"Give me this mountain."

This is the motto which Dr. Petrie offered to the Arts and Science students on Wednesday morning in Room 333. Caleb said to Joshua, "I am this day fourscore and five years old. As yet I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Moses sent me: as my strength was then, even so is my strength now, for war, both to go out and to come in. Now therefore give me this mountain whereof the Lord spake in that day; for thou heardest in that day how the Anakims were there, and that the cities were great and fenced: if so be the Lord will be with me, then I shall be able to drive them out, as the Lord said." And Joshua blessed him and gave unto Caleb Hebron for an inheritance. . . . And Caleb drove thence the three sons of Anak.'

We who listened to Dr. Petrie wish to share with you this challenge to refuse the easy and choose the hardest part in this New Year, and to share also the following lines from Dr. Oldham's 'A Devotional Diary.'

May I never falter the wide world through,
But stand in the gate:
May my sword bite sharp and my steel ring true
At the ford and the strait:
Bide not on bed nor dally with song
When the strife goeth keen:
This be my boon from the God of the Strong!
May I stand in the mist and the clear and the chill,
In the cycle of wars,
In the brown of the moss and the grey of the hill
With my eyes to the stars!
Gift this guerdon and grant this grace
That I bid good-e'en,
The sword in the hand and the foot to the race,
The wind in my teeth and the rain in my face!

The Samaritan Fund

About two months ago, a young man of twenty-eight; a rickshaw puller, came to the clinic complaining of pain and disability of one knee. For several months he had not been able to work and he had his aged mother dependent upon him. The condition was tuberculosis of the joint. He had no money. We admitted him knowing that it was a matter of keeping him for about three months after the operation, but that then he would be able to do hard work after another few months, whereas, without treatment, he would go steadily downhill and eventually lose his leg. He is doing well now after a radical operation and will return to society as a useful member. In the meantime he has accepted Christ as his Saviour from sin. When he is to be discharged we will try to put him in touch with some one in the city who can follow him and to whom he can go for spiritual help.

Women's Club

This is not a new club but the new name decided upon by the members of the Women's Helping Club. The club began with the thought in the minds of a few ladies that the wives of faculty members had no chance to get acquainted with each other, not only foreigners with Chinese but Chinese with themselves as well. With so definite a need to be met the club established itself without difficulty. Today, though the organisation is but one year old, we all feel how useful and helpful it is not merely because of the opportunities of meeting monthly but also for the good fellow-ship, friendly relationships and closer contacts it has created and the mutual exchange of ideas on household management it has made possible.

The meetings have been most interesting. Dr. A. V. Scott gave a demonstration of the proper and comfortable way of dressing children and an inexpensive mode of layette for a baby. Mrs. Lair gave a fascinating paper on child psychology which was translated into Chinese by Mrs. Hsieh. Mrs. Mosse spoke on child discipline, Mrs. Williamson on cake making. Dress-making has been to the fore, Mrs. Cady and Mrs. Kao demonstrating the making of children's clothes, Mrs. Linn, our new chairman, the uses of the sewing machine, Mrs. Hsieh the cutting out of a Chinese dress (for the foreign ladies' benefit) and Mrs. Lautenschlager foreign dresses (for the benefit of the Chinese ladies). On the last two occasions the subjects have been toys and games respectively. Many good but inexpensive toys suitable for four- to ten-year-olds were brought from the different homes. On Thursday of this week, Mrs. Shu, Mrs. Mosse and Mrs. Linn brought with them excellent children's games which were much enjoyed by all of us grown-ups. We much regretted that the severe weather and much sickness prevented some members attending and the meeting sent good wishes and sincere sympathy to those who were ill themselves or attending sick in their homes.

Greetings

Dr. King Chu sends good wishes for the New Year to each and all and much regrets that his stay with us this Christmastide was so short that he was unable to see every one personally.

