute to the life and work of Dr. Neal. As most of the facts contained in the Memorial have already been given in the Bulletin, we will not reproduce the Memorial Minute here.

CH'I MING KINDERGARTEN OPENS.

After a long series of delays the building of the Ch'i Ming kindergarten, erected just north of the Follansbee Village, has at last been completed and prepared for occupancy. The building is a very attractive structure, substantially built and well adapted for its purpose. The cost of the kindergarten has been approximately three thousand dollars, of which $500 Gold was contributed by Dr. Neal, and the remaining sum has been provided through the generosity of both Chinese and foreign friends of the school.

The kindergarten has been in session for the last week with more than twenty happy little tots in attendance. Visitors who would like to see the new school in operation will be welcomed any day between nine and twelve o'clock.

MRS. SMITH RETURNS FROM PEKING.

On Wednesday night Mrs. H.F. Smith returned from Peking, where she has been visiting for the last three weeks. She reports having had a very pleasant journey and a most delightful visit in the Northern Capital where she met a large number of friends and acquaintances.

DR. AND MRS. INGLE AT CHOUTSUN.

The community will learn with interest that the Ingle family will be out of town spending the week-end at Choutsun. We unite in wishing them "bon voyage" and a speedy return to our midst.

THIS WEEK'S HOSPITAL LIST.

Miss Hickson is at last beginning get out of doors a bit after a prolonged attack of influenza.

Dr. Heimbürger has been confined to his room all of the week, nursing a wrenched knee, the result of a fall while loyally training to defend the honor of the staff. He is now beginning to walk about again, though rather slowly and painfully.

Little Alan Knapton has continued making good progress, and is to be removed to his home this week-end.

Miss Ida Taylor, of the Southern Baptist Mission, Tainfu, has been in the hospital for the last week, suffering from a badly fractured limb. She has now been removed to the home of Dr. Stearns.

NEWS ITEMS.

NEWS FROM DR. D.J. EVANS.

A good letter has reached us from Dr. D.J. Evans. At the advice of the Medical Faculty, he has arranged to take the special X-Ray course offered at the P.U.M.C. by Dr. Hodges in May, in order that in Dr. Ellis' absence we shall have someone to fall back upon. His mission has consented to his leaving Sianfu in time for the course. At the date of the letter Dr. and Mrs. Evans were preparing to take the second year's language examination. On account of the fighting, the usual route through is closed and the main road to the east to Tai-guanfu is also impassable, so it is not entirely certain that he and Mrs. Evans will be able to get through in time.

NEWS FROM DR. BALME.

A recent letter from Dr. Balme tells of a week-end with the Cassats. Mr. Cassat is in better health than for some time past, and really seems to be on the upward road physically. His new position as Comptroller of Vassar promises to be a very attractive and suitable one as he will have the help of an excellent staff of assistants and will be in most delightful surroundings. No news that has come to us within the last few months brings better cheer than this word about him.

The same letter announces that Dr. Balme has had news of Mrs. Balme's safe arrival in England with the children, an arrival connected, of course, with a thrilling reunion with David. Dr. Balme enjoins us to remember him most warmly and affectionately to all his friends on the Campus.

VISIT OF DR. WARD.

The addresses given during the past week-end by Dr. Harry F. Ward were both interesting and instructive. His impressions of Soviet Russia, gained during a recent visit, were more favorable to that regime than those of some other visitors, and presented somewhat of a contrast to the estimate of a writer like Professor Særola of Edinburgh. In dealing with economic conditions and changes which must be brought about if the New Social Order is to be ushered in Dr. Ward recalled us to first principles, while the only adequate response to his Sunday morning challenge to outlaw war is to exalt Christ before the world as the "Prince of Peace".

TUNGCHOW SCHOOL.

There will be no spring vacation this year for the Chinese pupils at Tungchow because of an epidemic of what looks like scarlet fever in the school. Ten children have been ill but all are convalescing, but the necessary quarantine makes vacation out of the question.

SCARLET FEVER.

There more cases of scarlet fever are reported among the children of our community, the first sufferer being Margaret Harkness who is now convalescent. Dickson Harkness and Albert Parker, Jr. came down on Tuesday evening, but it is hoped that both the cases may prove to be light ones. At latest reports all three children are making satisfactory progress. The entire community extends its most earnest wishes for the speedy recovery of the little patients.

NEWS FROM MRS. FORSYTH.

Mrs. Forsyth writes from Tientsin that she was unfortunate enough to catch a germ on the train and came down with flu or cold or something similar and has been rather miserable ever since.

FACULTY-STUDENT TRACK MEET.

The first day of the University Faculty-Student Track Meet was a decided success, with good competition in all events, and a large and enthusiastic crowd of spectators present. As was expected, the students had considerably the better score at the end of the day, though the faculty squad proved its worth in all the events. Thursday was to see the completion of the meet, but because of the very unsatisfactory weather the latter half of the meet was postponed until yesterday. We will give a final summary of the meet next week.

MIDDLE SCHOOL CONFERENCE BEGINS SESSIONS.

The Conference of Middle School and University Representatives, called for the purpose of discussing various important questions of mutual interest to the University and the constituent middle schools, began its sessions on the morning of Friday, April 3rd. In spite of various adverse circumstances a large number of visiting delegates were present, all the University representatives were on hand, and numerous visitors attended the different sessions. During the first day of the Conference a large number of important matters were discussed and voted upon, and the interest and hearty response at all times was such as to assure the success of the meeting. A more detailed report of the activities of the Conference will be given next week.

Among the out-of-town visitors in attendance at the Conference were the following: Bishop T.A. Scott, of Taian; Rev. J. Wellington, of Taian; Mr. K.K. Thompson, of Ichowfu; Mr. H.S. Matthews, of Tehchow; Mr. W.C. Booth, of Chefoo; Miss M.A. Jaquet, of Peking; Dr. H.G. Dildine, of Peking; Mr. Chou, of Tientsin; Mr. Wang Ching Hsin, of Peking; Mr. Chou Hsin Fu, of Tsingchow; Mr. Li, of Chefoo; Mr. Cheng and Mr. Wen Jung Tai of Taian.

RECEPTION TO VISITING DELEGATES.

The ladies of the University staff will be "At Home" on Saturday, April 4th, from 4:30 to 6:00 p.m. at the Administration building, in honor of the visiting delegates to the Middle School Conference. All members of the Staff and their guests are most cordially invited to be present.

LITERARY SOCIETY POSTPONES APRIL MEETING.

A telegram has just been received indicating that Ferguson who was to have addressed the Literary Society on Monday evening is unable to leave Peking. The meeting announced for Monday evening in Bergen Hall has been cancelled.

NOTICE: TSINAN FOREIGN SCHOOL.

On account of the cases of scarlet fever it has been decided to suspend the Tsinan Foreign School exercises until further notice. The medical advisors of the School Board urge upon each family that they keep their children in their own homes so far as possible until fear of further spread of contagion is past, also that any children showing a temperature should be segregated until diagnosis is made.

Y.M.C.A. SECRETARIES COMING.

Mr. Hollis A. Wilbur and Dr. Herman C.E. Liu, of the National Committee of the Y.M.C.A. will be in Tsinan April 17th to 22nd, for a series of conferences with the Tsinan Y.M.C.A. It is hoped that while Dr. Liu is here he will be able to meet with the teachers of the mission schools of the city for a conference on Vocational Guidance.

APPOINTMENT OF REV. J. M. WOODS.

Word has been received from New York, of the appointment of Rev. Joseph M. Woods, as contract teacher of English in the School of Arts and Science. Mr. Woods is a recent graduate of Princeton University and Princeton Theological Seminary. He has had experience in teaching English, and comes to Cheeloo with the highest of qualifications.

NORTH CHINA MEET COMING

The latter part of next week will find Tsinan crowded with visitors coming to attend and to participate in the Eleventh Annual North China Track and Field Meet. Twenty-three colleges and more than sixty middle schools have signified their intention of entering the Meet, and over seven hundred competitors have listed their names. From such figures as these we catch a glimpse of the rapidly growing interest in athletic contests which is so conspicuous throughout China. But the Meet is notable not only on account of the numbers involved but also because of the achievement in organization and administration which it represents, for a vast amount of work and planning and expense is necessary for the success of so extensive an undertaking. The entire organization, control, and conduct of the meet is carried on wholly by Chinese educators, and represents a splendid type of cooperation among all grades and types of educational work.

The University will have a large share in the entertainment of the hundreds of guests who will be in Tsinan next week. Arrangements are being made for housing on the campus the competitors from the visiting colleges as well as most of the coaches and officials who will be present for the meet. However, the various schools throughout the city will open their doors to the hundreds of athletes and visitors whom the University cannot possibly care for.

On Thursday the University will officially show its hospitality for our guests by means of a reception for the athletes and officials of the North China Meet, given by the Athletic Committee, the Faculty, and the Student Body of the University. It is hoped that a large number of the staff and the students can be present at that time. The reception will be held in the Extension Department.

The meet will be held on the new Provincial Athletic Field, constructed from funds provided by the officials of the province. This field is less than a mile east of the University, so it will not be difficult for all the staff and students to witness the events of the two days. Friday and Saturday of next week will be crowded full; both morning and afternoon being devoted to track and field contests, of which there are nearly seventy altogether.

The coming of the North China Meet to Tsinan should be of the greatest value to the University, not only because it should stimulate among our students a healthy interest in athletic sports but also because of the opportunity presented of winning new friends for the school both among the colleges and the secondary schools of North China. We are assured that our track squad will represent Cheeloo most worthily throughout the meet, but they are not our only representatives at the gathering; for each member of the staff and the student body will share the responsibility of welcoming those who will be our guests next week, and seeing that when they leave Tsinan it will be with a warm sense of friendliness for Shantung Christian University and the ideals it represents.

Especial praise is due to Mr. Li Wen Ch'ang, who has worked tirelessly for the success of the meet. The University Y.M.C.A. is also rendering valuable service in preparing for the comfort and convenience of the expected guests. As an example of their energy and resourcefulness, they are preparing a very attractive and profusely illustrated guide-book of the University and the city, to be given to all visitors, the cost of printing to be met chiefly from advertising.

VISIT OF DR. CLELAND B. McAFEE.

Next Tuesday Dr. McAfee will reach Tsinan, on his lecture trip under the auspices of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, of which he has been a member for many years. He is the first lecturer appointed in connection with the Joseph Cook Lectureship. Already he has been in Syria, Egypt, India, Siam, and a number of the larger cities of China. After leaving Tsinan at the end of this month he will lecture in Peking, and will then go to Korea and Japan.

Five lectures will be given at the University on the general subject "The Christian Conviction". Besides these lectures Dr. McAfee will speak at the Union Prayer Meeting on Wednesday evening and at the English Service on Sunday, April 26th.

There will be an opportunity for all members of the foreign community to meet Dr. and Mrs. McAfee at a tea to be given on next Wednesday afternoon by Dr. and Mrs. Lair.

VISIT OF MR. E. A. WILLIAMS.

During the past week we have had the pleasure of a visit from Mr. E. A. Williams, who is returning to India after a number of years spent in post-graduate study in Britain. Mr. Williams on Tuesday evening spoke to our students out of his rich experience in student work in Britain and more recently in the United States and Canada.

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS IN TSINAN.

The Council of Churches in Tsinan is arranging to hold a series of evangelistic meetings at Shan Hsi Hui Kuan (in the Settlement) for one week commencing on April 26th. The meetings will be held from 4:00 to 5:30 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. daily.

If anyone will be free to join in a choir to help along the musical part of the meetings either in the afternoon or in the evening, will they please kindly let Mrs. Heeren know?

MIDDLE SCHOOL CONFERENCE FINDINGS.

Last week we promised Bulletin readers that we would include this week a summary of the actions taken at the Conference of Middle School and University representatives which met during Ch'ing Ming. Since, however, the report is rather too long for publication in one issue, and is moreover being already issued in printed form, it seems best not to repeat it here. Most of the readers of the Bulletin who may be interested in these proceedings will undoubtedly receive printed copies during the next week, but if anyone desires additional copies he should communicate with Mr. H. F. Smith.

SPRING SESSION OF C.M.A.

The spring meeting of the Tsinan Branch of the China Medical Association was held Wednesday, April 15th, as scheduled. Out-of-town members in attendance were Drs. Gaston, Bethell, Herring, and Wu. The meeting was an interesting one, with good discussions on the papers presented. Owing to the lack during the day of electric current to run the lantern, Dr. Braafladt's paper on Typhus was postponed to an evening session. His lantern slides were those sent out by Dr. Wolbach of Harvard, and had previously been shown at the Hongkong Conference, since when they have made their way to Peking and back again to Tsinan for this occasion.

The officers elected for the next year are:- Dr. Gaston, President; Dr. Stearns, Vice President; Dr. Heath, Secretary-Treasurer.

ARTS AND SCIENCE STUDENTS VISIT PO-SHAN

A group of third and fourth year students specializing in science are spending half of this week on a field trip to Po-Shan, Shantung's ancient industrial center. The coal mines at Tzu-chuen will be visited and the students will study the engineering and chemical development of the natural resources of the Po-Shan district. Eleven students are making the trip under the direction of Dr. Adolph.

DR. MCAFEE HAS ARRIVED

Since the arrival of Dr. Cleland B. McAfee some of us have discovered that "a chiel's amang ye takin' notes". At the Prayer Meeting on Wednesday evening he touched, with rare insight, upon some of the problems which the cause of Missions is facing today, in China as everywhere. As a member of the Foreign Mission Board of the American Presbyterian Church, North, and familiar with all the work carried on by that great church, he spoke out of rich experience. It would be well if more often we had such a man as a kind of "Envoy Extraordinary" to help the "Supporting", the "Operating", and the "Administrative" Groups to understand one another better. His lectures to students on the "Christian Conviction" are most timely.

NORTH CHINA MEET

Throughout the week Tsinan has been becoming more and more crowded with the hundreds of athletes, officials, and supporters who have been gathering for the Twelfth Annual North China Track and Field Meet. Cheeloo has been caring for its full share of visitors, and the campus has been full of eager young athletes and busy coaches and officials.

The opening ceremony of the Meet was the reception given on Thursday afternoon by the University for the visiting athletes and officials. Following this there was a long conference of the officials, at which final details were carefully planned.

Yesterday, the first day of the meet, was throughout most successful; in spite of the handicap of decidedly unfavorable weather, and all events were run off with remarkable smoothness and efficiency. Warmest praise is due to all the officials, but especially to Mr. Ch'en Hsiao T'ien, the Field Marshal, for his cheery, democratic, and thorough generalship, and to Mr. Li Wen Ch'ang for his able and tireless efforts through long weeks of preparation and for his management of affairs on the field.

While the first day was in large measure devoted to preliminary trials, a sufficient number of finals were completed to give an indication of the trend of the scoring. In the "P'u T'ung" or Senior Class, Cheeloo led with a total of 41 1/6 points; Nankai was second with 25 1/3; and Peking Higher Normal was third with 19. In the Middle School Class the Jefferson Academy, of Tungchow and the Anglo-Chinese College of Tientsin were in the lead. The second day's results may, of course, cause very wide changes.

The records made were in general good, several new records being registered. For Cheeloo Mr. Pan Tso Hsin led with twelve points, though seriously handicapped by a strained muscle. Mr. Yin Hsiang P'ing and Mr. Chao Ching Kang were also consistent point winners. Mr. Chang Hwei Ch'uan furnished a sensation in the high jump by winning first place and setting a new record of 1.705 meters (5 ft. 7 1/8 in.) In the Middle School division the outstanding star was Mr. Chin Yung Kao of the Jefferson Academy, Tungchow, who won the high hurdles with a new All-China record of 17 seconds; won the pole vault with a new North China record of 3.20 meters (10 ft. 7 in.); and in addition won easy first places in the preliminary heats of four other events.

CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT

The concert given at the Tsinan Club on Monday evening by the Choral Society, under the auspices of the Tsinan Literary Society, was very much enjoyed. When one considers the short space of time the Choral Society has been in existence, and the constant changing of its personnel, the results achieved are very gratifying. Great credit is due Mrs. Tours, Dr. Evans, Mr. Harrisson, and Mr. Hunter in conducting and in bringing the Choral to its present state of excellence. Of the lighter numbers, "Summer is a-coming in" was most pleasing; while the "Inchcape Rock" was well and creditably done. Two pianoforte solos by Mrs. Baker were well received and lent variety to a program which was otherwise entirely vocal. Mrs. Harrisson was in excellent voice and captivated her audience both by her choice of songs and by the charm of their rendition. Especial praise is due Mr. Hunter, who left his bed in order to conduct.

REV. J. B. DAWES IMPROVING

After several days in which his case caused the gravest of anxiety to the attending physicians, Rev. J. B. Dawes, of the Tsinan Southern Baptist Mission, is reported to be greatly improved. He has been suffering with bronchial pneumonia, and is in the University hospital.

MR. T. Z. KU IN CANADA

Mr. William B. Chang writes of the visit of Mr. T. Z. Ku to Toronto:- "Mr. T. Z. Ku had a very warm reception in Toronto. He did not stay long— only from Friday night until Tuesday afternoon— but they gave him plenty of opportunities to speak. All the papers spoke of him very highly after he left. He is rightly regarded as the very first Chinese who has left a lasting impression on the Canadian mind in favour of China. What struck me most, however, was not his speeches, his reputation, or his unbiased point of view in all judgments, his absolute clearmindedness and the calmness of a chun tzu, admirable as these were: it was his moral conviction that moved me."

MAY-DAY CONCERT AT FOREIGN SCHOOL

On Friday, May 1st, at 5:00 p.m. a May-Day Concert will be given at the Tsinan Foreign School. In case of unfavorable weather, the concert will be given indoors, the place to be announced later. There will be singing, folk-dancing, and of course a triumphal crowning of the May Queen. All of the University staff, as well as the Tsinan Foreign Community in general, are cordially invited to be present.

TEA FOR DR. AND MRS. McAFEE

The tea for Dr. and Mrs. McAfee, announced in last week's Bulletin, has been postponed until Wednesday, April 29th, from four to six o'clock, when all are cordially invited to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lair to meet Dr. and Mrs. McAfee.

CONGRATULATIONS TO REV. AND MRS. EAMES

At the University Hospital on April 17th a son was born to Rev. and Mrs. Charles M. Eames, of the Presbyterian Mission, Tsining. He has been named William Rogers. The University community unites in extending its warmest congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Eames.

FURLOUGH SEASON IS HERE

An unusually large number of the Cheeloo staff go on furlough this spring, so there is a growing stir and excitement in numerous households; and all of us find ourselves involuntarily entering somewhat at least into the spirit of home-going as we listen with cordial interest to the plans and expectations of those looking forward to pleasant, busy months in the homelands. We extend to all our departing colleagues the heartiest of good wishes for a safe and happy journey, and a most enjoyable and profitable time of furlough. Their going leaves important gaps in the staff of the University, and takes away vital factors of the life of the community, so we will all be looking forward to the time when they will be back with us once more.

Dr. and Mrs. P. S. Evans, who were the first to leave, slipped away so quietly on Wednesday night that we had little opportunity for leave taking. We are expecting, however, to have them with us again in the fall. The next to leave will be the Pailings and the Ingles, who are departing on Monday, returning to England by way of the Suez and the Mediterranean. Next month we will be saying goodbye to the Mosses, the Hunters, the Parkers, and the Jacots. In July the Bakers will be leaving, as will Dr. Scott and Dr. Waddell.

The first formal ceremony of leave-taking was the farewell reception on last Friday evening for the departing members of the medical staff. The evening was enlivened by a number of features, prominent among which was the rendition of a farewell song written for the occasion by Dr. ~~W~~ ~~se~~, who has more than once distinguished himself as a writer of clever verses and as a designer of original crossword puzzles. By request we reproduce the "Medical Departure Song" herewith, though as our keyboard doesn't possess the Chinese type needed to do justice to the song we will have to resort to Wade romanization. We are not expert in judging the artistic worth of poetry, but we can vouch for the realism of this song; it sounds a bit like some of our foreign members of staff lecturing in Chinese.

GRADUATION OF NURSES

On Tuesday afternoon of this week the graduation ceremony for the nurses was held in the Assembly Hall of the Medical School. Although the day was quite rainy a good crowd was present to demonstrate the interest of the university community in this important phase of medical training. In spite of the rain the nurses on Tuesday evening embarked on the Ta Ming Hu for a very pleasant outing.

Of the four members of the graduating class Miss Chang Hsiu Mei and Mr. Hsueh Jei Feng will remain at the hospital, Mr. Sun Yen Ling goes to Kaifeng, and Mr. Chou Ts'un Yu returns home for the present.

MRS. TODNEM CONVALESCING FROM OPERATION

Mrs. Lawrence Todnem, who underwent an appendicitis operation at the University Hospital last week, has been making satisfactory progress, and will be removed to her home within a few days.

MARY HEEREN SUFFERING FROM SPRAINED ANKLE

This week we all extend our sympathies to young Miss Mary Heeren, who has been kept at home all week because of a severe sprain sustained last Saturday. With the May Fete today and Empire Day only a week off, we trust that she will soon be able to get about again.

CHOIR HAS OUTING ON LAKE

On Friday evening of last week the University Choir enjoyed a most pleasant outing on the Ta Ming Hu. There was boating and singing, and of course refreshments were served. In all there were sixteen members in the party.

MISS BENNETT VISITING IN TSINAN

Miss Catherine Bennett, of the American Church Mission, Wuchang, has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacot for the past week. Miss Bennett was expected to return to Wuchang within the next few days, but the uncertain state of transportation at present makes it difficult to attempt travel of any sort.

THE GARDEN PARTY

"The most exquisite thing we've seen since we came out here!" With this clue to help us, few of us, we fancy, would fail to supply the missing word. The Woman's Club closed a great season with a delightful Garden Party held on the spreading lawn of the Medical School Assembly Hall, and in spite of a last moment change of venue achieved a triumphant success. It is true that we heard some criticisms . . . "Hum! Looks more like chewing gum than suckling honey . . ." etc., but these were only envious criticisms from ineffective males who made no contribution themselves, if we except one fragrant gentleman who came as an onion.

The dresses were a miracle of beauty and ingenuity and suited their little wearers to perfection. Where all were so perfect, it is hard to make selections; in our corner of the garden we think, perhaps, most votes went to Snowdrop, Daffodil, Daisy, Buttercup, Dandelion, Primrose, Robin, Violet, Bluebell, Forget-me-not, Dandelion Down, Meadow Brown, Butterfly, Orange Tip Butterfly, Marguerite Daisy, Clover, White Butterfly, Foxglove, Heather, Rose, Honeysuckle, Carpet Moth, Silver Y Moth, Poppy, Yellow Iris, Harebell, Peacock Butterfly, North Wind - and not forgetting the Spirit of the Flowers, the Pianist, the Soloist, and the Children's chorus. Altogether a perfect afternoon, and one which well repaid the very heavy labours which must have gone before it.

TSINAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The season's program for the Literary Society came to a close on Thursday evening with a most enjoyable paper on Popsys, written by Mr. Hunter and delivered by Mr. Harrison. While lacking nothing in originality, the paper was doubly entertaining because of the many appropriate quotations from the inimitable Diary. After the paper the annual report of the retiring Committee was presented and a new Committee for next season was elected. Following the business meeting, refreshments were served.

H.B.M. Consul General H. H. King was elected President for next year, Mrs. McHardy was chosen Treasurer and Secretary, and Mrs. Wright and Dr. Heimburger were selected as the other two members of the Committee. The thanks of the community are due the retiring Committee for having furnished, regardless of the many difficulties with which they have had to contend, a very enjoyable and instructive season's program.

KUNG LI HUI ASSISTANCE TO THE SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

At the meeting of the Council of the North China Kung Li Hui the first of this month the Rev. C. A. Stanley, D. D. was appointed to the staff of the School of Theology, for service in the Department of Rural Church, this appointment to take effect upon the concurrence of the Chihli District of the Mission and the approval by the home Board (the American Board). This would mean that Dr. Stanley might be released from Tientsin by the fall of 1926 at the earliest, though it may take longer to arrange for him to leave Tientsin.

The Council also voted on the recommendation of the Theological Committee to establish a scholarship under the control of the Faculty of this School, equal in amount to the assistance granted to its own students, to be used to enable independent students who receive no assistance from other church bodies an opportunity to prepare for Christian service. No obligation to the donors is involved. It is especially planned to provide for students from government institutions who have no mission connections.

As a further mark of the hearty interest and support for the proposed developments along the line of special preparation for the Rural Church pastorate, a gift from the same Mission's Theological Aid funds has been received, amounting to $250 local currency, "to provide for building up the needed library for the Department of Country Church."

Friends will join with the members of the School of Theology in their pleasure and appreciation because of these evidences of good will and the added strength it means to the efforts of the University to serve the church.

ARE YOU THE OWNER?

Mrs. Shields would like to find the owner to the following, which were left with Mrs. Evans some months ago, and have now been turned over to Mrs. Shields:-

one white hot water jug with violets on it.

EMPIRE DAY

As Empire Day falls on Sunday this year, Saturday, May 23rd, is being celebrated in the usual way by Children's Sports. These are to be held in the grounds of the British Consulate, beginning with tea at 3:15 p.m., a speech at 4:00, and the Sports at 4:15. Races are provided for children of all ages, from toddlers up, and one race is being run for veterans of seventeen and over.

A cordial invitation is extended by the British Community of Tsinan to all friends to attend this Empire Day celebration.

TENNIS MATCH, STAFF vs. STUDENTS.

There was held on Wednesday afternoon of this week a very lively and spirited tennis match between the staff and the student body. Although the meet resulted in a victory for the staff by three victories and no losses, it was by no means an easy win, for the students put up a splendid fight from first to last.

The actual sets went as follows:

Dr. Li and Dr. Wheeler vs. Mr. Hsu Mu Hsien and Mr. Ch'iu Ching Cheng, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Dr. McAll and Mr. Parker vs. Mr. Chang Ch'ing Te and Mr. Kang En P'ei, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Mr. McHardy and Mr. Harrisson, vs. Mr. Chu Pang Jen and Mr. Cheng Wen Yeh, 6-4, 7-5, 2-6.

JAPANESE WIN FIRST BALL GAME.

In the first baseball game of the season, played on Wednesday afternoon on the Japanese diamond, the Japanese won a decisive victory over the American nine. There was plenty of heavy hitting throughout the game, and enough errors to spoil the fielding scores for the entire season. Each side tried out three pitchers, but none of the twirlers looked like big league material. Still, it was an enjoyable game, in which both players and spectators seemed to be having a mighty good time. The season is still young, and undoubtedly both teams will improve a lot with practice. On the line-up of the Western nine were Milbourne, Cannon, Smith, Hammond, and Brooks, of the Settlement, and Lair, Stanley, Cady, Heimberger, Adolph, Harkness, Shields, Garside, and Chin of the University.

The next game of the season will probably be played on the University athletic field on May 30th at 2:30 p.m. At that time we hope to even up the score. Spectators are invited. All baseball artists are asked to remember practice on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

ENGLISH CLUB COMPLETES VERY SUCCESSFUL SEASON.

With an unusually excellent program which was featured by sketches from Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" presented in most creditable style by one of Mrs. Payne's English classes, the Upper English Club on yesterday evening completed a most successful year of work. As a result of the activities of the Club the students have not only been provided with a most stimulating method of improving their English, but have also gained much in leadership and cooperation. Warmest praise is due Mr. Parker, Mrs. Payne, and Mr. Baker for their assistance in the organization and direction of the Club.

NEWS ITEMSNEWS OF DR. BALME.

The latest news of Dr. Balme indicates that his present address is Henwood Farm, Ashford, Kent, England, where he is enjoying a period of real rest. Mrs. Balme reports that the President is enjoying golf daily, and cycling with the children. We understand that the ceilings and doorways of this quaint rural retreat are responsible for the fact that he now moves about with permanently bowed head! The recent meeting of the National Christian Council at Shanghai appointed Dr. Balme as one of the delegates to the approaching Universal Conference on Life and Work, to be held at Stockholm.

MEETING OF FIELD BOARD OF MANAGERS.

The annual meeting of the University Field Board of Managers will take place during the coming week, the first session to be constituted on Wednesday morning, June 3rd, at 9:30.

DR. J. PERCY BRUCE HONORED.

The daily press of the past week contained an item of news which is of the greatest interest to a wide circle of friends of Dr. J. Percy Bruce, former president of Chee-loo. After careful consideration of the qualifications of all possible occupants of the post he has been appointed "Professor of Chinese in the School of Oriental Studies, London University." A cablegram has been sent by his former associates in the University, offering heartiest congratulations. Long may he live to enjoy this well-merited honour, and to make further contributions to the study of things Chinese!

KING — FILLMER

A very pretty wedding ceremony took place in the St. Paul's Chapel on Tuesday afternoon when Miss Phyllis Kathleen King, the eldest daughter of H.B.M. Consul General and Mrs. H. King, was united in marriage to Mr. Percy Thomas Fillmer of Singapore. The bride was given away by her father and was accompanied by her younger sister Miss Dorothy King as bridesmaid, while Mr. A. H. Strange of the Asiatic Petroleum Company acted as best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Hunter.

Following the ceremony the wedding party, with the many invited guests, met at the Consulate General, where an elaborate reception was held and the guests had an opportunity to extend their good wishes to the bride and groom and bid them farewell before their departure in the evening on an extended wedding tour. After visiting England they will return to the Far East.

INTELLIGENCE TEST GIVEN TO STUDENTS

For some time the Department of Education has been at work on the preparation and experimental trying out of an intelligence test suitable for our entering classes. Yesterday morning this test was given to the entire student body of the Arts College, and as far as can be judged from first indications proved itself quite satisfactory, though certain minor improvements have shown themselves to be advisable. The student body responded well and took a real interest in making the best possible showing on the test. The Department of Education will make an intensive study of the results of the test in an endeavor to find out from a scientific standpoint just how valuable such a test would be in predicting the probable future scholastic standards of candidates who submit to the test.

EMPIRE DAY CELEBRATION

It is an open question whether the real boys and girls, or the "grown up boys and girls" of the Tsinan community most enjoyed the annual Empire Day Celebration, which was held last Saturday at the British Consulate, and at which the British community in general, and Consul General and Mrs. King in particular, were the hosts. Those in charge of the arrangements and the sports handled things in a superb manner, and all the events of the afternoon's program were carried through in most satisfactory fashion. And it must be added that those who love to satisfy the yearnings of the inner man had every cause for rejoicing over the quality and the bountifulness of the refreshments.

All the children of the community participated with zest in the wide variety of sports, and many of them demonstrated a very high quality of skill and pluck. Even the grown-ups had one race to themselves;— though some of the men who displayed the most hopeless clumsiness in the art of threading a needle were heard to boast afterward that their awkwardness was merely an indication of the superior housekeeping qualities of their wives. The results of the different contest were as follows:—

60 yds. Flat Race (11-12 yrs.)

JAPANESE WIN AGAIN

In the second baseball game of the season, played yesterday afternoon on the University field, the Japanese again won a decisive victory. Well, we'll hope for revenge next Saturday, June 6th, when we play them on the Japanese field at 3:30 p.m. All players are urged to come out for practice regularly.

DR. AND MRS. EVANS NEARING THE U.S.

Through the kindness of Mr. Baker we have received the following letter written by Dr. and Mrs. P. S. Evans aboard the S.S. Canada on May 20th, as their ship was nearing Kobe:—

Dear Tsinan Friends:—

We left on so short a notice— only twelve hours after the final word came, and only two days after we thought we might be able to go— that we had no time for good-bye calls. Please forgive us.

May you each have a very happy summer.

You will be interested to know that we saw Mrs. Allen in Shanghai. She and her husband and little boy were kind enough to come to see us off.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur, and Mrs. Lyon and her daughter, are on board. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur go only as far as Japan. Mrs. Lyon goes to see her son married in America on June 19th. There are only one or two other missionaries on board as far as we know.

Isabel sends her good-bye for some years to come, to all her friends in Tsinan. The rest of us hope to return in September. With thanks for all your kindnesses, and with heartiest greetings.

Yours affectionately,
/s/ Philip and Mary Evans

DR. BOSTWICK TO VISIT TSINAN

Dr. Arthur Elmore Bostwick, librarian of St. Louis Public Library, will arrive in Tsinan on June 7th, for a two-day stay as guest of the Tsinan Library Association. Dr. Bostwick is in China as an official delegate from the American Library Association. It is expected that after he has surveyed the library conditions in different parts of China he will make a report to the Sino-American Boxer In-Semnity Board, with a hope that a part of the money will be used for establishing public libraries in China. While in Tsinan he will be a guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Heeren.

IMPRESSIONS OF THE N.C.C. CONFERENCE

Dr. MacRae has very kindly given us the following summary of some of the most important discussions and actions which took place during the recent N.C.C. Conference in Shanghai:-

The third annual meeting of the National Christian Council, which has just completed its sessions in Shanghai, took place in an atmosphere peculiar to the present situation as regards the progress of the Christian movement. The keynote of the Council's sessions was one of distinct optimism. Dr. David YU, the chairman, who has just returned from America after a year of enforced rest, in his opening address touched upon the following questions: (1) The world seems to be moving toward another war - if so, what is the church going to do about it? (2) China has suffered for ten years from militarism and civil war - what is to be the attitude of the church toward this situation? (3) How shall we deal with the continued smuggling of arms and narcotics into China, and the alarming increase in opium cultivation? He looks upon the anti-Christian agitation as a reason for encouragement rather than despair, and maintained that it should be met in a friendly spirit. The sincerity of its leaders ought to be taken for granted. He believed that their critical attitude toward our religion was leading them to study the Bible, and urged that if met in the right way the result of the movement would be both their good and ours.

In general one could not escape certain impressions to the Council and its work. (1) In spite of marked differences such as arise between Chinese and foreigners, conservatives and liberals, between those interested in various departments of the church's work, differences in attitude toward the problem of foreign relations, and the like, it is evident that distinct progress is being made toward genuine united effort on the part of the Council as a whole. It is now possible to recognize and speak openly of differences while still retaining mutual good-will. The Council has begun to put into effect the admonition of Dr. T. T. Lew at the conference of 1922, that we should "agree to differ but resolve to love". (2) That, due to the excellent work of standing committees and the various secretaries of the National Christian Council there has been developed a growing appreciation of the problems which confront the church at the present time. The Council felt compelled to take definite steps toward the production of literature which will on the one hand expound the real message of Christianity to China, and on the other hand stimulate creative thinking within the bounds of its own membership. Keen interest was evinced in the task of the country church. One missionary reported that in connection with his own church a number of the very best Chinese pastors were now looking by preference toward work in the rural districts. The fight against opium created lively discussion. It was pointed out that whereas formerly men must be addicted to the habit in order to suffer from the consequences of the opium traffic, owing to the fact that the proceeds of the traffic are wanted for military operations any of our citizens and church members may be called upon to suffer. Some pastors have found difficulty in applying discipline to church members who had been compelled by force to grow opium. The illicit traffic in firearms is also closely linked with this evil. The Council was emphatic in the belief that the moral issues involved in the anti-opium movement are unspeakably grave, and pointed out that "the chief need at the moment is that an outstanding leader be found to put some of the best years of his life into the campaign. It resolved to urge Mr. T. Z. Woo to give most earnest thought to the question as to whether God is not calling him at this time to put his strength into this service." (3) The church is gradually finding its way towards some means of adapting its life more closely to the needs of China. One suggestion of distinct value which has already been put into effect with good results in certain localities, is likely to evoke response generally throughout the church, namely, the observance of a day of thanksgiving in the autumn about the time of the eighth moon festival. The proposal was made by one delegate that the Chinese classics be used as supplementary material alongside the Old Testament in the Christian church. It was resolved that in connection with religious education in schools and colleges much more emphasis should be placed upon the literature and culture of China. The standing committees are called upon to investigate the question of a suitable form of memorial for ancestors in connection with the family life of our Christians. (4) The question of "foreign relations" is one which bulks largely in the thought of Christians, both Chinese and foreign, in China today. It was pointed out that there is a widespread conviction that Christian forces depend ~~maxxxxxxxx~~ upon and are in some organic relation to foreign governments, which have established their position in China, in part at least, through force of arms or political methods. A study of the actual facts in this situation would seem to be of vital importance, that the complete autonomy of the Chinese church may become a reality; that it may soon be independent of all political and economic organizations and representative of a spiritual religion rooted and grounded in love.

Some of the more important discussions of the Council may be summarized in the following way:

1. The church is called upon to set forth the truth that Jesus Christ reveals the Father, that He is the Way, the Truth, and the Life, that in Him there is salvation for men and nations. We have no cause to apologize for this truth, or to fear for it. We welcome all honest inquiry. We know that even bitter attacks and wilful misrepresentations cannot alter the facts on which the Christian Church rests. Triumphant witness to truth depends upon the personal experience of the living Christ in His church today. Further, the great truths seen by China's sages come from the same source of all truth, which is God. The church needs to use far more largely the light which is to be used in Chinese literature. The Council through its committee hopes to make special studies in this field during the coming year, so that all that is of worth in Chinese culture and customs may be retained and passed on unimpaired and even enriched to the new generation. We ask all who teach to consider the content of their religious teaching, to use the very best methods and pay heed to their own spiritual lives, that through them the truth may be passed on to their pupils. Humbly and with confidence we call our brethren to set forth courageously the truths which have been proved in our own lives and by which the nations may be saved. Truth is our greatest friend if we follow her, our implacable enemy if we turn away from her.

2. It is essential that the church in China make clear that it is a spiritual body owing allegiance to God our Father and Jesus Christ its living head. To the Christian, freedom is not lack of all restraint, for true freedom means the increasing substitution of inward for outward control. The Christian religion then can never be forced upon a man or a nation. We feel called upon to consider carefully whether in any degree we have departed from this truth in our teaching of religion. There is still a lack of effective Chinese leadership in the Church;— we accordingly call upon the churches, missions, and institutions of higher learning to study this question in order to see how far the hindrance lies in the foreign type of organization which gives little scope to the genius of the Chinese people, and how far the control of work by foreign organizations and finance creates conditions unacceptable to those who might come forward. Bold action is needed in providing larger opportunity, in re-shaping policy, and in helping the young leaders to work their way through the initial difficulties. Above all it is in comradeship, in the closest fellowship between elder and younger, missionary and Chinese, that this problem will be solved. These are days of transition. The path to freedom always involves grave risks, there is a price to pay which we cannot evade.

3. The Christian church is the creation of the God of love. Its every act and thought should be an expression of love, for Christ first loved us and gave Himself for us, and we have no right to be called by His name unless we love one another and all men. If we can show this love by close personal relationships between missionaries and Chinese, learned and unlearned, master and servants, inside the church, we thereby become a bright and shining light to all the nation. If we can meet those who criticize us, with patience and forgiveness and a great desire to help them even in humble ways we may bring them to understand that Christianity is not an aggressive and dangerous power in the midst of the nation, but rather that it points the way to harmony. Christianity seems to many today to express itself by gunboats and armies instead of gentleness and forgiveness. We assert that the aggressive manifestation of western civilization is no part of the Christian gospel. We must admit that no country is truly Christian, and that many so-called are still in their relations with other countries denying Christ. We are planning a careful study of this matter in order to be able to see clearly what, in the present situation in China, is the expression of the Christian way of love. We further believe that when foreign governments carry out aggressive designs in China or fail to show due respect to her as a member of the family of nations, Christian love calls for plain speaking, especially by missionaries and the Christian citizens of the country concerned. In the past it cannot be denied that there has been failure in this matter. The forward movement of the church needs to include a determined effort ~~of~~ to improve the condition of workers and the relation between employers and employed as well as a fearless handling of all that is contrary to love in social and industrial life.

4. In such a forward movement the Chinese church still needs the cooperation of its missionary friends, less in the future than in the past as those in authority, increasingly as comrades willing to give the highest gifts of scholarship, Christian experience, and brotherly love in the spirit of service. For such a movement the generous giving of Chinese and foreign friends is needed, but the gifts should be made available in such a way that they impose no restraint on the free movement of the living church. Thus will the missionary movement to China lose itself in the forward movement of the Christian Church in China.

It was suggested that among the characteristic activities of the movement should be included such as the following:-

1. The blameless life of the individual; maintenance of church life and fellowship and the exhibition of such personal relationships within the church as will make plain to all the meaning of Christ's way of life.
2. Continued proclamation of the gospel without patronage or compulsion, especially by each individual in his own sphere, that Christ may be seen to be the Saviour of all men.
3. Retreats in which an intimate fellowship is developed in the study of the Bible, in prayer and in facing the deeper issues of our common life and work.
4. The improvement of religious education in school and church that it may meet the actual need of the student and enable him clearly to grasp the meaning of Christianity.
5. A large output of literature, produced under no compulsion but that of the Spirit, to meet the many new questions arising today.
6. Patient and loving cooperation between missionary and Chinese in seeking a solution of the intricate problems involved in this transition stage in the church's life.
7. A thorough and sympathetic study of Chinese culture and greater emphasis thereon when we teach and preach.
8. A fresh study of China's external relations and a determined attempt to apply the principles of Christ in this field.

9. A united, vigorous campaign against social evils which bring the people into bondage, and particularly against opium and militarism.

10. A new attempt to work out the meaning of Christian love in home, factory, business, and in every sphere of life since all these must be claimed as fields for the actual expression of the principles of our religion.

Some striking expressions heard at the Conference:

"The greatest calamity will come to the Conference if we pat ourselves on the back".

"Our affirmations are much more often right than our negations."

"People are sometimes very patient under suffering but not patient with one another."

"When passion for truth causes people to love less than they ought, something has gone wrong with their idea of truth."

"No man can dare to love without being in danger."

"The church today is like an empty kitchen. We have plenty of utensils and cocks, but where is the food?"

NEWS ITEMSUNIVERSITY BOARDS IN SESSION.

This week the University has been busy with numerous important meetings, at least three of the University Boards being in session most of the week. The Field Board of Managers met on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday; the Departmental Committee of the Field Board for the School of Theology met on Wednesday and Thursday, and the Council of University Entrance was in session on Thursday and Friday. A large number of out-of-town members of these various Boards have been in Tsinan during the week, among them being the following:- Rev. Paul R. Abbott, A. P. M., Chefoo; Dr. Clemintina Bash, A. P. M., Peking; Rev. A. G. Castleton, E. B. M., Choutsun; Mr. J. T. Flemming, C. P. M., Weihwei; Pastor Feng Pao Kuang, English Baptist T'ung Hui, Tsingchowfu; Miss Louise Hobart, W. F. M. S., Peking; Rev. Kuan Yü Chen, Kung Li Hui, Techow; Mr. Harold S. Matthews, Porter Middle School, Techow; Rev. E. W. Wallace, China Christian Educational Assn., Shanghai; Mr. Y. H. Wang, Techow; Mr. R. C. Wells, A. P. M., Weihsien. The University has every reason to be sincerely grateful to all these members of the various Boards who have laid aside their own pressing and important duties for this week in order to assist with plans for the continued growth and development of Cheeloo. We will give in next week's Bulletin a summary of some of the important actions of the various Boards.

COMMENCEMENT CEREMONIES

Most prominent among the varied activities which mark the approaching close of the school year will be the ceremonies connected with the graduation of the students who are this term completing their university course. Only a small number, nine students from the Arts College and one from Theology, are graduating at this time, for most of the 1925 class completed its work at the close of the autumn semester and received diplomas in January.

The Baccalaureate Service will be held tomorrow morning in the Kumler Memorial Chapel, beginning at 9:45 a.m. All members of the staff, together with the members of the choir, should assemble in McCormick Hall promptly at 9:15 a.m. and will march in academic procession to the church. The order of the Baccalaureate Service will be as follows:-

1. Organ Voluntary
2. Processional Hymn, No. 1.
3. Invocation - General Confession - Lord's Prayer
4. Hymn, No. 371.
5. Responsive Reading, Selection 21, led by Mr. Chou Kan T'ing
6. Offering - Violin Offertory, Dr. Waddell
7. Selection by Choir, Psalm 117.
8. Scripture Reading, Dr. Li T'ien Lu
9. Hymn, No. 183.
10. Baccalaureate Sermon, "Invisible Forces",
The Acting President, Rev. J. D. MacRae, D.D.
11. Prayer of Consecration, Dr. MacRae
12. Benediction
13. Recessional Hymn, No. 262.