In recent letters, Miss Reade and Mr. Rowley ask us to extend their New Year greetings to all in Cheeloo. Mr. Rowley finds that his teaching in University College, Cardiff, and preaching keep him very busy but he also finds time to take a leading part in the city churches' interest in and support of missions.

The following comes from the Prices, dated November 30th: "Phil, Octavia and Mary Price wish everyone in Tsinan, from Dr. McClure down to James David Livingstone Scott, a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. We hope you all will have as happy a time as we expect to. We are enjoying to the full our year in America. We have a wee apartment, just large enough not to be a burden. We are doing all our own housework and having lots of fun over it. I say 'we' purposely, for Phil does more than his share and Mary is always full of suggestions. My dumbest stunt to date is putting the oatmeal on to start one night and never thinking about it again till the next morning. We have been scraping aluminum off the stove ever since. Mary is well and strong, loves kindergarten and is growing up fast. Phil is revelling in research problems at Hopkins. I keep busy with many things. We welcome the Bulletin and every bit of news from China. Our address is 1327 Bolton St., Baltimore, Md., U.S.A."

Notes and Comments

We give a very hearty welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Pailing, Joan and Katherine, on their return from England. They arrived on Thursday evening.

It was a very regrettable oversight that last week we omitted to mention the entertainment of the students in the homes of the staff on Tuesday evening, the 27th. This year, in place of a mammoth party for all the students, they—yes, three to four hundred in all—enjoyed a Christmas dinner and party in some three dozen homes of teachers' and administrative officers. We have heard many reports and believe one and all, they and we, had a most enjoyable time.

This week Dr. and Mrs. Heeren have had as guests Dr. and Mrs. Petrie who were among their companions on Dr. Sherwood Eddy's European Tour last summer. Dr. Petrie is a minister of the Presbyterian church. During his talk to the students on Wednesday Dr. Petrie mentioned that many Chinese studying in the universities of California have been guests in his home near San Francisco.

The T'ungchow children went back there to school on Tuesday evening and with them went Mr. Cady, Dr. Heimburger and Dr. Lair to attend a meeting of the school Board of Directors.

We have just seen a circular about the Cheeloo Annual now almost ready for distribution. This is just to ask those of us who have not yet had an opportunity of subscribing to this venture or who have previously promised subscriptions but have not yet paid them in, to be on the look out for it.

We learn from Mr. Wolfe the following reason for the decreased number of candles in our electric light bulbs during the last few days. The city electric light company has wiring with a consumption of about 3000 kilowatts and under the best conditions cannot exceed an output of about 2000. Normally our campus lighting is provided by a small unit of our own supplemented by current from the city company. A few days ago one of the larger units belonging to the company broke down with the result that the supplementary supply is insufficient to maintain proper voltage. There is no prospect of the light improving until either the city company's plant is in full running order again or the last instalment of engine pipes arrives and our new engine house begins to function.

The hockey eleven, with depleted forward line, but with the help of Mr. Bell, did well to lose only 0—3 to the full strength of the Settlement team on Boxing Day. The following Saturday, with both teams below strength, the result was reversed, the Suburb winning 6—1.

For Sale: Brown and red woollen sweaters at $3.90 each and brown woollen gloves at 65 cents per pair. Please apply to Mr. Li Shu-Hsiu's office, McCormick Hall.

Medical Outcalls Dr. Smyly is in charge during January.

Winter Vacation

The next issue of the Bulletin will be published on Saturday, February 4th. and, for this reason, we give today, in a supplement to the weekly calendar, notices concerning the opening days of next term and of meetings which might otherwise escape attention. The Beginners' Sunday School, Children's Service and afternoon Service in English will be conducted, of course, as usual as also will the Mid-week Prayer Meeting on Wednesday evenings. Saturday basket-ball and hockey will also continue.

It has been customary in the past for the Sunday morning Service in Chinese to be discontinued during the vacation when a large number of the students are absent from the campus. This year nearly one half of the whole student body will be returning to homes in this province, Hopei, Honan and further south. A number of those who intend to remain, however, have asked that special services be arranged for the two Sundays of the vacation. Notice of them is given in the supplement to the calendar and it is hoped they will be well attended.