The Graduation Ceremony will be conducted in the Assembly Hall of the Institute at 10 a.m. on Thursday, June 11th. The commencement address will be delivered by Dr. Lucius C. Porter of Yenching University, who has but recently returned to China at the expiration of two most successful years of service as the head of the Department of Chinese of Columbia University. There will also be short addresses by the provincial civil and military governors and the commissioner of education. The valedictory address on behalf of the graduating class will be given by Dr. Hou Hwai Li.

In the evening of June 7th there will be a farewell Chinese dinner for the staff, graduates, and alumni. Although final arrangements have not yet been made the dinner will probably be served in the assembly hall of the medical school. A charge of one dollar each will be made. All members of staff are asked to send their reservations to Mr. Ch'in Yao T'ing or Mr. Lo Shih Ch'i.

ATHLETES RETURN FROM MANILA

This week Mr. Li Wen Ch'ang and the six Cheeloo athletes who represented China in the Far Eastern Olympic have returned to Tsinan. All are looking very hale, and report that they had a most delightful trip. Although China is rapidly coming to the front in the athletic world the games at Manila demonstrated that she is as yet not quite the equal of our neighbors in the Pacific, so we hope our students will now start in with the determination to bring China to the forefront in Peking two years hence.

MEETING OF TSINAN FOREIGN SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The attention of all members of the Tsinan Foreign School Association is called to the following notice, which has been sent out by the Chairman this week!:-

"At the request of the School Committee, or Board, a meeting of the Tsinan Foreign School Association is hereby called for Thursday evening, June 11th, 1925, at 8:15 o'clock, in Room 333 of Bergen Hall (this year's meeting place of the Tsinan Literary Society) to consider the following agenda:

1. "Report from the School Board on the Finance of the School for 1925 to 1927".
2. "Curriculum."
3. "Bye-laws."
4. "Teachers' Contract."

"Since No. 1 seems to call for "immediate action" it is urged that all who possibly can attend this meeting of the Association."

WEEK-END VISITORS.

Miss Annie I. Lowson of Edinburgh, and Dr. Watson of Aberdeen, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Cochran over the week-end. These two ladies are spending a few months in China and were very much interested in the work of the University.

DEATH OF MISS YEN.

The death took place, from scarlet fever, on Wednesday night, of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Yen Pin, of the staff of the Bacteriological Laboratory in the Medical School. The members of the University Staff extend their sincere sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Yen Pin in their sorrow.

A short memorial service was held at eleven o'clock on Thursday morning.

KING'S BIRTHDAY RECEPTION.

On June 3rd, the birthday of H. M. King George V, a reception was held at the British Consulate from 12 to 1 p.m., at which a large part of the Tsinan community was present.

DEATH OF MRS. C. V. REEDER.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Reeder, of the A.P.M., Weihsien, were deeply grieved to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Reeder, who died at her home early Monday morning. The entire University community extends its profoundest sympathies to Mr. Reeder and the two small children.

DEPARTURE OF THE MOSSES, PARKERS, AND SAMMY COCHRAN

Monday saw another exodus of Tsinan residents. Dr. and Mrs. Mosse and Sammy Cochran left by the morning train for Tsingtao, en route for Shanghai, and the evening train took the Parker family in the same direction. Mrs. Cochran is accompanying the party as far as Shanghai. Our heartiest good wishes go with them all on their homeward way. We shall expect to hear from them en route, whether in the shape of more cross-word puzzles or limericks we are not as yet in a position to prophesy. Dr. and Mrs. Mosse will spend some time in the U. S. on their way to England. Mr. and Mrs. Parker sail by the "President Jefferson" direct for home. Sammy Cochran, who is by no means one of the least important members of our community, has accompanied the Mosse family, going home to enter school. To him we extend best wishes for his school and college days.

DR. TUCKER AND MISS KING LEAVING

Dr. Tucker and Miss King, who, in the course of their travels have been able to spend the past year in Cheeloo, are leaving for Hong Kong, Formosa, Manila, and other interesting places. Their work has been much appreciated. They have made their distinct contribution to the life of the University. We understand that they have been called upon to pose for photographs without number during the closing days of the term. We regret that they feel called upon to move on and thus are not in a position to remain longer with us.

CHEELoo MAGAZINE ARRIVES

The Cheeloo Magazine for June arrived on Thursday, just in time to catch the staff members before they began to separate for the holidays.

THE UNIVERSITY SPRING SEMESTER CLOSES

Events in China have a habit of interfering with school calendars and various public functions. The work of the University continued without interruption for some days after the sympathetic movement among students in connection with the regrettable incidents at Shanghai had touched other centers. Examinations for the graduating class in Arts and Theology were completed and the general examinations throughout the University were well under way. During the past week-end, however, the students of Cheeloo felt compelled to join in the general demonstration. The remaining examinations are indefinitely postponed, to be given when they can be arranged for by the University. The commencement exercises, to the relief of those who do not welcome mortar-boards, academic garb, and long speeches on a hot June morning, had to be dispensed with. In spite of the strain put upon staff and students alike by the course of events, and notwithstanding methods of demonstration to which full approval cannot be given, it is reason for gratitude that the spirit of good fellowship and a desire for mutual understanding have been preserved throughout.

AMERICAN VISITORS

On Monday night Dr. A. E. Cohn, of the Rockefeller Institute, New York, accompanied by Dr. O. H. Robertson of the Peking Union Medical College, and Mr. Roger Greene, of the China Medical Board, arrived in Tsinan and spent two days as the guests of Dr. Cochran. Dr. Cohn is a distinguished specialist in heart diseases and gave a most interesting lecture to the Medical Faculty on Tuesday evening.

On Wednesday night Dr. J. L. Harvey, of Canton, arrived from Peking for a short visit.

Dr. D. J. Evans was in Tsinan this week, arriving on Wednesday night, and leaving on the express this morning. He has had a rather long and varied experience since coming to China with work in the Medical School as his objective, but it seems assured now that he will at last be able to join the University community. He is planning to move to Tsinan the last week in July, taking up his residence in the Ingle house. All who know Dr. and Mrs. Evans are looking eagerly forward to the prospect of having these two delightful young people with us.

MEETING OF COUNCIL ON UNIVERSITY ENTRANCE

On June 5th the Council on University Entrance met to consider entrance examinations for the present year, and to examine the applications and reports of inspection in the case of schools desiring to be accredited with the University. It was voted to accredit tentatively the following schools: Breeze Academy, Weihsien; Jefferson Academy, Tunghsien; Chen-Shansi Memorial Academy, Tainan; Porter Middle School, Ichchow; Westminster College, Chuanchow, Fukien; and Bridgman Academy, Peking.

WHO NEEDS THIS ACADEMIC COSTUME?

Dr. George D. Lowry, of the Methodist Mission, Peking, is returning to America this spring and wishes to sell his cap and gown. Write him if you are interested.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM THE FIELD BOARD

A formal greeting was received from the new Board of Governors and reciprocated by the Field Board of Managers. The greeting reads: "From this initial organization meeting of the Governors, very cordial greetings of goodwill and felicitations for their future work were extended to the Field Board of Managers, to President Balme, to all the officers and teachers of the University, and to the whole body of alumni and students, with all of whom the Governors pledge themselves to cooperate earnestly and loyally for the continued development of this great and growing University."

It is evidence of the general esteem in which Dr. and Mrs. Neal were held that while a suggestion came from the Board of Governors with reference to a memorial, the Senate at its recent meeting had put forward a similar suggestion. It had been proposed that this memorial might conveniently take the form of a new student's building for the University. The Field Board of Managers, while sympathetic toward this proposal, were impressed with the immediate need for endowment which will make possible the further employment of more well-qualified Chinese teachers. Accordingly they made the alternative proposal that a Memorial Endowment might be created.

Provision was made whereby the graduates of the School of Arts and Science during the year 1925 would be eligible for the B.A. degree after presentation of an approved thesis, in accordance with stipulated standards and conditions. The whole question of degrees is being considered by the various schools, together with the new By-laws of the Field Board of Managers. This question will be dealt with by the Senate and Field Board at an early date.

The following minute regarding policy was passed by the Board and will be of general interest: "That in the realization of the purpose of the University as stated in the By-laws of the Board of Governors: 'The purpose of Shantung Christian University shall be the advancement of the Kingdom of God through higher education of a distinctly Christian character, having in view the development of a capable and consecrated leadership for the Christian church and the community in China', and in view of the urgent necessity for an adequate presentation of the Christian Message to the China of today, as it is affected by such new movements as the intellectual awakening, the social instability, and the rising tide of nationalism, the Field Board of Managers believes that there is a call for special emphasis upon the following matters:-

1. A fresh study of the relation of the University to (a) the growing demand in China for the inclusion in higher education of the permanent elements of Chinese culture and thought; (b) the changing and expanding needs of the Church and Christian community; and (c) the distinctive contribution which the University is called upon to make in the field of Christian education in China as a whole.

2. The continued use of the Chinese language as the chief medium of instruction, and the recognition of the background of Chinese life,--social, cultural, and economic, which is in harmony with the policy of the University throughout its history. This requires that foreign members of the staff should be given adequate facilities for becoming familiar with modern Chinese terminology and literature in the subjects which they teach, and to obtain first-hand knowledge of the life of the country.

3. The securing of large numbers of thoroughly qualified Chinese members of staff, and of effective Chinese participation in the administration of the University. To this end it is necessary that competent Chinese should be sought and attracted to the University, that funds should be available for their support, and that the conditions under which they work should be such as to afford them sufficient opportunity for the exercise of initiative and to enable them to make their fullest contribution to the life of the University."

The Field Board approved the appointment of Dr. H. P. Lair as Acting Treasurer of the University.

AUTUMN RETREAT

Before the members of staff scatter for the summer vacation we wish to call attention to the usual Autumn Retreat. As the autumn semester begins on Thursday, September 17th, the most suitable date for the Retreat would appear to be the previous week-end, viz. Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, September 11th, 12th, and 13th. Will all those interested make a place in their plans to be present with the group as Ling Lung Shan at that time? There is a distinct call for a fresh study of our University life in all its aspects. Each one of us is anxious that this University should embody the spirit of Christ and through its various activities present His message to China. For the consideration of these vital things we need quiet and time for fellowship. A sub-committee of the Committee on Religious Life is at work preparing a subject to be taken as the main theme for Conference. Announcement of this will be made later.

ILLUSTRATED BOOKLET.

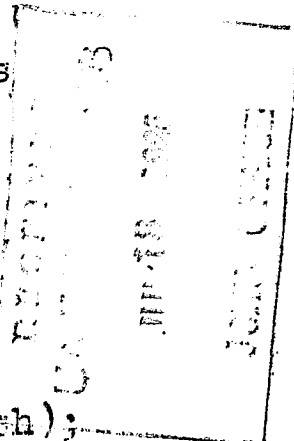

A notice is being sent all members of staff this week, asking them to indicate the number of copies of the proposed illustrated booklet descriptive of the University which it is hoped to issue this summer. Everyone is urgently requested to send this information to the committee in charge of the booklet, so they will be able to estimate correctly the number of copies which should be printed.

BULLETIN STAFF TO TAKE A REST

This will be the last copy of the Weekly Bulletin until along toward the end of the summer. We wish all of you a most enjoyable vacation; free from sand-flies, mosquitoes, and the other little annoyances of North China; as well as safety from the more serious matters of sickness and disturbance and lawlessness.

NEWS ITEMSTHE AUTUMN TERM

After the somewhat disturbed and uncertain conditions of the summer months, with their effect upon students and schools generally it is gratifying to look forward to a good attendance as we begin the autumn term. With the exception of the usual number who have for various reasons been compelled to drop out of their courses, our old students have returned during the past few days. We welcome new students in the different departments of the university to the number of well over a hundred. Enrollment is not yet complete as this issue of the Bulletin is being prepared, but we hope to give complete figures next week. There are certain aspects of our work as a university which will call for special emphasis:

1. Under existing conditions it is essential that we as staff and students should devise new forms of constructive service for the good of China. While we shall apply ourselves diligently to the work of the curriculum we must seek to equip our students for healthy citizenship. In a time when it is necessary to withstand the pressure of excessive nationalism and mistaken patriotism we shall best accomplish our real purpose in Christian education by finding forms of self-expression which will make some positive contribution to the life of the nation and the growth of the Kingdom.

2. In a peculiar way we are called upon to maintain Christian unity and fellowship while the air is full of questions upon which we differ widely and feel keenly. Many issues which hitherto seemed somewhat academic and theoretical have now become questions for everyday conduct. This constitutes a test which we must meet. Cheeloo by reason of the composition of its staff and students has in this respect a unique opportunity. Can we face its challenge? It will call for friendliness, mutual forbearance and an atmosphere of general goodwill and trust in one another.

3. We ought to examine our policies as a university to know what changes are to be made. It is possible that through following too closely general tendencies in education we may fail to discern the distinct contribution which Cheeloo has to make to China. Let us not hesitate to adventure and to blaze new trails. A careful study should be made of the needs of our constituencies in relation to school, church and society generally.

STAFF RETREAT.

The annual Staff Retreat which took place during the past week-end, Sept. 11 - 14, was distinctly successful. The absence on furlough of some who were accustomed to frequent it, sickness on the part of others, and the rather unfavourable weather prospects on Friday were calculated to fill us with dismay, but Saturday morning brought characteristic September sunshine with a good attendance throughout the two days. We enjoyed our fellowship to the full. Our common meal, which this year consisted of foreign food only for all parties, was a most enjoyable occasion. We are indebted to Mrs. Wheeler for her capable direction of the commissariat. As we walked and talked or sat together in informal discussions, all were conscious of the benefits received. The wish was often expressed that such occasions might come more frequently. One marked characteristic of all the discussions was that while it was entirely frank and while plain truths were not held back, yet the spirit shown was altogether admirable. Everyone was bent on constructive and helpful criticism where criticism seemed a necessity. It is impossible to gather up the results of the Retreat as a whole. Although no definite findings were drawn up yet certain principles emerged from time to time in our discussions:

(1) The difficulty of being Christian today. It is sometimes supposed that to be Christian now is easier than at an earlier stage in the history of Protestant Christianity in China, when actual persecution and hardship were apt to follow any confession of allegiance to Christ, but as a matter of fact, speaking from the point of view of a college campus, the difficulty of Christian profession has only increased. For one thing temptations are of a much more real realm of the intellectual life the increasing number of -isms is almost staggering, while spiritual values are apt to be overshadowed by the material.

(2) That new occasions for natural and friendly intercourse among staff and students must be found. There must be a rediscovery of the individual student on our campus. Many excellent suggestions were made as to ways in which this might be accomplished. Without doubt the initiative must come from our faculty, whose duty it is to make the first approach.

varied character. In the moral sphere this is evident: in the

(3) The chief obstacles to Christian unity would appear to be (a) Obliteration of their first vision on the part of those who shape the course of our Christian endeavour in China today. It is a time for re-examination of first principles and of our primary purpose. The more clearly that purpose is grasped, the nearer will we come to a unity which is real; (b) Limitations involved in our human relationships. It is unnecessary to point out to what an extent racial and national differences have entered in to destroy Christian fellowship; (c) Misunderstandings as to the relationship of Christianity to governments. There is a tendency to accuse the Christian cause of association with the methods of force which have been applied in China by foreign powers. Guns and the Gospel are associated together. It was pointed out that Mohammedanism and Buddhism, which seem to have taken a strong grip upon the life of China, have entered largely through peaceable and natural channels, while Christianity seemed often to be associated with force and with international treaties. Hence the vital necessity of making it abundantly clear that Christianity and its message stand alone, apart from governments and what they represent.

(4) The Dangers of Nationalism. While history seems to show that it is not possible to pass from a less advanced national consciousness to the stage of internationalism without passing through that of nationalism, yet an over-accentuated nationalism is bound to result in growing self-interest and disregard for the rights of other nations. Our task as Christians is to lead the nation to realize that the ultimate good of their people is bound up with that of the world at large and to persuade western nations to apply the spirit of Christian brotherhood to the present-day situation in which the rights of China as a weaker power are always in danger of being disregarded.

(5) While the question of whether existing treaties are properly described as "unequal" was not discussed, it was urged that since these treaties, in many cases, have been in existence for long periods during which rapid changes have taken place both in the internal life of China and in her relationships to foreign powers, it has now become necessary to revise those which are to remain. In view of the bearing of this whole issue upon our central theme of Christian unity it was felt that delay by the governments concerned in undertaking such revision is a great mistake.

(6) That we should examine carefully the extent to which special privileges enjoyed by missionaries stand in the way of the successful planting of Christianity in the soil of China.

As we begin the new term we are being put to a severe test as to whether our own religious life, individual and corporate, will be maintained at so high a level that we shall refuse to become so absorbed in schedules and courses and committees as to fail in our primary work of building up our students in Christian character.

FOREIGN SUNDAY SCHOOL.

We are asked to announce that on Sunday, September 20th, at 11:15 a.m. the Foreign Sunday School will begin its session. It is hoped that all children will be present for the opening of the year's work.

REPORT OF EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE IN TAIYUANFU, SHANSI.

The Annual Meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Education was held in Taiyuanfu, Shansi August 16-22. It was attended by 218 delegates while over 700 were expected. There are a good many things about the conference that are of interest and worthy of being fully reported, but at this time there is scarcely enough space for even such matters dealt with in the conference as have a direct bearing upon Christian schools or Christian education in China.

It was generally known ^{by} the passengers as our train was speeding on towards the conference that there would be lively agitations in Taiyuan for a national policy of nationalistic education in China by members of what is called the Association for Promotion of Nationalistic Education. Therefore, it might be said that the delegates of the Christian schools had in some measure been prepared to see without much surprise what happened in the conference a few days later.

A resolution was passed in the Sectional meeting of Secondary Education to the effect that the Chinese Government should be asked to negotiate with the Diplomatic Corps in Peking with a view to revising treaties relating to the power of control of education in China so as to hasten the early registration of the Christian schools and the conformation of such schools to the promulgated system of Education. The reasons for such an action were these:-

1. Christian Schools under the aegis of foreign treaties are reluctant to conform to the regulations of the Educational Board to register with the authorities of the Chinese Government.
2. The educational system varies greatly among the Christian schools and their curriculum is not in keeping with the principles of the new system of education.
3. Christian schools can not accept the conditions as laid down for them by the Chinese authorities because this involves foreign relations.

The procedure as suggested by the resolution is as follows:-

1. The Annual Meeting of the N.A.A.E. should request the Government to instruct the Ministries of Education and Foreign Affairs that they should call the attention of the Diplomatic Corps to the necessity of a revision of the treaties.
2. The Annual Meeting should advise all the Christian schools in China to get themselves registered in accordance with the regulations of the Board of Education.
3. To advise the Christian Churches to eliminate of their own accord all the inferior schools under their auspices.

The proposed revision of the Constitution regarding the membership fee of Primary schools becoming members of the Association furnished occasion for the radical elements to move a resolution to the effect that Mission schools should not be admitted to the Association as institutional members. Here below are reproduced the original resolution on this point and its amendments:

Original Motion:-

Mission schools and organizations and all other schools and organizations established by foreigners should not be admitted to this Association as institutional members. Such members already admitted may be allowed to remain in the Association, but should not have the privilege of being elected on the Board of Directors of the Association.

Amendments:-

1. Schools established by foreigners and schools which propagate religion should not be admitted

2. Schools established by foreigners which have not yet secured government recognition or registration, or schools which have for their purpose political aggression, or which compel students to subscribe to political doctrines or religious creeds, can not be introduced to the Association as its institutional members.

Heated discussions followed in which some shameful charges were hurled at the mission schools and their purposes. But fortunately not a few prominent members of the Association spoke in refutation of most of the charges, and advocated more moderate policy. Finally the above resolution and its amendments were successively put to vote, and as it must take three-fourths majority to change the constitution, none of them were passed by the Association.

At the last session of the conference, the resolution as passed by the Section on Administration of Education entitled "A Special Chapter on Education in the Constitution of the Republic of China", was referred to the Educational Meeting for final action, in which Article 4 reads as follows:

"Education (of the Republic of China) should transcend all affiliations of religion and political parties. Therefore, no religion or political doctrines should be taught during school hours, nor should there be any performance of religious ceremonies."

This was put to a vote and passed by a large majority.

DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOLS

During the summer months some twenty or more of our students have taken part in the conduct of Daily Vacation Bible Schools on the University campus. There were well over a hundred children in attendance in the Medical School and Bergen Hall. The summer term closed with a gala day when the pupils, bedecked and beflagged, assembled for their closing exercises along with those from other schools in Tsinan to the number of about five hundred. The conduct of these schools is to be commended both for the excellent order and useful instruction.

STAFF RECEPTION

Plans are now being made for the usual Staff Reception, which will probably be held some evening next week. Announcements and invitations will be sent out later.

STAFF NOTES

Since the issuance of the last Bulletin there have been a number of arrivals on the campus, come taking their first view of Cheeloo, others returning from furloughs and vacations. Mr. B. J. Sole, who has been in Taiwan for some time, has taken up his residence in the Anglican Hostel and has begun work in the teaching of English. Rev. J. M. Woods has just come out from America, and is entering at once upon a full schedule of English classes. Miss Margaret Cochran will be spending a few days with Dr. and Mrs. Cochran before proceeding on to Peking for a year in the Language School preparatory to taking up her work in the hospital. To all three of these new arrivals the University staff and community extend most hearty greetings.

Dr. P. S. Evans has returned after a brief visit in America. We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Evans will remain in the United States during this coming year, for she will be greatly missed by the entire community.

We all rejoice with Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Cady on the occasion of the arrival of Mr. Cady's father and mother. While our first welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Cady may have been largely for the sake of their son and daughter, we are all very rapidly coming to discover that in them the University has two most delightful additions to its community.

CONGRATULATIONS

For the last month or so the University hospital has been busy welcoming new arrivals to our community. During the summer months Mr. and Mrs. Y. T. Ch'in of our own staff welcomed a tiny daughter. Within the last three or four weeks several other children have joined our foreign community:- Mr. and Mrs. Knappton of the business community have a daughter; Rev. and Mrs. J. Henry White of the Seventh Day Adventist Mission, a son; Rev. and Mrs. L. T. Comber, of the B. M. S., Tsingchow, a son; and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Omohundro, a son. We extend to all these young parents our warmest congratulations.

THE UNIVERSITY CHOIR

It is hoped that all members of the staff as well as of the student body, who have hitherto assisted with the work of the choir, and all others who would be willing to lend their services, will be on hand at the University service tomorrow morning. The choir meets in the church vestry shortly before the opening of the service at 9:45 a.m.

THE NEWS FROM DR. BALME

Dr. Balme expects to escape the clutches of his medical men at the end of September. From that date through October and November he will be engaged in a series of important meetings in connection with the various Cheeloo Association centres which are being organized by Mrs. Carr in important cities. He will also participate in certain missionary gatherings and China conferences. An office for Shantung Christian University is being established at 19, Furnival Street, London, E. C. 4, with a whole-time office secretary. In conjunction with Dr. H. T. Hodgkin Dr. Balme has been responsible for the calling of a conference on such matters as foreign treaties, the autonomy of China, the independence of the Chinese church, and other important matters of the moment. He will probably visit North America, especially Canada, on his return journey, and plans to reach Tsinan about the time of the opening of the Spring term in February, 1926.

LETTER FROM MR. CASSAT

Dr. Cochran has recently received from Mr. Cassat a very interesting letter, from which we quote a few paragraphs:-

"When I received your letter of January 21st, it was just about the time that I received a note from Dr. MacCracken saying that the Board had appointed me to the position of Comptroller here at Vassar. I was at that time working with a large auditing and accounting firm in Philadelphia; hard stiff work, really too much for my enfeebled lap-dzi. I held on there two or three weeks longer, and then resigned to get a good three weeks' rest before coming up here the end of March. I had three months of getting acquainted with the situation here, learning the financial ropes, history, etc., but you can be sure that the real initiation has been since the first of July, when I took over the authority for the work of the office.

"It has all been intensely interesting work inasmuch as so much of it was constructive and needed new plans from the ground up" "The work is similar in some ways to that of Tsinan. Of course I have a force of four or five in the office who handle all the detail and routine work, and my time is thus left more free for items of constructive work, for study of investments, for doing the work of the "connecting link" with the faculty which I must be, and for all sorts of statistical and report work

"Our first two or three months in Poughkeepsie were quite a trial to Mrs. Cassat because of our having to board for a while, and camping out in a small flat. But now we have a nice little house on the edge of the campus; an old house set back in an old apple orchard, where the children have more room to play than they could possibly use, and after our experiences in Atlantic City and Philadelphia you can believe we appreciate it. Mrs. Cassat has stood it all very well indeed, and one glimpse of the children would assure you that they have also. Barbara has grown so that Al Parker who was here for a few hours a week ago hardly knew her. David at twenty months is a husky little chunk of energy thirty-three inches in height and weighing thirty pounds. He had an awfully tough time with the whooping cough as you will remember, but since coming up here to Poughkeepsie he has grown and developed wonderfully.

"But this is already too much about ourselves. We are always so glad to hear any news from Tsinan about you all. We nearly talked Al's arm off, if that is not mixing metaphors too much" "Our domicile we want to make a little half-way house for all the Shantung people, and we hope to see many of you.

"The news from China during the past three months has been most unsettling, and we wonder how much or how little of what we read is true" "We were glad to hear that the trouble did not strike Tsinan any sooner than it did, and trust that the situation will calm down so that school may open up on time. We were so pleased to hear of the wonderful success of the boys in the North China Meet. What a change in three years from the little group that used to stand around watching our frantic efforts, to the team that stepped out and won that meet!"

OTHER STAFF NOTES

A letter just to hand from Dr. Annie V. Scott reports that after spending two months with her family she plans to go to Johns Hopkins on October 1st for work with Dr. John Howland. She expects to spend the greater part of her nine months study there, going to New York in the spring for a further period of hospital work.

Mr. T'ien Hsi Ching, Associate Professor of Mathematics, has gone on leave of absence to Peking, where he will undertake special study for six months.

The community welcomes most warmly Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Burt on their return to China. Their long association with the University has given them a place all their own. We hope that as they enter upon their new work, Mr. Burt becoming Secretary for the Inter-Provincial Conference of the English Baptist Mission, they may still find it possible to reside among us.

Mrs. Neal reports a good summer spent "on the shores of a beautiful New Hampshire lake." She has returned with the autumn to live with her sister Mrs. Hancock at 2107, Spruce Street, Philadelphia. Mrs. Neal, while not making plans to return to China for the present, evidently leaves the way open for a visit more or less prolonged at a later date.

FOREIGN SCHOOL ASSOCIATION ELECTS

At the annual meeting of the Tsinan Foreign School Association, which was held in Bergen Hall on Tuesday evening, reports were submitted by the retiring Committee, general matters of business were discussed, a new Committee for the coming year was elected, and a Chairman and Secretary were chosen. The Association learned with satisfaction that more than enough cash and bonds had been subscribed during the summer to meet this year's quota of bonds which must be retired. The following Committee was elected:- Mr. H. F. Smith, chairman; Mrs. R. H. McHardy, secretary; Mr. F. H. B. Harmon, treasurer; Mrs. Murray; Mrs. Stanley; Mrs. Strugghers; Dr. Heimbürger; Dr. Shields; and Dr. Wheeler. Officers of the Association were chosen as follows;- Dr. W. H. Adolph, chairman; Mrs. L. V. Cady, secretary.

DEATH OF DR. H. W. BOONE

There has this week arrived from America a cable telling of the death of Dr. H. W. Boone, the father of Rev. Wilmot D. Boone of our Tsinan community. Because Dr. Boone, as one of the great pioneer medical missionaries of China, was well known to many of the readers of the Bulletin, we give herewith a brief sketch of his life and work.

Dr. H. W. Boone's father, Bishop William Jones Boone, the first American Episcopal Bishop to China, started to China in 1837. Dr. Boone was born in Java when the family was en route to China in 1839. Their first home was on the island of Kulansu at Amoy, where they lived until Shanghai was opened as a treaty port in 1842. Bishop Boone resided and worked there until his death in 1860. Dr. Boone's brother William became the third Bishop of the American Episcopal Church in China, presiding over the Wuchang diocese.

Dr. Boone's medical career began at Ft. Sumter as a Confederate surgeon in the Civil War. He was later wounded in the Second Battle of Bull Run. Following his recuperation he returned to China, and for a while was Port Doctor of Shanghai. After a severe attack of Asiatic cholera he had a varied experience with the U. S. army and navy, making the first survey of the western coast of the United States. He was also surgeon of the 7th cavalry during the Indian fighting and the occupation of Idaho, New Mexico, and Arizona.

In 1875 he again returned to Shanghai, this time as a missionary of the American Church Mission. In this place he built up a large self-supporting work at the St. Luke's Hospital, and was for many years Dean of St. John's Medical School. He was a charter member and the first president of the Medical Missionary Association, and for years was editor of the China Medical Journal.

After thirty-five years of intensive service Dr. Boone was in 1910 compelled to retire, broken in health, to spend the closing years of his life in Southern California. He died on Sunday, September 20th, 1925.

BASEBALL SQUAD WINS AND LOSES

The University baseball squad during the last week has played two games with the fast Japanese team of Tsinan. In the contest last Saturday afternoon, the University won a hard earned victory, leading at the end of nine well-played innings with the score at 10 to 7. In the second game on Wednesday afternoon the S.C.U. nine took the lead and gradually increased it during the first six innings, only to meet with disaster in the seventh. The final score found the Japanese well in the lead, 12 to 5.

Although the University squad was hastily assembled to give the Japanese some practice before they went to Tsingtao for a series of games, all the players did remarkably well. Butler's pitching was in large measure responsible for winning the first game, and should have brought another victory in the second contest except for bad breaks and poor support at a critical moment. Woods at second base and Langdon in center field were both new recruits on the squad who proved mighty valuable both in the field and at bat. Three University students who did excellent work were Chin and Yang in the field and P'an at short-stop. The other members of the team were Lair, catcher; Stanley, first base; Garside, third base; and Cady, outfield and short-stop.

It has not yet been decided whether there will be any more games this fall. Possibly there may be a few more contests, but already the squad is beginning to look forward to next spring with the intention of giving a good account of itself during the coming baseball season.

DO YOU GET THE BULLETIN REGULARLY?

Occasionally we hear of a subscriber whose Bulletin seems to be arriving most irregularly. We would be glad if you would report all such irregularities to either Miss Hickson or Mr. Garside, who will try to entreat the young man responsible for delivering the Bulletin to be more generous with you.

UNIVERSITY HAS LARGE ENROLMENT.

The enrolment of the University passed 360 this week, with an occasional belated student still coming in from day to day. We had planned to give the final figures this week but will defer our report until next week so as to give approximately complete statistics. Numerous pleased comments are being heard about the campus on the attractive personality and alert appearance of so large a proportion of our new students. Today an intelligence test is being given all new students; and since this test has previously been given to all of last year's student body we will have an interesting basis of comparison for judging the rise or fall of the standards of our entering classes from year to year.

LOST

J.W.

Ex-Treasurer and Red Arbitrator, Shantung Christian Univ.

A letter has been received from Mrs. Hunter, full of her adventures and visits to old acquaintances in Western Canada. It is one of those breezy letters which speaks of a reception by friends in Calgary, and the next minute of an Old Girls' Reunion (the term "old" really refers to the maturity of their friendships, and has no biological significance) in Edmonton, only to be followed by a reception by the members of a one-time basketball team who frantically wave arms of welcome to their old team-mate as the C.N.R. express slowly backs into Saskatoon.

Now all this is very well so far as it goes, but we want to know where J. W. is! Our first working hypothesis was that J.W. had been packed into the bottom of the largest trunk in order to escape detection by the immigration officers and having passed this ordeal he would naturally be forgotten, but almost immediately we were compelled to recognize that in this we had perpetrated an error of judgment. Our present hypothesis is rather unsatisfactory, since it leaves J. W., a babe in each arm, wandering about the prairies in search of fodder, but it's all we have left and if anyone has a better one let him trot it out. You don't need to go to the letter, because he isn't mentioned there and you can only find traces of J. W. between the lines— and the babes.

HAVE YOUR BICYCLE OILED UP!

This is an advance warning to all owners of bicycles, whether you be staff, students, or younger members of the University community, to be getting your wheel oiled up and ready for action. More on the subject next week!

WANTED

A lady in the business community would like to purchase a second-hand baby carriage in good repair. Inquiries may be made at the office of the Bulletin.

DON'T FORGET THE STAFF RECEPTION

Invitations to attend the Annual Staff Reception which will be held in the Assembly Hall of the Medical School on next Monday evening have this week been sent to all members of staff. This is both an important and a most enjoyable occasion, so it is hoped that all members of the University staff will be on hand.

RECEPTIONS

The past week-end was devoted to receptions of various kinds. On Saturday evening the student body gave a welcome to new students and new members of staff. The attendance was good and the company filled the main lecture hall of the Extension Department. The arrangements were made by the officers of the Student Christian Association. On Monday evening the Annual Staff Reception took place in the Assembly Hall of the Medical School. An informal programme with ample opportunity for conversation and becoming better acquainted added much to the evening's enjoyment. These two occasions were of the type which help to make our university life more human and give us an opportunity for the cultivation of personal relationships.

STUDENTS' RETREAT

A retreat is being arranged to take place during the coming week-end, October 2nd to 5th. Some thirty or more representatives of the executive bodies of the Student Association and the various associations in the different schools, together with advisors and members of staff, will spend the week-end together at Hsing Lung Shan. The general subject for discussion and conference has to do with the Student Association and its place in the life of the university. This year in particular there is need for consideration of what is demanded of the Association as the one exclusively Christian organization in the University which is comprised of students in all the departments. This is without doubt among the most important of the gatherings during the opening month of the term. It should be made a subject of prayer by all who are interested in the welfare of our students.

A DAY OF THANKSGIVING

It has frequently been proposed that the Christian church in China should observe an annual day of thanksgiving. It is surely fitting that a custom which has been so fruitful of good in other Christian communities should be observed in the East as well. Fortunately the autumn season in China affords its Mid-autumn Festival on the fifteenth of the eighth moon as a suitable and natural occasion for such thanksgiving. Already in not a few places individual churches have carried out the practice of observing such a day. During the past spring at its annual meeting in Shanghai the National Christian Council again called attention to this question. The proposal elicited an interesting and profitable discussion. It is hoped that the church will carry out more generally the suggestion. It would be entirely in keeping with the history of Christianity during the centuries if the church should appropriate and use as its own for Christian purposes a feast day which has been long known and observed in the life of China. Meantime it should be possible to observe a day of thanksgiving on one of the Sundays which stand nearest to the date of the mid-autumn festival. The student service on Sunday morning will be of this character.

INSTITUTE

Announcement will be made during the coming fortnight of an Institute for middle school delegates, faculty members and Christian Association advisors, which is to be held within the University Oct. 15th-18th inclusive. It is expected that a good company of leaders, including Mr. T.Z.Koo, Dr. C.S. Miao, Mr. T.L. Shen, and Mr. O.R. Magill will be present.

THE CHOIR

The various chapel services have come to take a large place in the religious life of the campus. The Kunkler Memorial Chapel has become for many of us a place of real worship. The choir, under the leadership of Mr. Harrison, is making a valuable contribution to this end. It is to be greatly desired, however, that a larger number of both students and staff should unite in the service of praise. An opportunity is being given through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison for members of the choir to meet in a social way at their home next Monday at 7:30 p.m. Invitations are being sent out, and it is hoped that this important part of our common life will receive the stimulus and support which it so well deserves.

OUR APOLOGIES

We regret the fact that the Bulletin is somewhat delayed this week. Our new supply of mimeograph stencil paper has been on the way for some time, but its arrival was repeatedly delayed by confused transportation, red tape connected with provincial tax regulations, and finally the mid-autumn festival. At last it has arrived, and we trust such a delay will not occur again. Our subscribers on the campus received the first two pages on time and are getting the rest of the Bulletin today; others are having the whole Bulletin a day or so late.

LADIES TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Under the auspices of the Sports' Group of the Woman's Club, a ladies' tennis was most successfully conducted last week. Twelve couples entered, and each day saw the playing off of one or more exciting matches. The finals were played off on Saturday afternoon, October 3rd. For this final contest a large crowd of spectators were on hand, and all the guests were served with tea and refreshments by the Sports Group.

The tournament was featured by splendid playing throughout; most of the sets and matches being closely contested to the last point. Several individual stars stood out prominently, among them Miss King, Miss Morton Smith, Mrs. Adolph, and Miss Pearce. In the final match Miss King and Miss Vance won over Miss Pearce and Miss Taylor, the score being 6/5, 6/2. The complete results were as follows:-

DEATH OF ALTHEA OZORIO

On Saturday last the community was shocked to learn of the serious accident to Althea, the little six-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ozorio. Through collision on the street with a hay-cart she was thrown from a ricksha and received fatal injuries of the skull. Successful operation was impossible, and she passed away during the evening. The interment took place on Sunday afternoon. To the bereaved family we extend our deep sympathy.

The 1925-26 session of the Tsinan Literary Society opens on Monday evening, October 12th, at eight-thirty in the Assembly Hall of the School of Medicine Theology. Dr. MacRae has kindly consented to give the first lecture, his subject being "Sir Wilfred Laurier, The Making of a Canadian".

From October to May please add the Literary Society on the second Monday of each month to your list of engagements.

LARGE ENROLMENT FOR AUTUMN TERM

The Registrar's office reports this week that to date 381 students have enrolled in the University, setting a new high mark for the institution. These students are distributed as follows:-

Arts (including pre-medicine and pre-theology)	-239
Theology	- - - - - 33
Medicine	- - - - - 109
Total	- - - - - 381

POST-GRADUATE COURSE IN MEDICINE

The School of Medicine is this year holding its Post-Graduate Course from October 1st to 28th, instead of in June, as in previous years. Up to the present eleven applicants have registered and it is expected that there will still be others arriving during the next day or two.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT WITH THE TSINAN CLUB

On Saturday afternoon of last week the University tennis players met the racket wielders from the Tsinan Club. There was spirited competition on both sides, and from the standpoint of sets and matches won the result was a draw. In point of total games won, however, this being the point on which the tournament was to be decided, the Tsinan Club had the lead, 27 games to 24. Messrs. Lyhne and Gillespie for the Club defeated Dr. Li and Mr. Harrison 6/3, 6/2, 6/1. Dr. Lair and Mr. Butler for the University defeated Messrs. Hand and Langdon 6/4, 6/3, 6/2. It is hoped that during the autumn there will be other tournaments, both with the Club and with the Japanese players.

LOST!

A bound book of sheet music, the property of Mrs. Cochran. Contains Niedlinger's Serenade, Love's Sweet Song, Winter Lullaby, etc. Doubtless left somewhere. Owner would greatly appreciate information leading to its return.

DEATH OF FRANK MALLORY TORREY

Frank Mallory, the infant son of Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Torrey, Jr., of the East Suburb, was very suddenly called Home on last Tuesday evening. The little fellow had been so well and such a joy in the home during these few months that his going comes as a great sorrow to Mr. and Mrs. Torrey, though they are accepting it in the courageous manner that those who know them would expect. The prayers of many friends will be with them in the sudden loss of this little one.

UNIVERSITY ATHLETICS

At its meeting ~~soon~~ after the opening of school, the student body elected the following Athletic Committee: Chairman, Dr. C. H. Han; Staff members, Mr. J. M. Woods, Jr., and Mr. D. C. Butler; Student members, Mr. Hsiao Kuo-kuei, Mr. Hsu Mu-hsien, Mr. P'an Tso Hsin, and Mr. Hsu Jung Chu. The athletic work is starting off briskly this fall, with tennis courts filled, basketball and volley-ball grounds busy, and a number of students working out on the track. Football is just beginning, and prospects are bright. It is everywhere regretted that the unsettled state of educational and political conditions seemed to make ^{unwise} the holding of the annual middle-school meet on October 9th and 10th of this year, but even without this incentive to interest it is hoped that the student body will enter whole-heartedly into athletic activities this year.

BICYCLE OUTING TO LUNG-TUNG

Plans are being perfected for a big bicycle outing to Lung Tung and Fu Yu'ersh, to take place on Friday, October 9th. This being a University holiday it is hoped that all members of the staff and student body who own bicycles or can obtain one for the occasion will make the trip. Each member of the staff or student body is at liberty to invite others to accompany the party. Young members of the community, from twelve years and upward, are also invited. The party will leave the Administration Building at about 8:30 a.m., and will return about five o'clock in the afternoon. Each one should provide his own lunch, and also a bathing suit if he wishes to take advantage of the opportunities for a dip. At Lung Tung there will be both bathing and exploring parties, and an informal program of music and talks. The party is open to both men and women, and the committee in charge hopes that there will be a large number who will take the outing and thereby come into a closer acquaintanceship with the other members of the Cheeloo community.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS

This week the University community extends its felicitations to the Rev. S. E. Meech, who on October 3rd attained his eightieth birthday. Most of us were rather startled by this information, for Mr. Meech's vigor and activity had deceived us into thinking he was at least fifteen or twenty years younger. It is given to few men to serve more than half a century in the arduous tasks of the mission field, as Mr. Meech has so splendidly served. We join in wishing him many happy returns of the day, and in expressing the warm hope that he may spend many of them in our Tsinan community.

COAL!

The I Hsing Chang Coal Company has put on exhibition samples of four grades of coal, for sale at $9.50, $10.50, $11.50, and $12.50 a ton, delivered. They promise a probable reduction of fifty cents a ton if a large amount is purchased at one time and half the purchase price paid in advance. These samples, with prices attached, may be seen at the Treasurer's Office.

EXTRA COPIES OF "SOCIAL GLIMPSES"

Occasionally there are requests for additional copies of the social survey "Social Glimpses of Tsinan", which was published in the Cheeloo Magazine during last year, and later reprinted in pamphlet form. There are still a few copies of this pamphlet on hand in the Cheeloo office and these may be had for 10¢ each, while they last.

NEWS ITEMS

THE STUDENTS RETREAT

The retreat arranged for the past week-end on Hsing Lung Shan was attended by about thirty officers and members of the Student Christian Association, a number of faculty advisors, and Miss Vance and Mr. Stanley of the city Association. Delightful October weather and all the other attendant circumstances contributed to the success of the occasion. Much of the time was spent in informal discussion in larger or smaller groups and in devotional gatherings. The camp fire meeting on Sunday evening was an unforgettable occasion. As the light of the bonfire waned the full moon came into view over the distant hilltops. Hymns were sung and earnest parting words of new resolve were spoken. It is impossible to report here the many helpful criticisms and suggestions which emerged during our talks together. These will be brought to the attention of the staff at an early date. Suffice it to say that the earnest desire of the students to devise ways and means of preserving the corporate life of the University at its best was very much in evidence. While they would be the last to claim that their share in our common life has been all that it ought to be, yet it has been made abundantly plain that the onus of taking the first steps to improve conditions where they are unsatisfactory rests with the members of staff, Chinese and foreign alike. It is always wholesome to see ourselves as others see us.

LAND FOR NEW HOSPITAL

The staff and friends of the University will be glad to know that ten mou of land has been purchased, opposite the Institute and the Dispensary, on which to erect the new hospital buildings. The negotiations for this property have dragged out to such a length that we had almost given up hope of obtaining it. We owe a deep debt of gratitude to friends who have loyally helped in this matter, especially to members of the Hospital Advisory Board, Mr. Ch'e Pai Wen, Mr. Ch'ang Mien Chai, and to Mr. Whitewright and Mr. Wu. Dr. Heath and Dr. Cochran are going to Peking on business connected with the selection of the architect.