As to holiday movements of Chinese members of staff, we learn that a large number will be away, and among the foreigners Mr. Mather and Dr. Shields will be absent, the latter in Shansi.

Galsworthy Novelist

Those who were privileged to be present at the January meeting of the Tsinan Literary Society on Monday evening listened to a very entertaining lecture on Galsworthy's novels by Dr. W. S. Flowers of Choutsun.

The lecture showed intimate acquaintance with all of Galsworthy's novels and many short stories and was itself such a clear, concise and discriminating critique that any attempt to summarize it in a single paragraph would be entirely futile. The brief but lucid reviews of the stories, given in the sequence of their appearance, made it possible for even those who had themselves read but little of Galsworthy to come away feeling that they were really acquainted not only with many of his characters but also with his literary style. The following brief quotation suggests the ability of the lecturer to give in one short hour a comprehensive resume of a wide field of reading.

"One may say that, amongst the many strands that are woven together to form the pattern of his novels, two of most striking hue may be separated. They are social criticism and love of beauty. The former is a reasoned criticism based upon observed facts, often devastatingly expressed, frequently ironical and occasionally satirical but seldom malicious. The latter bespeaks a poetic insight so strong as to be able to conjure up the atmosphere of the English countryside, that conveys the scent of honeysuckle, the sight of an old church in some country lane, or some soft silvered twilight descending over the hills."

Notes and Comments.

Women's Bible Study Group: This Group will meet again on Tuesday next, the 17th., in the home of Mrs. Heeren. Members are asked to come prepared with suggestions for the course of study to be taken up during the spring session.

Tsinan Literary Society: Please make a note of the next meeting of the Society which will be held on the first Monday in February, that is the 6th.. The occasion will be a musical evening and we are to be privileged to listen to Dr. Robert McCandlis. Dr. and Mrs. McCandlis will be on their way north to fulfil engagements in Tientsin and Peking and the change from the usual date has been made to fit in with their plans. We understand that special arrangements will be made to enable the many non-members who would like to hear Dr. McCandlis to do so.

We extend our sincere sympathies to the many among us who are ill. Mr. Linn has been suffering much with his right eye and we wish him a speedy end to the trouble. We are exceedingly pleased to learn that Mr. Ts'ui Yung-Fu, who is in a sanatorium in the Western Hills, Peking, is making very good progress.

A handsome full length upright mirror has been presented to the University by the Honan alumni in honour of the University's registration by the Ministry of Education. The mirror will be found in the reception room in McCormick Hall.

The last issue of the Chinese Bulletin prints extracts from a letter from Dr. Chang Hui-Ch'uan of the Department of Histology and Embryology who has gone to Chicago for postgraduate study. Dr. Chang began his work in the University of Chicago on November 1st. and reports that there are approximately fifty of his fellowcountrymen studying at the University, mostly from Chinghua and Yenching.

Beginning next Tuesday the English Baptist Mission will be holding its Shantung Provincial Conference in Tsinan.

Our bookshelves. A reader, whose own conscience is uneasy, makes his annual suggestion that we look over our bookshelves and return borrowed or stolen books! He is already practising what he preaches.

The New Term

We certainly have great cause for thankfulness that we came through the fall term in so satisfactory a manner. Students and teachers have cooperated in splendid style. We have been spared the troubles which have in some cases disrupted the work of other institutions. This is not to say that we have achieved perfection, for there are many ways in which we can improve our university life. As we enter the last half of the school year let each one of us resolve that he will be even more diligent and faithful than he has been during the first half of the year.

We who had the pleasure of seeing our President, Mr. King Chu, during his short visit here, were much pleased to receive his unqualified assurance that he will return to the university during the summer vacation. He has been urged to get back before Commencement but it is not certain that this can be accomplished.