MEDICAL POST GRADUATE COURSE

The following list of doctors attending the Medical Post Graduate Course will give some idea of how large an area of the mission field the School of Medicine is serving:-

UNIVERSAL DAY OF PRAYER FOR STUDENTS

The World's Student Christian Federation has again issued its call to a universal day of prayer for students on Sunday, October 18th, 1925. It is a fortunate circumstance that Mr. T.Z. Koo, who is one of the secretaries of the Federation, will be with us and will conduct the Sunday morning student service on that date. The statement issued by the Federation asks pertinently: "Has the Federation a message for the younger generation which is springing up, a clear message, telling and definite, that can rouse the will and stir the conscience?" It continues: "More than ever our Movement needs the counsels of the Spirit, not only to respond to the appeal from without, but also to strengthen its unity within. This unity is itself a work of prayer. No other power in the world can preserve it. In proportion as the Federation seeks to think out its position, to define its methods, to apply its Christian principles in the international and social sphere, differences of thought make themselves felt, differences due to the diversity of race, of temperament, of the schools of theology to which its members belong, and of the situation which they are called upon to face. Only a very great humility, an absolute allegiance to the sovereign authority of Christ, can assure that harmony of spirit and will which is as indispensable to effective cooperation as the communion of hearts."

Among subjects for thanksgiving the following are suggested:-

The eagerness for truth, the loyalty to an ideal half seen, which stirs the conscience of so many students: their splendid sincerity: "Thou wouldst not seek Me if thou had'st not already found Me."

The possibilities which lie before us everywhere, and the splendor of the vocation which God lays upon us by the very tasks which He sets before us.

All the work which has been accomplished under the influence of the Federation in so many souls that have come by its means to the Light of Christ.

The ever more conspicuous bond of brotherhood by which the students of the whole world are held together, a bond evidenced and strengthened by our international gatherings and by response to efforts of the European Student Relief.

The grandeur of the witness for Christ borne by those of our Movements which are stricken by persecution and have carried on their tasks at the cost of great sacrifices and great suffering; the example which they afford to our faith, so weak and timid.

The following are objects of intercession:-

That the members of our Movements may realize more and more clearly what is implied by the words "disciple of Christ". That they may have the courage and strength to proclaim their faith, a spirit of conquest and a spirit of joy.

That God may guide the leaders of our national Student Christian Movements in their attitude toward the churches and their decisions as to international and inter-racial relations.

That "volunteers" may arise in all lands in response to the appeal of millions of souls all over the world to whom the Gospel has never been proclaimed; that missionaries burning with the love of Christ may make themselves true servants of the nations to which they go to preach the gospel.

All friends of Cheeloo, as well as our staff and students, will desire to share in this time of united supplication, remembering especially our common obligation to the interests of China and our part in constructive service for Christ and His Kingdom.

INSTITUTE

The forthcoming faculty and student conference, to be held on the University campus, October 15th-18th, is specially for the benefit of Middle Schools, but it will afford an opportunity for us to take advantage of the presence of a strong group of leaders in our midst. Those who are expected to be present are Mr. T. Z. Koo, Dr. C. S. Miao, Mr. T. L. Shen, and Mr. C. B. Magill. The programme will partake primarily of the nature of discussion, and will deal with outstanding problems of the Shantung Student Christian Associations in the light of the general situation at present. There will be special sessions of faculty representatives. Among questions which have been suggested for consideration are the following:-

1. Growing out of the present situation what new factors are there that affect the work of the Student Christian Association?
2. What are some of the limitations and weak points of that Association?
3. What is your conception of the place of the Student Association in your school?
4. To what extent do students who have gone out from your school remain active Christians? How can we better conserve the results?
5. What are the factors which make it difficult for the religious life of the faculty to influence effectively that of the students?
6. What criticisms of the Student Association have you heard among students or faculty members which seem worthy of note?
7. What are the main results of the contact of students in school with the outside world?

CHINESE MOTHERS CLUB

This past week seventeen Chinese ladies, wives of the Chinese members of the University staff, met at the home of Mrs. Harold Smith to organize a Mothers Club. Thanks to the most cordial interest and cooperation of the respective husbands, who voluntarily offered to so arrange their work that the ladies might be free to attend the meetings regularly, the club will meet twice a month, when a lecture will be given on some topic of vital interest to the home, followed by a free discussion in which each member will be urged to take part. Plans are also on foot to undertake as a club a special form of social welfare work for our immediate neighborhood.

The seventeen charter members are from six different provinces, and several were complete strangers to each other. Before the programme of the afternoon there was a tea at which spirits ran high, and several members kept all in a gale of laughter by their witty repartee. With such splendid attendance and such keen interest in the project there is every promise of a most successful year. Long live the Mothers' Club!

NEWS ITEMSCHINA FOUNDATION FOR THE PROMOTION OF EDUCATION AND CULTURE

The American Indemnity Fund (the unremitted portion, which did not go into Tsinghua College) amounts to approximately $12,000,000. This has now been placed in the hands of a Board of Trustees, who have organized the China Foundation for the Promotion of Education and Culture. This Board of Trustees comprises a total of fifteen, ten of whom are Chinese, namely:- Dr. W. W. Yen, Prof. Paul Monroe, Dr. Chang Po-ling, Mr. V. K. Ting, Dr. Y. T. Tsur, Mr. C. R. Bennett, Mr. J. E. Baker, Dr. Chiang Mou-lin, Prof. John Dewey, Mr. Fan Yuan-lien, Mr. R. S. Greene, Dr. Huang Yen-peh, Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Dr. P. W. Kuo, and Dr. Saoke Alfred Sze. Mr. Fan Yuan-lien is the Director of the Foundation. At a meeting of the Board last summer, it was decided to devote these funds to the aid and development of science training and scientific research in China. A commission of four has just been organized to visit certain of the school centres throughout China for the purpose of making a survey and preparing data to aid in the allocation of the funds. The commission consisted of a biologist, a chemist, a physicist, and a school administrator. Cheeloo extends its hearty congratulations to Dr. William H. Adolph on his well-deserved appointment as the chemist on the commission. The commission will begin its work at Hankow shortly.

MRS. ROMIG IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. H. G. Romig, of Tenghsien, is a patient in the University Hospital this week. We wish her a speedy recovery.

NEWS FROM BRITAIN

Dr. Balme reports with reference to the recent meeting of the British Section of the Board of Governors that "it was one of the most sympathetic and encouraging meetings" which he has ever attended. One of the minutes adopted will be of special interest. It reads as follows:-

"The British Section of the Board of Governors have heard with great concern of the serious disturbances which have taken place throughout China, and of the grave problems which have confronted the Administrative Officers and Staff of the University as a result of the acute situation which followed. They realise that at a time when national feeling was aroused to so intense a degree, the danger of a rupture between the Chinese and Western members of staff must have been extreme, and it is with great thankfulness that they have heard of the spirit of unity and mutual good-will between the Chinese staff and their Western colleagues which prevented any such breach. In particular they desire to express their sympathy with the Chinese members of the Staff in the peculiarly difficult situation in which they were placed, and their appreciation of the efforts which they made to maintain the corporate unity of the staff and students. The Governors desire also to express to the Acting President and Administrative Officers their warm congratulations upon the success and wisdom with which they handled a situation of unprecedented delicacy and their hearty approval of the action which has subsequently been taken by the Senate in defining the purpose and policy of the University. Whilst being conscious that international misunderstandings are only too liable to occur, during the period of China's struggle for the attainment of her full national aspirations, the British Section of the Board of Governors are convinced that it is only in the spirit of mutual forbearance and understanding, born of true Christian fellowship, that such problems can be faced, and they are thankful to know of the unique contribution which the Christian staff of the University is making, both in this direction and also in the training of Chinese Christian patriots."

TIMELY MESSAGES

On Sunday last we profited by a visit from Rev. Ch'en Tzi-kao of Tsangchow, Chihli, one of our own alumni. His morning address to the staff and students was much appreciated. Mr. Ch'en has just returned from some time spent with General Feng and his troops. In the afternoon the English-speaking community welcomed the Rev. E. W. Burt after an absence of more than two years. Mr. Burt rendered us a real service in giving further emphasis to the necessity for prayer. His theme was "An Unremembered Sin", the sin of prayerlessness. He helped us to realize anew that "more things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of." At the recent Staff Retreat emphasis was placed upon the importance of our corporate prayer life. If we fail here real success anywhere is unlikely.

GIFT FROM DR. E.B. MEIGS

A generous friend of the Medical School, Dr. E.B. Meigs of Washington, D.C. has recently sent a cheque for G.$200 to be used for teaching or clinical apparatus for the school. This is merely the latest of a series of such gifts, received from year to year, which have been very much appreciated.

VISITORS OF THE WEEK

On Friday of last week Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Lorenz of Dayton, Ohio, were guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lair. Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz have been in China for some months, most of the time having been spent with their daughter, Mrs. C. C. VanDeusen of Weihsien. They are now continuing their trip around the world, and are planning to visit several of the other great mission fields. Mr. Lorenz is the head of the Lorenz Music Company of Dayton, and Mrs. Lorenz is a second cousin of Dr. Kumler, in whose honor the Kumler Memorial Chapel was erected.

During last week Mrs. Hunter Corbett of Chefoo spent several days on the campus, visiting with her daughters, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Heimbürger.

This week the University is the host for the Middle School Faculty and Student Conference, which began its sessions on Thursday and continues its meetings until tomorrow. A large number of visitors are present for this conference, among them being Dr. C. S. Miao, Mr. T. Z. Koo, Mr. Arthur Rugh, Mr. T. L. Shen, Mr. J. W. Nipps, Mr. W. C. Booth, and Mr. O. R. Magill.

Mr. E. H. Cressy, the Secretary of the East China Christian Educational Association, was expected to arrive in Tsinan last night. He will be staying for a day or two with Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Smith.

LITERARY SOCIETY BEGINS WINTER SESSION

The winter session of the Tsinan Literary Society opened on Monday evening with a lecture by the Rev. Dr. MacRae on "Sir Wilfrid Laurier-- The Making of a Canadian."

Our Chairman, Mr. H. F. King, in his introductory remarks preserved all the high traditions of the society for wit and eloquence, and Dr. MacRae gave us a most interesting and instructive lecture.

For all, it meant a rubbing up of our Canadian history, glimpses of a delightful soul and a great statesman, a realisation of a few of the unsolved problems of Empire, a vision of a great people in the 'Commonwealth of Nations', and for some there was also the salutary experience of "seeing ourselves as others see us."

The Literary Society has an established place in the life of Tsinan and we commend it as an institution to be not only preserved but to be supported with enthusiasm.

NEW TREASURER SOON TO ARRIVE

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE

The University Student Christian Association, together with the Student Division of the National Committee of the Y.M.C.A., the Student Department of the Tsinan Y.M.C.A., and the Shantung District Committee for work among students of the Christian Schools, together acted as hosts, during the past week-end, to 115 delegates from nineteen of the twenty-four Christian schools of the province.

For some time there has been a desire on the part of a good many leaders for an opportunity to study the work of the Student Christian Associations. In order to make such a study possible the Student Division of the National Committee of the Y.M.C.A. last summer decided to convene a series of five sectional conferences during the autumn in the following cities:- Tsinan, Shanghai, Changsha, and Peking.

We invited representative students and faculty leaders to consider this general theme:- "The place, program, and organization of the Student Christian Association in relation to the whole religious life of the student in the light of the present situation." We had forty-eight members of staff, fifty-eight students, and nine leaders. We are much indebted to T. Z. Koo, Arthur Rugh, C. S. Miao, T. L. Shen, John Nipps, Wang Yu-teh, and O. R. Magill for the inspiration and light they brought to the conference from their years of experience in dealing with the problems of students.

Various members of the Chceloo staff had much to do with planning for and carrying through the program, and no small amount of responsibility for housing the delegates and making them feel at home fell to the University student leaders. Those three days together impressed one as a splendid example of co-operation between the members of staff and the students.

The first day was used to set the problems of the delegates before the conference. The second day we divided into two groups the staff and students, for group discussion of the problems. On the third day we met as a whole body to measure our task and to face it. In the joint sessions, "The Present Situations and the Students in the Christian Schools" was presented by T. L. Suen; "A Bird's-eye View of the Life of the School", by Prof. C. S. Miao, this being a balanced study of both the voluntary and the compulsory religious education principles; and "The Student Christian Movement Idea" by T. Z. Koo.

In the separate sessions the discussions were more technical, taking up such questions as "The place and distinctive function, its direction and control and program, of the Christian Association in the School", and "The Curriculum and Voluntary Religious Education".

T. Z. Koo was in charge of the meeting on Sunday night, and it was one that made a deep and lasting impression on all the delegates. Wang Yu-teh's presentation of "The Challenge of the Present Situation" was followed by a period of directed devotions led by T. Z. Koo.

R. H. S.

ADDRESSES BY MR. T. Z. KOO

During the past week-end we had the rare opportunity of listening to three addresses by Mr. T. Z. Koo. On Saturday morning he spoke to the staff and students on the opium question, taking as his subject "Opium at Geneva and After". His lucid presentation of the case was much appreciated. On Sunday morning he took as his subject "Christ's Ideal of Life for a Young Man". The chapel was unusually well filled. A large number of visiting students from other schools were in attendance. To hear his address to the English speaking community in the afternoon was a privilege. It is not difficult to understand why Mr. Koo should receive so warm a welcome whether in Europe, London, New York, Toronto, or wherever he may appear in public. In addition to his winsome personality, he combines evident sincerity and humility with intellectual vigour and spiritual passion. His visit proved to be a distinct uplift to us all.

THE CAPTURE OF DR. HAN'S FATHER BY BANDITS

Much sympathy will be felt with Dr. Han in the news which came to him early in the week of the capture of his father by bandits from his home, about one li out of Weihsien. Dr. Han left on Tuesday for Weihsien to try to arrange for his release.

SYMPATHY FOR MR. K. T. CHOU

The sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. Chou Han T'ing and his family on account of the death of his father at the advanced age of eighty-six, at his home in An-ch'iu.

CHRISTIAN MISSIONS AND TREATIES WITH CHINA

Under this title the Rev. A. L. Wamshuis, D. D. Secretary of the International Missionary Council, has prepared a memorandum to the Secretaries of Boards carrying on work in China. Because of the importance of this document and its well-balanced presentation of the case, we wish to publish certain selections which deal specially with what are known as the "Toleration Clauses" in the treaties. Readers will find here in brief space information which is not easily available elsewhere.

"The special privileges enjoyed by missionaries in China are secured for them by what are known as the 'toleration clauses' in the treaties, and to a consideration of these it is highly important that missionaries and their home boards should give earnest thought. The privileges conferred by these clauses are those of freedom to teach the Christian religion, to travel and reside anywhere in China, and to acquire and occupy property for missionary purposes. In the same clauses, Chinese are promised freedom to accept and practice the Christian religion. These are special privileges that are extended only to Christian missionaries and that are not given to other foreigners in China. These privileges are entirely separate and distinct from those of extraterritorial jurisdiction. A brief review of the history of these toleration clauses may help to illuminate the discussion of them.

"Before 1842, Roman Catholic missionaries had been at work in China for more than three hundred years. During part of this time they enjoyed the favour of the imperial court in Peking. At other times they suffered opposition and persecution. Whatever the attitude of the government was, they persisted in their devoted efforts and with a considerable measure of success. Without the protection of any treaties or the intervention of any western government, they had entered most of the eighteen provinces of China, even in the far west where some of their most fruitful work was achieved. However, because under edicts issued in the 18th century for the suppression of Christianity it was not lawful for any Chinese to become a Christian, the Roman Catholic missionaries were the first to seek the aid of western governments when these began to intervene on behalf of trading interests.

"The treaties of 1842 and 1844 which secured the opening of five ports for foreign residence and certain limited trading privileges did not include any clauses regarding missionary work. The missionaries, like other foreigners, could reside in the open ports, and were permitted to erect churches there, but there was no stipulation giving them any liberty to seek converts and they had no legal right to reside or even to travel in the interior, or to purchase property there. It was through the efforts of the French envoy that toleration for Chinese Christians was obtained by an imperial edict on December 28, 1844. The terms of this decree at first applied only to Roman Catholic Christians but by a despatch issued on December 22, 1845 it was interpreted so as to include all Christians. It is important to note that this toleration edict, although issued in response to representations of the French envoy on behalf of the Roman Catholic missionaries, was entirely a free act of the Chinese government, and the Chinese Christians were in no way placed under the protection of any foreign powers. Toleration at that time was dependent entirely upon the goodwill of the Chinese government and people. The same edict definitely prohibited the missionaries from entering the interior of the country to propagate religion.

"When the treaties were revised in 1858-60, each of these contained a guarantee of toleration for Christianity, and a promise of protection in the exercise of their faith not only to missionaries but either explicitly or by implication to Chinese Christians. The Russian minister was the first to formulate such an article of religious toleration, by which the Chinese government agreed 'not to persecute its Christian subjects for the exercise of the duties of their religion', and to give permission to a fixed number of missionaries to travel in the interior to propagate their faith. In the negotiation of the American treaty of 1858, an article on Christianity was inserted as a result of the persistent efforts of the interpreters, S. Woll's Williams and W.A.P. Martin, both of whom were missionaries. This article read as follows:-

"Article XXIX. - The principles of the Christian religion, as professed by the Protestant and Roman Catholic churches, are recognized as teaching men to do good, and to do to others as they would have others do to them. Hereafter, those who quietly profess and teach these doctrines shall not be harassed and persecuted on account of their faith. Any person, whether citizen of the United States or Chinese convert, who according to these tenets peaceably teaches and practices the principles of Christianity, shall in no case be interfered with or molested."

"An abridgement of this article was included in the British treaty. The French treaty provided that 'the members of all Christian communions' should 'enjoy entire security of their persons, property, and the free exercise of their religious practices', and that protection should be given to missionaries travelling in the interior with passports. It recognized the right of any person in China to embrace the Christian faith and provided for the abrogation of the edicts against Christianity. The British and French treaties were not ratified till 1860, and then in a supplementary convention the French secured the affirmation of the imperial edict of 1844 for the toleration of Christianity. Moreover, the Chinese text of this paragraph, which differed materially from the authoritative French text, promised that the toleration of Catholicism should be promulgated throughout all China, that those who illegally arrested Christians should be punished, that churches, schools, cemeteries, lands, and buildings taken from the Catholics in earlier persecutions and before 1842 should be restored to the Christians in the localities concerned, and that it should be 'permitted to French missionaries to rent and purchase land in all the provinces and to erect buildings thereon at pleasure'.

"These treaties of 1858 and 1860 obviously worked a very great change in the status of missionaries and Chinese Christians. The permission to travel in the interior was a direct reversal of the earlier arrangement by which foreigners found beyond a certain distance from the treaty ports were to be arrested and conveyed to the nearest consul. They might meet opposition from the populace, the local gentry, or even the officials, and the Peking government might at best give them only half-hearted support, but back of them were the Western powers, who were also pledged to ensure the protection of Chinese Christians. Western governments and merchants might be lukewarm towards missionary work, but if the Chinese denied any rights guaranteed in these treaties the interests of all foreigners and of commerce and the security of the whole of foreign intercourse would suffer. Religious toleration was not voluntary on the part of the Chinese, but assumed the character of still another imposition by foreign powers. As Mr. Dennett has commented, 'The Chinese were free to abstain from Christianity as from opium, but they were not free to prohibit them'.

"In the treaties that were made in 1902-3, after the Boxer uprising, toleration clauses were included that more clearly defined and confirmed these missionary privileges and the principle of religious toleration. The most complete statement is that of the American treaty, which is as follows:

"Article IV. - Christianity; its teachers and followers not to be discriminated against. Rights and duties of missionaries. - The principles of the Christian religion, as professed by the Protestant and Roman Catholic Churches, are recognized as teaching men to do good and to do to others as they would have others do to them. Those who quietly profess and teach these doctrines shall not be harassed or persecuted on account of their faith. Any person whether citizen of the United States or Chinese convert, who, according to these tenets, peaceably teaches and practices the principles of Christianity shall in no case be interfered with or molested therefor. No restrictions shall be placed on Chinese joining Christian churches. Converts and non-converts, being Chinese subjects, shall alike conform to the Laws of China; and shall pay due respect to those in authority, living together in peace and amity; and the fact of being converts shall not protect them from the consequences of any offence they may have committed before or may commit after their admission into the church, or exempt them from paying legal taxes levied on Chinese subjects generally, except taxes levied and contributions for the support of religious customs and practices contrary to their faith. Missionaries shall not interfere with the exercise by the native authorities of their jurisdiction over Chinese subjects; nor shall the native authorities make any distinction between converts and non-converts; but shall administer the laws without partiality so that both classes can live together in peace.

"Property: land purchase by missionary societies.- Missionary societies of the United States shall be permitted to rent and to lease in perpetuity, and the property of such societies, buildings or lands in all parts of the Empire for missionary purposes, and, after the title deeds have been found in order and duly stamped by the local authorities, to erect such suitable buildings as may be required for carrying on their good work."

"The advantages and disadvantages of these toleration clauses have been debated by missionaries from the time of their first enactment. Among the advantages claimed, it is pointed out that these clauses have made possible most of the missionary activity of the Christian Church in the interior of China from 1858 to this day. To the missionaries was given the right to preach throughout the empire, and the protection of law for their lives and property. While Christianity does not depend upon treaties and political power for its propagation, these articles have prevented the government of China from becoming a persecuting agency. The weak and inexperienced churches were spared the ordeal of persecution and were sheltered, until time had been given for their growth in numbers, influence, and intelligent comprehension, and in faith and courage. On the other hand, the very serious disadvantage that arose out of the placing of Chinese Christians under the protection of foreign powers must be recognized. To be sure, it was only as protectors of the faith of the converts that a foreign power could legally intervene, but in practice the result was to separate Chinese Christians from the mass of their fellow-countrymen, and to make of them an enclave under the defence of aliens. So much was this the case, that until comparatively recent years the Chinese authorities unwisely but persistently made a sharp distinction in the terms used to describe Christian and other Chinese subjects. These clauses were a serious blow to the prestige and sovereignty of the Chinese state as they practically removed Chinese Christians from its jurisdiction. Under them the missionary came as part of the aggressive West, depending on agreements wrested from the Chinese government by war. His message, accordingly, could not but be compromised and his Lord often misunderstood. By no means every missionary or Chinese Christian invoked their defence, and so far as the Christians are concerned these clauses in practice have become almost a dead letter.

"The present situation in China and the impending revision of the treaties make it important to consider now what the effect would be upon missionary work in that country if the 'toleration clauses' are not re-enacted. Without entering upon too detailed a discussion of these questions, it is suggested that the effect with reference to the special missionary privileges would be as follows:-

"(1) Religious toleration. It has been stated above that generally speaking, these clauses are already obsolete so far as the protection of Chinese Christians is concerned. Religious liberty and freedom of conscience in China are no longer dependent upon treaties with foreign powers. The Chinese people themselves will strenuously defend this principle. In the framing of a constitution for the Republic, efforts were repeatedly made for the recognition of Confucianism as the state religion. Christians, Buddhists, and Moslems united in successful opposition to that proposal. There is great gain in having these universal rights recognized in the national law of China rather than to depend upon the enforcement of them by foreign powers.

"(2) Missionary travel and residence. The right of missionaries to travel and to reside for the purposes of their work anywhere in China might be curtailed if the treaties do not continue to provide for these privileges. This possibility should not be overlooked and the risks should be bravely accepted. At the same time, it must be said that such a result is now extremely unlikely. The missionary stations already established would be protected as being already in the legal possession of the missions, and the opening of new stations would depend upon winning the goodwill of local gentry and people, as is now the case. Furthermore, it should not be impossible to safeguard these privileges in so far as that may be desirable and right in the negotiations for the revision of these treaties, so that they will be guaranteed by voluntary legislation of the Chinese government. It would again be a great gain if these privileges could be secured in that way rather than to have them imposed upon China by Western governments.

"(3) Missionary safety. For the safety of their lives, excepting as they reside in the treaty ports, the mis-missionaries do not now depend upon foreign gun-boats or governments. Such protection is practically impossible and ineffective for the missionaries, most of whom now live in the interior, many of them far beyond the range of foreign police or military forces. These missionaries are now and have always been dependent upon the goodwill of the people among whom they live and upon the protection of the Chinese government authorities. When missionary lives have been lost through local riots or other disturbances, it has been the general custom not to ask indemnities for them. The frank and complete recognition of this reliance upon the Chinese government and upon the goodwill of the Chinese people would also be a great gain.

"(4) Property titles. In the future, the property of the churches in China in increasing measure will be acquired by those churches themselves and should be in all respects subject to the laws of China and of Chinese administration. The security of the titles of foreign property will be safeguarded in the same way as all other legal interests of all foreigners in China. In other words, those property interests of the missions will be included in the consideration of the question of extraterritorial jurisdiction. If the new codes of law in China and the new courts are found to be sufficiently satisfactory by the international commission to be appointed to enquire regarding these matters, the missions will then have no reason to ask for any exception to be made in their favour, but together with all other foreign interests in China may entrust the legal protection of their property to the Chinese courts. If it should be found necessary to provide during some transitional or preparatory period for certain special courts or other legal safeguards, the missions would naturally and readily accept such arrangements. It would appear, therefore, that these property interests need not be of an insuperable difficulty when the toleration clauses no longer protect them.

"This brief review of what the probable effects of the annulling of the toleration clauses in the treaties would have upon missionary work in China is not complete unless we think also of what the favourable results would be. No consideration need be given to the suggestion that such a change would do much to win the goodwill of the leaders of Chinese public opinion. Questions of what is just and right should not be influenced by considerations of mere policy. It is important, however, to recognize the benefit that will be secured by relieving the church in China of the handicap of these unnecessary connections with foreign governments, and the missionaries of working under conditions imposed by military power. The spiritual message of the Christian religion, the gospel of Jesus Christ, will be more readily understood and more readily accepted if entirely set free from any connection with foreign governments."

THE ARRIVAL OF MISS ANNE MAURINE BUTLER

The University community extends heartiest congratulations to Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Butler to whom a daughter was born on Sunday, October 25th.

MARTIAL LAW IN TSINAN

One of the signs of the present state of martial law in Tsinan which is of particular importance to the Nankuan residents is the closing of the wei-tzu gate at 10 p.m. The gate-keepers go by their own time, which may vary from the University clock by as much as half an hour, always on the side of an earlier closing. No leniency whatever is allowed, the keys being taken to the yamen as soon as the gate is locked, and woe betide any belated individual who wishes to pass through thereafter! Spare beds in friends' houses are now being frequently demanded by tardy wayfarers locked in or out. Possibly the early closing may have a good result in shortening meetings of the Senate and of the various faculties.

THE SOCIETY FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF CHRISTIAN LITERATURE IN CHINA

There has now been organized a society under the above title with Prof. T. C. Chao as Chairman of its Executive Committee, and Mr. J. Wesley Shen as its Secretary. Meantime the Society has its headquarters at Soochow University. The organization has come about as the result of two Retreats of Christian writers called together under the China Christian Literature Council during the autumn of 1927. It is proposed that until the Society shall be in a position to train writers it should devote its efforts to the production of original literature and the work of translation. Its attention will be directed especially to books which have to do with the background of Christian life and historical Christianity. It means to have "all universal Christian classics" put into Chinese. It is hoped that in this way the Christian group in China, in the words of the report, "will begin to interpret our religious experience in terms of both the East and the West and to make ourselves and our culture, with its deep religious significance, known to the world." An effort will be made to stimulate an interest in writers' conferences and in the carrying on of summer institutes, in cooperation with Christian colleges, for the training of writers. The Society "exists specifically for the purpose of laying the intellectual foundation of the Christian movement in China and supplying our people with a reasonable Christian philosophy of life." The Society has already completed the translation of Dr. Fosdick's "The Modern Use of the Bible". Prof. T. C. Chao has been engaged upon two books, "Fifty Prayers", and "Religious Poetry". Works on such subjects as Religious Psychology, the Chinese Conception of Prayer, Comparative Religions, etc., are projected.

At a time when attention is being specially directed toward the necessity for emphasis upon China's ancient culture and the stimulus to fresh and independent thinking on the part of the leaders of the Christian movement, the starting of such an enterprise will commend itself to all. In spite of the excellent work that has been done by different organisations for the production of Christian literature we have scarcely begun to supply the demand. The new society which has just begun its work should receive a hearty welcome.

WELCOME TO REV. AND MRS. TEWKSBURY

The entire Tsinan missionary community joins in a most earnest welcome to the Rev. and Mrs. M. Gardner Tewksbury, who have this week arrived in the city and taken up their residence in the East Suburb compound of the Presbyterian Mission. Mr. Tewksbury will be engaged in special work which will take him to schools and colleges all over China. Mr. Tewksbury is already well known to most of the community, and the smaller number who know Mrs. Tewksbury appreciate how delightful an addition to our number she will also prove to be. On Friday afternoon, November 6th, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Scott of the East Suburb will be host and hostess at a tea given especially to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Tewksbury.

VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Lord and Dr. Mary Gell of Pingyin have been spending a few days in Tsinan.

WOMEN STUDENTS

Friends of the University will be pleased to know that the number of women students for the present semester has increased to 53. The Dean predicts that at the present rate of increase we shall be compelled to seek more dormitory accommodation not later than 1926. Twelve missions or churches are represented among the women students who come from 13 of the 21 provinces of China, with one from Korea. The present distribution of these students among the various courses is

School of Medicine	21	School of Arts & Science
School of Theology	7	Pre-medical	9
		Sub-freshmen	6
		Dep. of Education	10

"The above facts show that with only two years of history behind it the Women's Unit of Shantung Christian University is already serving a large constituency, and this service would increase if the School of Arts and Science were fully open to women." It is further pointed out that among Christian Universities there are only two others; Yenching, in Peking, and Ginling in Nanking, which have as representative constituencies, and in both of these the medium of instruction is English. This circumstance would point to a special opportunity for Cheeloo to take a large part in the training of women students in all departments.

STUDENT GROUPS

The tendency to exaggerate the apparent defects in our campus life is ever with us. When we discuss our prayer-life and Bible study we are apt to begin from zero with the supposition that nothing is being done. It might be refreshing if we could all know the facts as to what is actually going on week by week. Closer contact with the students during the past two or three weeks in an effort to discover actual conditions as to religious life has been most encouraging. There are several live groups for Bible study being carried on with the aid of members of staff, both connected with the School of Medicine and on the campus outside. New groups are being formed. The effort is to make the process a natural one, and so avoid unnecessary or superfluous organisation. It is a pleasure to find the Christian Endeavour group again active in the new term. The choir for morning worship at the chapel suddenly received a large accession of members at the beginning of the present week. This was due to the initiative and the eagerness to serve on the part of the above society. There is a feeling among students that it would be well to have membership in the Student Christian Association made more real by applying more strictly the actual standard of the association so that it would no longer be true that a student by virtue of connection with a certain school becomes nominally a member of its Student Christian Association. A definite statement as to work actually being done in this connection and as to opportunities for usefulness on the part of interested members of staff (and we ought all to be interested) will be circulated shortly.

OPENING OF SHADYSIDE HOSPITAL, WEIHSIEN

On Friday morning of last week Miss Dinkelacker and Drs. Struthers, Knox, and Heimburger went to Weihsien to attend the opening of the new Shadyside Hospital. This is a 50-bed modern building with modern wards, private rooms, and excellent appointments, built by the American Presbyterian Mission. The building adjoins the present compound and is located on a plot of ground sufficient for further expansion.

On Friday evening, October 23rd, a meeting was held in the church, at which the nurses were given their arm bands, the women nurses also receiving their caps. On the following morning the hospital was officially opened before an audience of students, gentry, and peasants numbering approximately 500.

The program was as follows:-

Opening Prayer	Rev. J. Ashley Fitch, D.D.
Address of Welcome	Dr. Chang Yang Chuan
Song	Girls' School
Address	"The History of the New Hospital"
	Rev. Chang Chung Wen
Song	Point Breeze Academy
Address	"Functions of a Hospital in a Community"
	Dr. L. F. Heimburger
Song	Nurses Training School
Benediction	Rev. C. C. Van Deusen
Ceremony of Opening the Door-	Mr. Ts'ao, County Magistrate.

The administrative and professional staff of the hospital consists of the following:-

Dr. Chang Tung Hsin (S.C.U.), Superintendent
 Dr. E. M. Ewers, Surgeon in Charge
 Dr. E. E. Murray, Physician in Charge
 Dr. Chang Yang Chuan (S.C.U.) Physician
 Miss Puth A. Brack, R.N., Superintendent of Nurses.

The Shadyside Hospital administers to the needs of approximately two million people. Besides the regular hospital clientele it is situated in an area where kala azar is endemic. Medical work was started in Weihsien station in 1889, and, except for a short period following 1900, the work has been progressing without interruption ever since that time.

The Weihsien community and the mission work there should be congratulated on the new building now opened for service.

AUGUSTINE LIBRARY

The Library is grateful to Dr. Cochran and to Mr. Butler for sending The Outlook and The Union Seminary Review.

Members of staff are reminded that before any book is assigned as a reference book for a whole class, an advance notification to this effect should be sent to the Library.

NEWS ITEMS

Mrs. Watson and Rhoda left on Tuesday night for Tsingtao en route for England. They hope to be able to transfer their passages to the S.S. "Mantua", by which steamer Dr. and Mrs. Bethell of Choutsun are sailing. We wish them all a very pleasant journey.

Mr. Charles H. Lavers of the Mission Architects Bureau spent the week-end in Tsinan. Mr. Lavers has had years of experience in superintending building operations in China and he has given us valuable advice in the development of plans for the new hospital.

REQUEST FOR ASSISTANCE IN RED CROSS WORK

A request has been received from the Tsinan branch of the National Red Cross Society that the Medical School assign two physicians and ten students to assist in the care of the wounded near Hsüchowfu. Dr. Wheeler has gone down on behalf of the Medical Faculty to see what is needed, and steps are being taken to organise a Red Cross unit for help if necessary.

MEETING OF ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL

The autumn meeting of the Administrative Council was held on Wednesday of this week. Owing to war conditions it proved impossible to muster a quorum, but important business was transacted which will be submitted to the absent members for their approval. The various committees and Senate will breathe a sigh of relief to know that the Requirements for Degrees and the Bylaws of the Field Board of Managers as prepared in preliminary draft were approved and will be transmitted to the Board of Governors.

The Council also gave its approval of plans for an Extension Course to be carried on by the School of Theology. The urgent need of the churches and Missions for religious workers such as cannot be trained in our present theological course must not be disregarded.

TOLERATION CLAUSE

The last mail from Britain brought news of the action taken by the Standing Committee of the Conference of Missionary Societies. The Committee has frankly stated that Mission Boards are prepared for the abolition of all special privileges enjoyed by missionaries in China, in favour of some new agreement between China and the Powers, in which China takes her place as a sovereign state and an equal. Dr. Balme contributed an important paper to the Conference held by the Committee dealing with the whole question of the China treaties and their effect upon the missionary situation. This news, together with the statement to Boards from Dr. Warnshuis which is quoted in part in our last Bulletin, goes to show how keen is the interest in both North America and Britain in this vital question.

UNIVERSITY LECTURES

We are fortunate in being able to secure as lecturers in connection with our course for this winter, Major W. S. Patton and Dr. Edward Hindle. We have already had an opportunity to see these gentlemen at work and have profited by their special knowledge in their own field of research. The subject of Dr. Hindle's Lecture will be "Disease and History" while Major Patton will deal with "Insects and Disease". Information as to time and place for these lectures will be found in the weekly calendar and on special announcements to be issued shortly. Please make this opportunity widely known among your friends.

STAFF NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Jacot have taken up their residence in New York and begun their work in Columbia. "After a pleasant two or three months in the country" the head of the Biology Department is putting all his time into research work in Botany, while Mrs. Baker is engaged with child Welfare and Dietetics.

Mr. D.C. Baker writes from Berkeley, California: "I am pretty well occupied with teaching, 'of a different sort! plus study, 'of a different sort!', this furlough year. I was a bit doubtful of my ability to 'come back! as they say, in a big Western institution of learning like this State University with its nine thousand students in the academic department. But I find the vision which a man gets in the Orient is broader than the one of the average man in the chair at college over here; and they are more interested in my little opinions on China than I had ever imagined. Also the hundred and fifty young freshmen and sophomores to whom I impart weekly doses of knowledge seem to treat me very respectfully as a veteran of the wars, - so I really am beginning to think I have grown up since I left here just ten years ago. I am a teaching fellow for the year, and feel quite honoured that they let me in Mrs. Baker and the children are all very well and enjoying the chickens and oranges, and all the other goodies of Southeran California!"

We are all greatly delighted to know that Dr. Han has returned home after an anxious fortnight engaged in negotiating for the release of his father from the hands of bandits. The latter has now returned in safety to his home.

WOMEN'S CLUB.

The November meeting of the Tsinan Women's Club was a very interesting one. Members of the Needlework Group read papers on the history and types of lace-making and had a most beautiful display of various kinds of real lace, very kindly loaned by members of the Club. The Club, too, had the pleasure of welcoming about ten new members.

FOR LIGHTER MOMENTS

"The regular monthly meeting of the Husband's (or Husbands') Self-Protective Association met last Saturday evening at 9.13 in the coal-cellar of the Administration Building. The room was tastefully decorated with the flowers recently plucked from the campus, for which the Association is greatly indebted to the Chairman of the Campus Committee.

"The meeting was conducted under the auspices of the Haberdashery Group, the chair being gracefully adorned by the Rev. R.S. McHardy. The members were regaled by an illustrated symposium on haberdashery.

"Dr. Shields presented the latest thing in Morning Coats, and illustrated with many charming poses the attractiveness of this dress for afternoon wear. It was shown to be quite unsatisfactory merely as a house suit, but its advantages became obvious at once at an afternoon tea. Dr. Shields illustrated this by drinking several cups of tea to the great delectation of the club.

"Dr. Cochran gave a fascinating demonstration of tying a Harvard Bow tie without a mirror. The exhibition was thrilling in its extreme dexterity and was one of the most popular demonstrations of the evening.

"Dr. Wheeler gave several characteristic attitudes which showed to advantage the spring and autumn overcoats which are being worn this season.

"Dr. Lair gave a neat demonstration of the winter's mode in hats. He dwelt in detail upon the advantages of several types of hat, being careful to point out the disadvantages of a hat which rested upon one's ears. His demonstrations of an efficient method of raising the hat to ladies was charming in the extreme and the members all began to realise how much brighter and happier this world would be if we would but introduce a little grace and atmosphere into the apparently simple business of wearing a hat. Special difficulties were pointed out to cyclists in the matter of raising the hat in bowing to ladies while cycling. Dr. Lair explained that this was the reason he never wore a hat, but referred those cyclists who insisted on doing so to works upon this subject by Dr. J.J. Heeren.

"At this point the meeting was suddenly brought to an untimely end by the discovery that Dr. Shields during his demonstration had consumed all the tea which the members had carefully smuggled from their respective larders. But for this premature termination the members were to have been entertained by the chairman upon the topic, 'Four-in-Hand Ties and How to Tie Them!'

"The next regular meeting will be held shortly. The place of meeting may be ascertained by examining the secret sign on the north-east corner of the water tank in the north-west tower of the Hospital. The Domestic Felicity Group is responsible for this meeting."

CAN YOU SPARE YOUR COPY OF CHEELOO?

The demand for the September issue of the CHEELOO Magazine has so exceeded editorial expectations that with our supply reduced to the few copies needed for permanent files we still could make good use of at least a dozen more of the magazine. If anyone who does not wish to keep his copy for permanent reference would be kind enough to send it to the office of the University Magazine, we would appreciate the kindness.

CAMPUS NOTES

It has been decided that a competition in team games for North China will be held at Tsinan during the coming spring. The experience of the splendid meet held here during the present year ought to make us enthusiastic over this second opportunity. Cheeloo should aim to give as good an account of itself as it did on the last occasion. Our football team has been organized and regular practice is to be undertaken. It will give support to them if members of staff will forget their years, dig out their old togs, and limber up once more on the football field. Your support and participation in basket-ball will also be welcome.

The Campus Committee or someone else deserves credit for the increasing beauty of our campus during the autumn months. We have seldom had an opportunity to observe such variety of tones as greet one wherever the eye turns during these November days. The maples are especially radiant. The tiny crimson roses still linger, while the white borders seem not to fear in the least the coming blasts. Our surroundings suggest that budding artistic talent should find expression among us. What about the Sketching Group?

College Song. During the Student Retreat in September we were reminded again of the lack of a college song for Cheeloo. Our representatives at Wo Fu Ssi and other conferences find themselves at a loss when songs are wanted. We hereby issue an invitation to all and sundry to try their hand. Perhaps some interested person may feel disposed to offer a prize. Not a few of the universities known to us are still struggling with the effort to produce a suitable song! That, however, need not deter us from giving expression to the music of our souls.

DISEASE AND HISTORY

The lecture on the above subject given by Dr. Hindle of the Royal Society Commission on Kala Azar was much enjoyed and provided food for thought. His account of the rise and fall of the early civilizations in the cradle of the race round about the region now known as Mesopotamia, or more specifically the area between the Euphrates and the Tigris, with the bearing upon their history of diseases such as malaria and hook worm, was most suggestive. In the British Medical Journal just to hand is recorded a case in point from South China. Dr. B. Boeckh of the Basle Mission reports that in 1923 Sun Yat Sen made a move from Canton up the East River, starting from the area of endemic malignant malaria against which the natives of the delta had a certain immunity, though his troops had none, many of them being northern Chinese, without experience either of malaria or tropical heat. The summer was very wet, with quite unusual inundations in the delta and the valley where the troops lay. In consequence the September swarms of mosquitoes came out in myriads. The people of the district knew their risks and sheltered in their houses, while inexperienced northerners became heavily infected. They had neither quinine nor mosquito protection. As soon as the floods had subsided, Sun, by quick march up the right bank of the East River, reached Hoyün in a few days. Poor food and over-exertion in the heat on the way had exhausted his men. The river crossing was opposed and their malarial infection began to manifest itself. The people of Hoyün who lived outside the walled city fled in thousands to the walled mission station. Sun's troops flooded the mission hospital. Fourteen hundred malarial cases, nearly all malignant, were received in three weeks. In October Sun's force was defeated and in flight, its route bordered by hundreds of dead and dying, overcome by hunger and malaria. The people of Hoyün suburbs now returned to their houses and in ten days Dr. Boeckh and his hospital were called upon to deal with a malignant malaria epidemic altogether novel to the district. It attacked almost exclusively the people in the open suburbs, not those in the walled city.

DR. WHEELER'S VISIT TO HSUCHOW

As reported last week, Dr. Wheeler left for Hsuehchow to investigate conditions of Red Cross work. The line, however, was so blocked with troop trains that it was impossible to reach Hsuehchow, and after a visit to Yenchow, where there were no signs of wounded, Dr. Wheeler decided to return to Tsinan, finding that there was no real need for the sending of a Red Cross unit by the Medical School. He arrived here on Sunday morning.

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS IN UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

On Saturday night word came to the Hospital that several wounded Russian soldiers of Chang Tsung Ch'ang's army were lying in a car at the station uncared for. Preparations were at once made to care for the men in the University hospital, and during the night they were brought over in an ambulance.

THE LITERARY SOCIETY

All who were in the happy position on Monday evening of being so independent of gates, walls, and telephone calls that they could attend the meeting of the Literary Society had reason to congratulate themselves on their good fortune. By the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith we met in their home and amid cosy and charming surroundings had a most delightful evening.

Mrs. Smith had chosen the material for her lecture on Beethoven with rare discrimination. She gave us a suggestive and inspiring interpretation of the compositions of Beethoven as a reflexion of his life and personality. Her appreciation of the musician and his work helped us to enjoy intelligently the musical programme, which included selections from the Pathetique Sonata, the Moonlight Sonata, and several of Beethoven's Symphonies. We thank Mrs. Smith, Dr. Heath, and Mr. Harrison; they gave us an evening to be remembered.

In the unavoidable absence of Mr. King, who was one of the victims of the acute political situation of Monday evening, Dr. MacRae kindly acted as Chairman.