Notwithstanding all the turmoil and confusion in the midst of which we find ourselves we enter the spring term with great hopefulness.

University Hospital Extension.

This proposal has been on many of our minds for years past and the very real needs which lie behind the proposal will be familiar to all who have studied the reports of the administrative officers for the last eight or nine years. For those of us who have not been able to do so, a summary of these needs will not be out of place here:— a more commodious out-patient department which with its ten sections is very congested in the existing premises: an isolation unit for contagious diseases—some of us are amazed at the way in which our doctors are able to carry on with their work despite this very serious lack: provision for adequate treatment of tubercular cases not only for ordinary cases which are very numerous but also for our own University staff and students: an increase in ward accommodation: several private or semi-private wards for patients of moderate means: more adequate space for the Nurses Training School: a refrigeration plant or individual electric refrigeration units.

The site is ours, being the land purchased immediately to the north of the out-patient department. Funds, too, are at our disposal being most generously contributed about eight years ago by the Presbyterian and Methodist Women's Societies of U.S.A., G. $120,000, and the Rockefeller Foundation G. $100,000. Disturbed political conditions during 1929, 1928 and 1930 have however inclined us to delay action. Now that external causes no longer hinder, the question is how to build, what scheme of extension to adopt, for the funds do not permit of going ahead with a plan for a complete new hospital and new O.P.D.. Estimates of the cost of erection of new buildings were sent home to the Board of Governors in New York and approval was given by the Board for a definite expenditure, a sum also being set aside, in addition to this, to help meet the very considerable running expenses. It is now discovered that the sum granted falls very far short of what would actually be required for a complete new hospital and out-patient department and two schemes are at present under detailed consideration.

One scheme is to build three storeys of the originally planned four storey hospital building and to convert the old hospital into an out-patient department. The other scheme is to build a new out patient department and to increase hospital bed accommodation by adding a storey to each wing and building out from the northern centre. The Building Committee is to bring in definite estimates in regard to these two alternatives for the faculty to act upon. All plans will have to be referred to New York again before definite steps can be taken.

There has been much searching of heart to discover what is God's will for us in this matter, culminating in a meeting of the medical staff on Friday of last week, called specifically for the purpose of prayerful corporate waiting upon God for guidance. Those present tell of the Spirit's real presence in the midst and of real advance made towards united understanding of the Divine will. May we all unite in unceasing prayer and supplication that the University may be guided aright in handling this the biggest problem of the immediate future.

Chinese Research Institute

We may congratulate ourselves on the acceptance by Mr. Ting Wei Fen, the well known Shantung scholar, of the invitation to become Honorary Chairman of the Research Committee of the Cheeloo Institute of Chinese Research and by Mr. Wang Hsien T'ang, the Tsinan City Librarian, of the invitation to become an honorary member of the same Committee. Mr. Ting is a specialist in phonology and hopes to be able to offer a course in this subject in the near future. It is of interest to note that Mr. Ting has recently been appointed Vice-Chairman of the Board of Censors in the Central Government. Mr. Wang expects to offer courses in librarianship and textual criticism next autumn.

Notes and Comments

We desire to express to Mr. and Mrs. Leo, of the medical Translation Bureau, our sincerest sympathy on the passing of their infant son. We gladly accede to Mr. and Mrs. Leo's request to print the following message from them to their many friends.

"Will you kindly lend us a line in your Bulletin to express our thankfulness to the many friends who extended, in various ways, their sincere sympathies with us in the loss of our beloved baby boy last Saturday, January, 28th. We appreciate their kindness very much indeed though we are not able to answer the many letters of condolence."

We give a most hearty welcome to Mr. Ts'ui Yung-Fu, of the Department of Chemistry, on his return from the P.U.M.C. Sanatorium in the Western Hills, Peking. Mr. Ts'ui will be able to teach one course in his department this term.