TSINAN FOREIGN SCHOOL

The staff of the Foreign School asks for good cheerful pictures, preferably in colour, to make bright and interesting the two north rooms, now being used by grades 1, 2, and 3. The children and teachers would so much appreciate some beauty on otherwise austere bare, white walls which are really rather prison-like. The children work well even amid such surroundings, and we are sure that pictures would inspire them to tremendous efforts. We particularly hope you will respond to this appeal and that you will include one of your own signed masterpieces in water colours when you send your contribution.

The work of the fall term has been unusually successful. The School is fortunate in having the assistance of Mrs. McHardy, Mrs. Poulsen, Miss McClure, and Dr. Heeren in the academic work; and of Miss Nunn, Mr. Murray, and Mr. Stanley in the drills, dances, and team games.

FACULTY-STUDENT TENNIS

In the faculty-student tennis tournament on Saturday, November 7th, there was much good playing on both sides. The students played a good sporting game throughout but lost to the staff 3 sets to 1. Butler and Harrison defeated Chu Pang Jen and Cheng Shan Ming, 6/0, 6/1, 6/2. Lair and Li defeated Hsu Mu Hsien and Mr. Li, 6/4, 6/4, 6/3. Patton and Shields defeated Kao En Pei and Chang Ch'ing Te 7/5, 6/3, 4/6.

LECTURES ON CHURCH POLITY

A series of lectures is being given in the School of Theology on the principles and polity of the denominations represented in the student body. Lectures and dates are as follows, the hour being in each case 9:00 am. unless noted.

Nov. 9. Presbyterian Polity Rev. Yi Hsing Lin
Nov. 16. Baptist Polity Rev. A. G. Greening
Nov. 22 or 29. Methodist Polity Rev. Wang Ch'ang T'ai
Dec. 7. Congregational Polity Sec. Chang Heng Ch'iu

If possible, a lecture on Episcopal polity will also be added.

A MODERN UNIVERSITY

Dr. E. W. Wallace has called our attention to a valuable book by Dr. Abraham Flexner, Secretary of the General Education Board in the United States, entitled: "The Modern College and the Modern School", in which Dr. Flexner argues for "putting purpose into college education" and a consequent need for a sharper distinction between college and graduate school than exists at present. In the October number of the Atlantic Monthly appears an article from the same writer with a discriminating estimate of college and university education. It deals in the first instance with conditions in American institutions, but its judgments are applicable to many others as well. For us in China it bristles with suggestions and raises many questions as to educational policy in our Christian universities. He compares existing universities to a department store. "The department store is one of the triumphs of commercial genius", he writes, "it purveys excellence as well as mediocrity and inferiority. Its tendency and effect have been not only to bring the products of science, skill, and art to the doors of all, but also to elevate the level of public taste. This is precisely what the large American universities are doing, diffusing knowledge at the current level and by their very act raising the level, and not only diffusing knowledge but in laboratories and libraries tucked away in corners of the great institution refining it and adding to its sum." He continues: "On the intellectual side with which I am specially concerned, the colleges have adopted an attitude and installed a mechanism which are in my judgment irrelevant. They are too conventional, too narrow in social and intellectual outlook, too credulous of the efficacy of machinery. Individuality should not be suppressed while it is being trained. Human institutions are so defective and society so far from being really civilised that criticism ought to form an active element in education at every stage - criticism of ethics, politics, institutions, and so forth. Youthful radicalism is better than youthful smugness." Dr. Flexner feels strongly that the college as a continuation of the general education of high school should end at latest with the sophomore year. From that time on students should devote themselves to special preparation for their profession. The method employed with the two types of students should be radically different. The University should not lend itself to "the disciplinary and directive business of the secondary school. . . On the whole the intellectual interests of all parties are likely to be promoted by the detachment of the graduate school from the undergraduate college. In the graduate school the student should be left to do independent, individual study, with ample facilities of which he should make his own use."

The article raises the question as to whether the Christian colleges in China should undertake graduate work at present, and whether graduate courses should be developed at each of our eighteen colleges. It is possible that by looking upon our colleges as an organic whole we should do better to plan for one or two graduate institutions.

NEWS ITEMSCHINA IN THE WORLD'S PRESS

The past few months have served to put China on the map so far as the world's press is concerned. Everybody feels quite competent to write about her affairs. One beneficial result is bound to be an awakened interest in all that concerns her future welfare. At the same time few who do write seem to escape the sin of generalisation. After all, what special qualifications has any man who actually knows only a tiny cross-section of China bounded by the walls of a residence compound, or the limits of a particular mission field, or who has never travelled beyond the confines of a treaty port, to write about the whole life of this great people? The constant complaint made against the vernacular press, as against foreign papers in China, is that their news is unreliable, that their judgment is ill-advised, and that often they tend to shun unwelcome truth. Apparently the fact is less readily acknowledged that sweeping generalisations, especially in a situation which is admittedly complex beyond all description, are apt to be only another form of untruth, because they represent deductions made from insufficient or unverified data. Provided that our observations are worthy of being made public, it may be quite justifiable for us to rush into print with an account of actual concrete happenings within our own sphere. On the other hand it behooves all foreign residents in China to consider seriously the impressions created by public utterances, both among our Chinese friends and associates and in our home constituencies. The difficulty of maintaining the good will and solid support of the great Christian communities of the west, on the part of those responsible for the missionary enterprise, is, in the nature of the case, quite sufficiently great. Its difficulty is bound to be increased when workers in China thus provide ammunition for those who are easily disposed to lose faith in China and the great Christian enterprise here. What makes this flood of copy all the more fraught with danger is the evident note of pessimism which runs through much of it. Faced with such a situation as ours in China today, it does not seem — to us at least — to be distinctly the Christian thing to sound a note of resignation or regret because the labours of our missionary body in some cases apparently have evoked little gratitude among Chinese Christians; nor is it entirely to be bewailed that circumstances tend to foster the desire for separation and independence on their part.

The Christian cause is, in the nature of the case, a Great Adventure. Must we then admit that some of our candid friends outside the Christian communion are right in the observation that the missionary of today lacks something of the heroism and utter devotion of his forerunners? At least the Christian thing to do is to take the future with a cheer, come what will. Mr. T. Z. Koo has recently said, "God, in His mysterious providence for the future of mankind, has taken China into the hollow of His hand, breathed upon her and said, 'Let there be life', and life has come, surging and turbulent, at that command." Let us beware of seeking to fit this seething new life into our "little systems."

DESCRIPTIVE BOOKLET

An illustrated, descriptive booklet of some fifty pages, entitled "Shantung Christian University", has at last made its debut. The cover, in gray or brown, with its artistic design by Mr. F. S. Drake, is distinctly pleasing. The booklet is packed full of information. The letter-press, both Chinese and English — which, by-the-way, is remarkably free from errors — is truly descriptive of the whole life of the University. Here will be found many salient facts about Cheeloo and its aims. It will be a surprise to some to realise how far-reaching is the work undertaken. Nothing has been neglected. Some of the half-tones are of the "pale cast" variety and could be improved, while in a few instances the printers' ink seems to have been scattered about unnecessarily. The booklet should be distinctly useful both in China and abroad in presenting the claims of Cheeloo for support. Some of us who have recently attempted to cultivate interest in the University in the home constituency would have given much to have in hand so suitable a publication. The booklet has been prepared under the editorship and supervision of Mr. B. A. Garside; with the help of a committee among whom special mention should be made of Mr. Leo Teh-chin and Mr. D. C. Baker. The finished product represents a vast amount of painstaking effort on the part of the editor, to whom is largely due the credit for having made it the success which it is. Copies may be had at the office of the Cheeloo Magazine, McCormick Hall. The price, which is twenty cents per copy, represents the actual cost of production.

MISSION BOARDS AND TREATIES

News has reached China of action taken by an unofficial meeting on October 2nd and 3rd of officers and members of Mission Boards and Societies in the United States and Canada having work in China, with reference to "the present conditions of missionary work in China". The following resolutions were adopted:-

"Whereas, we heartily sympathize with China in her aspirations for just, equal, and fraternal relations with other nations, and in her sense of the present injustice of existing treaties, and

"Whereas; we believe that the developments that have taken place in China in the course of several decades necessitate the revision of the existing treaties between China and other Powers,-

"Therefore, be it resolved:-

"1. With reference to the existing treaties:

"That we urge the early revision of the treaties with China in such a way as to give effective application to the following principles agreed upon in the treaty signed by nine Powers in Washington on February 6, 1922, namely:

"Article 1. "The Contracting Powers," other than China, agree:

- "(1) To respect the sovereignty, the independence, and the territorial and administrative integrity of China;
- "(2) To provide the fullest and most unembarrassed opportunity to China to develop and maintain for herself an effective and stable government;
- "(3) To use their influence for the purpose of effectually establishing and maintaining the principle of equal opportunity for the commerce and industry of all nations throughout the territory of China;
- "(4) To refrain from taking advantage of conditions in China in order to seek special rights or privileges which would abridge the rights of subjects or citizens of friendly States, and from countenancing action inimical to the security of such States.

"2. With reference to extraterritorial jurisdiction:

- "a. That we express ourselves in favor of the abolition of extraterritoriality in China at an early date.
- "b. That we further express the opinion that the determination of that date and of the provisions that may be considered mutually desirable should be undertaken cooperatively on terms of equality by China and the other Powers.

"3. With reference to the treaty provisions according special privileges to missions and missionaries:

- "a. That, when our respective governments negotiate the new treaties which are so urgently needed, we wish it to be understood that we do not desire any distinctive privileges for missions and missionaries imposed by treaty upon the Chinese government and people.

- "b. That correlatively we consider it desirable that the Chinese Government by such legislation as may be deemed necessary, define the rights and privileges of missionaries, in particular to acquire and hold property and to carry forward their work in China.
- "c. We also express our desire and judgment that the principle of religious liberty should be reciprocally recognized in all future relationships between China and other nations."

R. O. HALL FOR CHINA

The following item of news from the British Student Movement will be of interest to many:- "R. O. Hall goes to help T. Z. Koo in the work of the Student Christian Movement. As inter-college secretary in Newcastle and latterly as missionary secretary he has done a fine piece of work. The Movement has had few secretaries with such a gift for inspiring interest and enthusiasm in the colleges. We are glad to think that he will continue to do Student Movement work though in another land."

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

Under the auspices of the Tsinan American Association a special Thanksgiving Service is arranged for next Thursday at 11:30 a.m. in the Kumler Memorial Chapel. The American Consul will read President Coolidge's proclamation, and Dr. C. E. Scott will deliver a Thanksgiving sermon. All members of the University and the business community are cordially invited to be present at the service.

A NOTE OF THANKS

"The Executive Committee of the Tainanfu Industrial Work wishes to express their gratitude to the Tsinan friends who cooperated so generously in the recent sale of work held in your city. Without this help our work must have had to close down, because no checks whatever can be negotiated except those from Tsinan. The young accountant-secretary had to wait three days near the railway station to get a train, and then finally was allowed to ride on a troop train, arriving here at three o'clock in the morning. The whole trip up and back took him a week!

Chairman"

UNIVERSITY ALUMNUS ACCEPTS A POSITION IN TSINGTAU FOREIGN OFFICE

Mr. Chou Pao Shan, an alumnus who graduated with the class of 1921, has recently been appointed head of the Department of American and European Affairs in the Foreign Office at Tsingtau. The University community joins in wishing Mr. Chou a most successful career in the government service he is thus undertaking.

REGULAR FALL MEETING OF THE TSINAN BRANCH OF THE CHINA MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

This meeting was called to order by the President, Dr. J. M. Gaston of Laichowfu, at 9:30 a.m. November 18th, 1925, in the Medical School of Shantung Christian University. A program of more than usual interest was possible because of the kindness of Dr. Hindle and Major Patton who are in Tsinan doing research on Kala-azar for the Royal Society of Great Britain.

After opening devotional exercises, Dr. Gaston introduced Dr. Hindle who read a paper and discussed "Water Spirichetes", with especial emphasis on the presence of the spirichete Icterohemorrhagica, responsible for infectious jaundice in tap water. Later a microscope demonstration of a culture made from the Tsinan "pure" water supply was given.

Dr. Struthers followed Dr. Hindle with a review of Typhoid Fever cases treated this fall in the hospital wards. Charts were shown and the types of cases compared with similar groups of cases at home, with reference to the frequency of hemorrhage, which in several cases was felt to be due to amebiasis. After finishing the paper, the meeting adjourned to the wards, where the discussion of clinical cases of typhoid and jaundice was continued.

Owing to the recent military manoeuvres, unusual numbers of soldiers suffering from gunshot wounds were in the wards; the more interesting cases of fracture and bone grafts were shown by Drs. Wheeler and Wright.

Dr. Heimbürger remarked on the increasing number of patients with meningo-myelitis, and showed two patients with spastic paralysis of myelitic origin.

The afternoon session opened with a paper on "The Surgical Pathology of Hemorrhoids" by Dr. H. W. S. Wright. The session continued in the Protozoology Laboratory, where Major Patton gave a most interesting talk on "Some Blood-sucking Insects Collected in and Around Tsinan". Mounted specimens of blood-sucking flies, mosquitoes, gnats, and sandflies were shown, with specimens of larvae. The microscope enabled all to see the points of difference, and a great deal of interest was aroused. In fact, so much enthusiasm was shown that Major Patton was prevailed upon to give a special course in Entomology to members of the staff, the date to be arranged in the near future.

The meeting adjourned informally as members finished the round of specimens, but the Association wishes to record its appreciation of the interesting session, and to extend a vote of thanks to Drs. Hindle and Patton who opened afresh to us the possibilities of research.

STAFF NOTES

A number of members of the University community have been discovering of late that travel on the Tsing-Pu railway possesses rather too much of the spice of uncertainty as to when one is to reach his destination. Just now it appears that Dr. and Mrs. Cochran are lost somewhere between Peking and Tsinan, since they were supposed to leave the former city on Wednesday of this week, but at the time of our going to press they had not yet arrived here.

FURLOUGH OF DR. AND MRS. COCHRAN

At its recent meeting the Senate of the University took action appointing Dr. P. T. Shields as Acting Dean of the School of Medicine, in view of the prospective sailing of Dr. and Mrs. Cochran on furlough early in January. This early relief from the Dean's office on the part of Dr. Cochran has been found necessary owing to the condition of his health. For some time past, though he has been giving himself with his wonted energy and enthusiasm to the work of the Medical School and of the whole University, he has done so under more than usual strain. It is essential, according to medical opinion, that Dr. Cochran should immediately be given full opportunity to rest. He will continue to assist in the making of plans and preparations for the erection of the new hospital, but will otherwise be set free from his usual duties.

It is the sincere hope of Dr. Cochran's host of friends that a period of absence in America may result in complete restoration.

INDEXED

THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT AND PRIVATE EDUCATION

A statement has just been issued by the Board of Education, Peking, which is of first-rate interest to all who have to do with Christian education in China. The English form of the statement has not yet come to our hands. The following ideas, however, are extracted from the Chinese as published in the press, though not intended to be a translation:-

In general, educational institutions established and supported under foreign auspices are to be dealt with in the same way as other similar institutions of a private nature. The conditions on which recognition and registration under the Chinese government can be secured as indicated in this new statement are intended to replace all regulations formerly promulgated. They are as follows:-

1. All Schools and Colleges established and supported by foreigners should be conducted in accordance with the standards of similar institutions established under the Government Board of Education.
2. Such schools and colleges shall indicate in the name used in each case that they are of a "private" character.
3. The President should be a Chinese. In cases where a foreigner occupies the post there should be a Chinese vice-president who can act as representative of the institution in seeking for the privilege of recognition by the Board of Education.
4. Where such schools and colleges are under direction of a Board of Control the majority of its members should be Chinese.
5. The institution should not exist for the purpose of teaching religion.
6. The curriculum of studies should be in accordance with what is determined by the Board of Education, and religion should not be included among the compulsory subjects.

ACCIDENT TO DR. C. F. JOHNSON

A few days ago a cablegram reached China stating that while crossing the Atlantic enroute for China, via Europe, Dr. Johnson was injured when on shipboard. It seems that while the ship was in the midst of a storm Dr. Johnson sustained a serious fall which resulted in a fractured arm and a badly bruised side. Dr. Johnson and the other members of the party will probably be delayed some weeks as the result of this accident. Complete details are not yet available, but we trust that the accident to Dr. Johnson will not prove to be a serious one.

NEWS OF DR. AND MRS. MOSSE

A letter from Dr. Mosse in London reports them all well. He is working in the hospitals while Mrs. Mosse is taking a course in Economics at London University.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS

This week we extend hearty congratulations to Dr. and Mrs. Han, to whom a son was born on November 23rd.

We also offer our warm congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harkness on the occasion of the arrival of little Miss Mary Elizabeth, on November 24th.

CONFERENCE OF CHRISTIAN RURAL LEADERS

Under the auspices of the College of Agriculture and Forestry of the University of Nanking a three-days' Conference is to be held at that centre, from Feb. 2nd to 5th. Its main purpose is to concentrate attention on the vital problem of how to provide a programme for the Rural Church which shall be more distinctly suited to rural conditions and to bring rural leaders in closer touch with the work of the College of Agriculture and Forestry. Its programme includes such interesting subjects as "The Use of Plays in the Programme of Rural Schools and Churches", "Rural Education", "Rural Services", "The Mass Education Movement and the Rural Christian Church", "Service Projects for the Rural Church", "Rural Cooperation Credit Societies", and the like.

If we mean business in our expressed purpose to make a distinct contribution to both the improvement of rural life and the instruction of the great rural population of our immediate constituency in the things of Christ, this Conference provides us with an opportunity to become better acquainted with actual conditions, and the means of dealing with them. The College of Agriculture and Forestry at Nanking will provide entertainment for all delegates.

EASTERN SHANTUNG GROWING APPREHENSIVE

With the gradual withdrawal of the Shantung troops from the southern part of the province, and the growing difficulty of any retreat northward, a situation seems to be developing which is causing much uneasiness throughout the eastern part of the province. Travellers on the Kiao-Tsi railway report the movement of large numbers of troop and supply trains, most of them headed eastward, with the result that ordinary traffic is seriously delayed and sometimes paralyzed altogether. These troops appear to be concentrating in Tsingtao, Choutsun, and Weihsen. In the last named city particularly this concentration is very marked, most of the city gates are closed, and business is almost at a standstill. So far little actual disorder has occurred, but it is feared that should these troops be defeated and their retreat cut off the effect would be most disastrous for the districts where they are stationed. For several days a bandit army was in possession of the city of Fang-tzu but they withdrew without a great deal of disorder or looting. As yet practically all the mission schools in the district are continuing their work without interruption, though many of the government schools have been forced to close. There are frequent rumors of an impending break in the Kiao-Tsi railway, which is now Tsinan's main connecting link with the outside world, but as yet mail has managed to get through, eventually, and passengers have all at last reached their destinations, even though sometimes greatly delayed.

SERVICE IN MEMORY OF QUEEN ALEXANDRA

A memorial service will be held tomorrow (Sunday, November 29th) at twelve o'clock noon in St. Paul's Hostel.

The Rev. W. G. Mawson will officiate. The address will be given by the Rev. E. W. Burt, M. A.

LEST WE FORGET

The Publicity Department must settle the printers' bill for the descriptive booklet on December 1st, so it would welcome a prompt receipt of all the small amounts due from the various members of the staff. Additional copies of the booklet are available for anyone who desires them.

CAMPUS NOTES

The Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Burt have now gone to Tsing-chowfu to take up residence there. They will be greatly missed on the campus. Provided travel by rail remains a possibility we shall expect frequent visits from them.

The pass-word on the campus at present is "Watch that gate". As a result it is physically impossible to hold some of our usual meetings as arranged. May we call attention to the fact that in order to allow those inside the suburb to enter before the gate closes, the lecture by Major Patton on Thursday, December 10th, will be given at five o'clock in the evening, instead of at eight as was previously announced.

In the September issue of the "American Food Journal" will be found a most informing article by Dr. W. H. Adolph, entitled "The Story of Chinese Food". It provides a basis for comparison of foods used in China and in the West respectively. It is of special interest from an economic point of view.

WORSHIP IN SCHOOL

Under this title Dr. Luella Miner has published a most instructive article in the October number of the "Educational Review". The whole article will well repay study. It is specially concerned with worship in middle schools; that it is applicable, however, to many other schools as well is easily apparent. We quote the opening paragraph: "A sensitive observer visiting our Church schools in North China would probably share my conviction that in our entire educational program our most conspicuous failure is in religious education, that in religious education our weakest point is school worship, and that in school worship our most painful defects appear in boys' middle schools. In the primary grades, while the spirit of worship may be lacking, the spirit of irreverence is not rampant, and in colleges, especially in those where the attendance is voluntary, a sense, far too faint, of 'the eternal fitness of things' has developed to the extent of restraining some excesses. No wonder that in a recent questionnaire circulated among undergraduates in eleven colleges, worship was placed eighth on the list of religious influences which had molded the lives of the students!"

The "photograph" which Dr. Miner outlines is undoubtedly true to what we have frequently observed in school worship. The "talk" occupies about four-fifths of the chapel time, sometimes over-runs it, and the stimulus afforded by a glance at a watch prompts the order, 'Rise and repeat the Lord's Prayer.' There may not be one link of connection between this prayer and the exhortation preceding it, and the sooner it is finished, the sooner to class, with a chance for a last peep at the textbook. The frequent misuse of the Lord's Prayer is one of the most jarring elements in our worship. Many take these beautiful words from the reverent lips of Jesus, and use them as a mere charm, a stop-gap, a substitute for the free-will offering of praise which should come from communing hearts".

Dr. Miner asks the pertinent question, "Cannot our worship be made more beautiful?" and rightly reminds us that "the Chinese love of beauty shown in architecture, painting, the forms and colors of pottery, and in the choice of locations for temples, proves that there is no natural lack of capacity here. The vast spaces and potential silences and solemnities of places like the Altar of Heaven indicate that the religion which makes no provision for reverence, contemplation, and beauty in worship will never be the indigenous religion of this great nation." There is food for thought in the suggestion that "in conducting worship some of us have been too afraid of emotion, and some too distrustful of intellect. Until they unite, as they did perfectly in Christ, who loved the Father with his whole heart and mind, religion will lack the potency and joyfulness which alone can root it in China."

SPECIAL CHOIR PRACTICES OF CHRISTMAS MUSIC

The choir will hold special practices of Christmas music on Sunday afternoons at two o'clock, commencing this Sunday. The help of Sopranos is specially required.

The Thursday evening practices will be discontinued for the time being.

was her capacity for sinking her own individuality. With grace and with patience she subordinated her life to the Throne both as Princess and Queen-Dowager. We were reminded of the peculiar difficulties of her position as Princess, when during a period of thirty eight years she was called both in the earlier and the later years to act for Queen Victoria - in the earlier years when the Queen's sorrow for the Prince Consort kept her from public life and in the later years when the Queen's age prevented her from assuming all her duties. And throughout this time Alexandra was able to act for the Queen with a loyalty and a tact which could only spring from one who possessed a happy selflessness. In later years as Queen Dowager this same characteristic shone forth. Alexandra could always step back for others, when the occasion called for it. Here again the speaker ventured to point out another lesson for his hearers. He said that they too in China, if they would know true success, must learn how to take the second place, and put others forward.

In conclusion the speaker reminded his audience that they as a British people should not make the mistake of taking the excellencies of the reigning monarch for granted - Victoria, Edward VII, Alexandra represented a great tradition - so that in 1918 when dynasties were crashing and crowns were falling, the British Crown possessed a still stronger hold on the affections of the people. The death of Alexandra was for the British people the breaking of one of the last links with the Victorian Age, and as they entered the new epoch, they remembered with grateful hearts the Queen, the well-beloved, who represented with such distinction and grace the virtues of the Age that has passed.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB

Due to the continued enforcement of martial law and the early and irregular closing of the city gates, the Woman's Club will not hold its regular monthly meeting on December 8th, but will postpone the programme until local conditions are more nearly normal. The Art Group and the Chinese Conversation Group will also discontinue meetings for the present.

CONGRATULATIONS AGAIN

Our congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. G.D. Wang on the birth of a son on December 1st.

FOOTBALL MATCH

The University played their first match of the season on Saturday last against a combined team of Chinese from the Settlement and members of the Staff. The spirit of the game was excellent, and while the match was far from being one-sided, nevertheless the University was never very hard-pressed. At half-time the score stood in their favour at two to nil. The University again scored from a penalty. For a moment the prospects of the combined team seemed a little brighter when from the resulting kick-off they broke straight away and scored. The last goal of the match in favour of the University came from a brilliant shot well out on the left wing by Pian. The final score was University 4, Staff and Settlement 1. There will be a return match this afternoon.

NEWS NOTESNEWS FROM DR. BALME

A cable from Dr. Balme states that he expects to arrive in New York at the end of January on his return journey.

COMMUNITY CAROLS

Dr. P. S. Evans, Jr., has kindly consented to assist in the preparation for the singing of Christmas carols on Christmas Day. During the next two weeks practices will be held on Friday evening at 8:15 at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Shields and of Mr. and Mrs. Harrisson respectively, while students are invited to attend a practice in Room 333 Bergen Hall on Saturday evening at seven o'clock. It is hoped that many will find time to participate in this most suitable form of Christmas celebration.

TREATIES

A number of communications have been received from the National Christian Council at Shanghai urging that action be taken by groups of missionaries with reference to the question of treaties. It is not necessary to present in detail any account of what has been done by mission boards and societies in Britain and America, inasmuch as accounts of such actions have appeared in the press generally. There seems to be, however, a number of reasons why some definite action by such a group as ours in Tsinan is advisable:

1. The Conference of British Missionary Societies and the Secretaries of Mission Boards in the United States and Canada have taken a definite stand with reference to "toleration clauses" and proposed revision of treaties.

2. Many of the Boards and Societies represented in these two groups are now asking for the opinion of their missionaries on the field in order to keep themselves well informed at first hand.

3. It would decidedly strengthen them in making representations to foreign governments if they were supported by similar action on the part of the missions which represent them in China.

4. Some of us have a distinct conviction that what has admittedly been outlived in the treaties and what works against the best interests of the Christian cause in China ought to be dealt with immediately. Delay only fosters suspicion and ill-will.

It may seem that the present is not a time for us to take any action. Clearly to call a meeting for purposes of discussion is not within the range of practical politics. It would appear, however, that since most of us are more or less familiar with the issues at stake we might be willing to indicate our attitude on certain elements in the situation regarding which there appears to be a general consensus of opinion. We have already published in our Cheeloo Bulletin No. 109 the major part of a statement issued by Dr. Warnshuis, in which he dealt specially with the so-called "toleration clauses". With reference to the vexed question of extraterritoriality, we most frankly recognize the complexity of the issues involved. Many of us will feel that the interests of other than missionary groups have also to be considered, and that among the missionary group themselves there is a vast difference between those living in the interior of the country and those in large centers of population. We feel sure that extraterritoriality must go ultimately, yet its "complete abolition at an early date" may not be practicable. What is wanted is that the first steps toward that end should be taken immediately by both China and the Powers. Possibly within a limited and suitable area an experiment could be made. Such plans are for the coming Conference to consider in line with the proposals of the Washington Conference.

DR. AND MRS. COCHRAN

A reception in honour of Dr. and Mrs. Cochran on the eve of their departure for furlough will be held in the Assembly Hall of the School of Medicine on Monday evening, December 14th, at 4 o'clock. Their many friends will want to take advantage of this opportunity to express their good-will.

MEMBERS OF STAFF OVERSEAS

Letters have just been received from Mr. Pailing, who sends Christmas greetings to all members of Cheeloo staff. He has been busy with deputation work among the churches, combined with "swotting" at biochemistry and Chinese. The climate of Old England has evidently made him pine for the autumn blue skies of Tsinan. He and his family intend to sail for China on February 26th.

A letter from Mrs. Ellis reports Dr. Ellis busy with preparations for a large meeting shortly to be held in Hove Town Hall at which Dr. Balme was to speak. Dr. and Mrs. Mosse were expecting to be there as well as Dr. Ingle and his father.

Dr. Annie V. Scott writes from Harriet Lane Hospital, Baltimore, where she is enjoying her work under Dr. Howland. She expects to go in March to New York to work in the Willard Parker Hospital for Contagious Diseases.

Mr. Baker writes from Berkeley, California, where he is busy studying and teaching, while Mrs. Baker and the children are at her home in Pasadena. He states that the Pacific Coast states are always full these days with rumors of what is going on in China, and that most of these rumors are thoroughly unreliable.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE BULLETIN!

Our enquiry for the whereabouts of the University Treasurer, otherwise known as J. W., then missing in Canada, (See Bulletin No. 105) has produced most satisfactory results. J. W. has been discovered on the sea-front at Scarborough, England, on Armistice Day, whence he sends "personal greetings to all".

PROMOTION OF CHRISTIAN HIGHER EDUCATION IN CHINA

The first meeting of a Permanent Committee for the "Coordination and Promotion of Christian Higher Education in China" has just been reported from New York. This Committee represents the Christian Higher Educational institutions in China having Boards of Trustees or Directors in the United States and Canada or under the care of North American Mission Boards. It is to be charged with the duty of arranging for and carrying through coordinated financial campaigns and promotive work at the home base. It will also constitute an advisory committee of those best able to survey the problems of higher education in China and will give counsel to the Boards of Trustees and cooperating Mission Boards as to those problems and their wise solution. The institutions reported to have given approval to this plan are Canton Christian College, Fukien Christian University, Ginling College, Hangchow Christian College, Hwa Nan College, University of Nanking, Peking University, Shantung Christian University, Yale in China, and Yenching College. These institutions have given approval on the understanding that the Permanent Committee will not put into effect any programme that affects the constituency of a specific institution or Board without the consent of the institution or Board so affected. The Permanent Committee are anxious to learn how they could best serve our needs from the point of view of the individual universities.

SCHOOL CONCERT

The children of the Tsinan Foreign School are giving a concert on Saturday, December 19th, at 3:45 p.m. in Room 333, Bergen Hall. All are cordially invited. There will be a charge of $1.00 for adults, children free. The proceeds will go to the School funds.

MATERIAL FOR THE BULLETIN

We would remind our contributors that all material for the Bulletin should be sent in by Thursday afternoon of each week if possible, and by noon Friday at the very latest. We must get copies of the Bulletin for our readers throughout the city of Tsinan into the mails early enough for them to be delivered on Saturday, and if this is to be accomplished we will need to have the Bulletin on the mimeograph a little earlier than it has been there heretofore.

THE BIRTH OF CHRIST

High cause had they, at Bethlehem, that night
To lift the curtain of Hope's hidden light,
To break decree of silence with Love's cry,
Forseeing how this Babe, born lowly,
Should Mercy to her vacant throne restore,
Teach Right to Kings, and Patience to the poor:
Should by His sweet name all names overthrow,
And by His lovely words, the quick seeds sow
Of golden equities, and brotherhood,
Of Pity, Peace, and gentle praise of Good;
Of knightly honour, holding life in trust
For God, and Lord, and all things pure and just.

Edwin Arnold.

NEWS NOTES

PEACE ON EARTH

The Italian pessimist poet, Leopardi, has written a poem entitled "My Sovereign Thought". As the Christmas season approaches once more, the "sovereign thought" of Christendom is that of peace on earth and goodwill among men. To post-war Europe the final settlement by the Locarno Pact has brought new hope and yet the aftermath of war remains with all the nations like a horrible nightmare which ought to stimulate them toward redoubled efforts to establish peace. In China we have no need to be reminded of the evils of war; the wounded crowd our hospitals; innocent citizens are daily in terror; life is held cheap; any morning we may awake to the sound of guns. In the midst of the madness of this Bedlam we may find it hard to catch the note of the angel heralds.

Many of us spend our days in teaching. To us the season brings a special message. It ought to bring genuine searchings of heart, for be it remembered that next to war-lords and professional militarists, whose first interest is to promote war, the chief responsibility for its continuance rests with those who instruct the young. Most of us will readily recall the point of view presented to us in school days in the reading of history. It may be a question whether the average teacher has to any considerable degree escaped from the tendency to exalt "my country, right or wrong", to give the impression that righteousness has always perched on the banners of his nation. An examination of school textbooks on history is most illuminating in this regard. Yet those who teach have it within their power to shape the thinking of the young so as to transform the world in a generation or two. Benjamin Kidd is surely right in his emphasis on the creative power of an idea. If we teachers allow ourselves to be gripped by this great idea of world peace, and take practical steps to have such teaching given in schools everywhere from the first grade up, we should be able to work wonders. It is high time that education and religion had begun to cooperate for world peace.

David Starr Jordan has been asking teachers "to take a broader view of history, the conception of it as the growth of mankind, rather than as a series of battles and changes of dynasties". The right lessons cannot be drawn from history unless it is true history. The World Federation of Education Associations which met in Edinburgh during the past summer has launched a campaign for international peace and righteousness through education. A resolution was passed affirming that "geography, history, and training in citizenship should be taught not only from a national point of view, but also from a modern sociological and international point of view." If the millions of school teachers there represented have the courage of their convictions "the children of one nation are to be taught the elements of likeness between themselves and the children of other nations. Textbooks for the elementary schools of the world are to be prepared 'descriptive of child life in all lands and setting forth in brief and simple form the best that each nation has achieved'. The universal elements of biography, literature and the fine arts are to be put at the disposal of school children in all lands. The increasing use of arbitration as a means of settling international disputes is to be stressed in the study of history. Geographies will portray the human race as a unit, to be dealt with internationally. 'Goodwill Days' are to be observed in the schools of the world, and children will be taught to love and respect, not hate and distrust. The destiny of world affairs is being taken out of the hands of the partisan politician. Education and religion are entering into a new coalition for the maintenance of the world's peace. That shifting of responsibility from the politician to the churchman and the educator is indicative of the great moral and spiritual reformation that is now in progress for the advancement of the human race."

China's share in this movement must be undertaken by her teachers. Let us, too, hearken to the angel voices.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES

Two services will be held in the University Chapel on Christmas Day. At ten o'clock in the morning there will be a University Service. Special Christmas anthems are being prepared by the choir. Mr. Cady will give a Christmas message.

The Choral Society, with the approval of the Church Committee, has arranged a song service in English for the afternoon at 4:30, to sing some of the old-time carols. It is hoped that this will be a real "community sing" and that we shall all enjoy it so much that we shall make it an annual custom. The children of the foreign school will sing one or two of their special carols. A considerable number of copies of the carols, with music, have been provided, and in addition 150 copies of the words are available. Dr. Evans and Mr. Harrison have been conducting carol practice for the students in preparation. All are cordially invited to be present.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT

In keeping with our earnest desire to bring students and staff into more intimate relationships is the admirable suggestion from our students that this year we unite in a special entertainment at the Christmas season. Owing to the uncertain atmosphere in which we pass our days at present, plans were somewhat late in being set on foot, but Dr. Miner and others, together with the Student Committee, are equal to such an occasion. We are to have a programme including music, reading, and Christmas tableaux. The meeting is being planned for Christmas afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Lecture Hall of the Institute. Should it prove possible next week to go abroad at night, the time may be changed to Christmas Eve. Of that more anon.

CHRISTMAS TREES

Santa is really coming! He may leave some of his load by the way, but in spite of battles and brigands the old rogue is sure to arrive. His first appearance will be at the Community Christmas Tree to be held in the Foreign School on Tuesday evening, December 22nd, from three to five o'clock. Do not miss it. Cheeloo's big family will meet to welcome him on Thursday afternoon, December 24th, from three to five o'clock. Let us all help to spread Christmas cheer and show a real Christmas spirit.

CHRISTMAS IN THE HOSPITAL

According to the usual custom, Christmas will be celebrated in the hospital by a special service in the morning, a Christmas dinner at midday, and an entertainment, arranged by the nurses, in the afternoon.

SCHOOL CONCERT

The children are giving a concert on Saturday, December 19th, at 3:45 p.m. in Room 333, Bergen Hall. There need be no anxiety about "making the gate". Adults, $1.00, children free. The proceeds are for the School Funds. We hope you will all come.

DR. AND MRS. COCHRAN

On Monday afternoon the foreign community of Tsinan, the staff of Cheeloo, and the students of the School of Medicine, met at an informal tea in honour of Dr. and Mrs. Cochran. The warmth of feeling and the heartiness of appreciation shown on the occasion must have left no doubt in the mind of anyone as to the love and esteem for both in the hearts of all present. Dr. Hou, who has known Dr. and Mrs. Cochran longer than most of us in the University, and Mr. Ch'ien, a member of the graduating class in medicine, as representing the student body, were particularly happy in their words of parting. Dr. and Mrs. Cochran have given themselves with characteristic enthusiasm and "selfish" abandon to all that makes for the good of the University and of China. Little wonder that they now require furlough and rest! Their many friends are deeply concerned about the condition of Dr. Cochran's health, and will anxiously await news of him during the coming months. Miss Margaret Cochran, who has been engaged in language study at Peking, will join her parents en route and accompany them to America. Dr. and Mrs. Cochran left on Wednesday night for Tsingtao and expect to sail from Shanghai on December 27th by the "President McKinley".

LECTURE BY MAJOR PATTON

On Friday of last week a second University lecture was given by Major W. S. Patton of the Royal Society's Kala Azar Commission. The full attendance of staff and students was ample evidence of general interest in what proved to be a most instructive lecture on "Insects and Disease". We received in attractive form from an expert in entomology a fund of information which was made intelligible to the "lay" mind. This lecture and the work of the Commission generally ought to stimulate students to undertake investigation in the field covered by this subject. It is good to know that further large funds with which to complete its research have been placed at the disposal of the Commission.

TSINAN LITERARY SOCIETY - RADIO LECTURE

The December meeting of the Literary Society on Saturday last took the form of an afternoon lecture by Prof. H. W. Harkness of the University's Department of Physics, entitled "Communications by Electro-Magnetic Waves." The lecturer led by systematic stages from simple to complex, covering all the concepts from wave motion to electron tubes. The truly remarkable part of the lecture was the profusion of demonstrations and illustrated material which had been carefully prepared. Diagrams of radio circuits on the screen, and actual experiments with electron tubes followed each other in rapid succession.

The lecture room was crowded, and this in spite of an awkward hour and early closing of city gates. Dr. Fair assisted with considerable dexterity in carrying out the demonstrations.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Garside are rejoicing in the birth of a daughter, Jean Alston. Hearty congratulations!

NEWS ITEMSDR. AND MRS. COCHRAN

Dr. and Mrs. Cochran write from Tsingtao on the point of going aboard:- "Please say to all our friends that we cannot find words to express our appreciation of all the services of love and devotion the last days have brought to us. We thank you all from our hearts and want you to know that our thoughts will be centered in Cheeloo while we are at home."

CONGRATULATIONS

In February of the present year the National Christian Council announced a number of prizes in memory of the late Dr. Timothy Richard for literary productions. One of these competitions was open to undergraduates in Universities and those who had graduated not more than five years. The subject assigned was "The Contribution of Christian Education to China." We are happy to announce that one of our own graduates who is fortunately still in the University, Mr. Wu Chin Ting, has been awarded first prize for his essay on the above subject. According to the stipulations he will receive the sum of $240 and the privilege of a year of University post-graduate study in literary subjects. We extend hearty congratulations to Mr. Wu on his success.

CHRISTMAS WEEK ON THE CAMPUS

This year the Christmas spirit among us has found itself impeded by many hindrances. We have been living in the midst of uneasy and disordered conditions, with a constant threat of fighting at close hand. Interrupted traffic has cut off most of our news of the outside world, has delayed our Christmas letters and packages, and most important of all has prevented the reunion of family circles which means so much at the Christmas season. Yet in spite of these circumstances, the University community will probably be hearty in its agreement that this holiday season has been thoroughly enjoyable. All week the campus has been filled with Christmas activities, some centering in the individual homes; some shared in by the whole University community, which has seemed more than ever like one unified family group.

For some weeks students and staff alike have been finding anew their Christmas spirit through the singing of Christmas Carols. The Children's Concert, given on the afternoon of December 19th, and repeated for the benefit of the University students on December 21st, though not formally designated as a Christmas entertainment, was an excellent foretaste of the holiday spirit. Both church services last Sunday were also introductory to Christmas week.

Tuesday afternoon found the Tsinan Foreign community, from the toddlers to the grandparents, all assembled at the Foreign School building for delightful festivities which began with tea and ended with a Christmas tree where there were presents for all the children, and where even Santa himself managed to get in for a few minutes in spite of his busy life at this season and the perplexing transportation delays he must have met en route.

On Wednesday afternoon the members of the Chinese staff, together with their families, met in Bergen Hall for a most enjoyable Christmas entertainment. Tea was served and there were presents for all the children.

On the afternoon of Thursday, December 24th, the entire University community assembled at the Chinese Kindergarten to enjoy an unusually delightful community program, and to meet once more around a Christmas tree presided over by Santa Claus and loaded with presents. That evening the staff and students had a well attended and most successful entertainment in the lecture hall of the Institute. The Christmas tableaux and music were specially enjoyed. Credit is due to the student committee, Dr. Miner, and Mr. Drake for the excellent programme.

Yesterday, Christmas Day, there were two services in the University Church. In the morning Rev. L. V. Cady led the University Christmas Service; and in the afternoon Dr. P. S. Evans, Jr., was in charge of a vesper service of Christmas carols, which was thoroughly enjoyed by a large company of staff, students, and other members of the community. Throughout most of the day the University Hospital, now crowded much beyond its normal capacity by numbers of wounded Chinese and Russian soldiers, was the scene of music, entertainments, and Christmas carols, in which staff, students, nurses, and even a group of children from the foreign Sunday School all assisted.

A special dispensation which during the week has permitted members of the University community to pass to and fro through the wei-tzu gate until ten o'clock each night has made it easier for the community to celebrate the season together.

TSINAN FOREIGN SCHOOL CONCERT

On setting out to attend a children's concert, what are the highest hopes an optimist entertains? That the programme won't be too long, or contain unhappy gaps; that the performers will say and do things they understand and enjoy, and not be made to stumble through solemnities beyond their years; and above all, he hopes that the children will know their parts, and not wring his susceptible sympathies by sudden breath-taking cessations of activity. The gloomiest pessimist could have come to last Saturday's concert— he would have found only cause for pleasure.

The programme was a delight, and it went through as if the performers were enjoying it as much as the audience. It opened with a set of Christmas songs and carols by the upper classes of the School, including an unaccompanied round which sounded very jolly. We heard of the unsuspected fun a dentist can get out of his apparatus if he's only left to himself; and we were allowed a glimpse into the domestic habits of a king, democratic enough to gain the most republican approval. Cock Robin died with the customary ceremonial, and then was summarily brought back to life by a competent young surgeon, who sewed up his wound with the cool, practiced air of an old hand at the game.

The fairy play was a triumph, and the people who worked on it are specially to be congratulated considering the difficulties they had overcome in the preparation. Hans and Gretchen still believed in fairies. They went to sleep one Christmas Eve and woke up to find their cottage room full of elfin guests — minute spring fairies in lily-leaf green sat cosily on each side of the fire, pink summer fairies, gold coloured autumn ones danced about the room, and as Hans watched in amazement, Santa Claus and his white winter fairies brought in the Christmas tree. Everything in the play was well done, everyone knew what to do, and did it; but perhaps the tiny fairies were the most appealing, they behaved so very beautifully while all the others were dancing.

There is only one criticism that rises to mind, and that is that Saturday's performance showed us the possibilities of the younger children; next year we would like to see more of what the elder ones can do. It would be interesting to have a play entirely of their own invention — shall we issue them a challenge?

A PARTY FOR THE CHILDREN

On Monday, December 28th, at 10:30 a.m., the children of the English-speaking community are cordially invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tewksbury, East Suburb, for an hour of music. Piano, bicycle pump, and noseflute selections, with explanations, will be given.

NEW YEAR'S TEA

On Friday, January 1st, from four to six o'clock in the afternoon, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Heimburger will give a New Year's tea, to wish a Happy New Year to their friends.