A hearty welcome, too, to Mr. and Mrs. Castleton of the English Baptist Mission, Chowtsun, who have been transferred to Tsinan for reasons of Mrs. Castleton's health and are living on Nan Hsin Chieh.

We would like to join, though late, in congratulations to Mrs. Dorothy M. Carr on her election as Mayor of Godmanchester. Mrs. Carr has long been one of Cheeloo's best friends in England and we rejoice in this honour that has come to one of ourselves.

We offer our sincere thanks to Mr. Wang Yuan-Te who has promised to renew his offer of Chinese Essay prizes during the years 1933-34, 1934-35.

During the vacation, through the good offices of Dr. and Mrs. Stearns, Miss Wang P'ei-Chen, of Shanghai, held evangelistic meetings and Bible readings for women students each day.

The accommodation in the home of Mrs. Luteschlager was taxed to its utmost last Sunday evening by the company of students and staff gathered to hear Mr. Failing speak on what, in America, is known as the First Century Christian Fellowship and, in Britain, as the Oxford Group Movement.

We would like to thank those responsible for the arrangement of the services in Chinese on the Sunday mornings of the vacation. The School of Theology Chapel was barely large enough for the congregations but its fullness certainly made for more corporate worship. The collections were devoted to the relief of sufferers in the North-eastern provinces.

The Report of the University's Rural Service Centre at Lungshan has been published in Chinese complete with sketch map of the village and a plan of the Centre itself. We hope to refer to this again in our next issue.

Dr. Lair went to Shanghai during the vacation as University representative on the Council of Christian Higher Education.

Dr. Carson attended the meetings of the Industrial Service Union in Peping and returned with news of help promised for the University's proposed service to the glass industry.

Dr. Struthers, Dr. King and Miss Evans visited Wutingfu early in the week to be present at the opening of the new Methodist hospital there.

Mr. Pailing left on Tuesday evening to escort Joan, and William and David Smyly back to school in Chefoo.

We are very sorry to hear of the sickness that assailed all but one of our Tungchow children on their return to school there. Dr. Heimburger went north last Saturday evening in view of the more serious illnesses of Louise and Bobbie. We hope to hear better news soon.

Medical Outcalls. Dr. Struthers is in charge during February.

The Rev. J. W. Hunter

The Bulletin regrets to announce that, on account of the children's education and family responsibilities, the Rev. J. W. Hunter has felt compelled to resign from the University staff. Mr. Hunter originally joined the faculty of the Arts College in Weihsien twenty years ago, and in length of service in the University is now the senior foreign member of the staff. He is one of those exceptional all-round men (no reference to his physique) who is equally at home in conducting services in the Anglican Chapel, teaching classes in "Backgrounds", playing the organ, designing inscriptions, teaching Art, and participating with real professional ability in amateur dramatic productions. To enumerate all the contributions which he and Mrs. Hunter have made to the life of the community would quite exceed the space available, so we can only express to them and the children our hearty good wishes and hope that conditions may yet prove such as to permit of their return to Cheeloo.

The Rev. T. Cocker Brown.

The Rev. T. Cocker Brown, Secretary of the L.M.S. China Council, and the representative of the Society on the University's Board of Directors, has been appointed as the Society's Foreign Secretary for China and Africa, in succession to Mr. F.H. Hawkins. Mr. Cocker Brown, who is the son, grandson and great-grandson of African missionaries of the L.M.S. and Africa-born, served as a missionary in Fukien province for twenty years before moving to his new post in Shanghai four years ago. During his years of service to the University on the Board of Directors and its Administrative Council, Mr. Cocker Brown has given us of his best and his departure will leave a big gap indeed. Mr. Cocker Brown is with us this week-end and we take this opportunity of offering him our heartiest congratulations and sincerest good wishes for the future. He will return to England via Central and South Africa and will take over his new duties early in 1934.

Visit of Dr. R. J. McCandliss to Tsinan.

On Monday Feb. 6th, the Tsinan Literary Society was privileged in listening to a Song Recital by Dr. Robert J. McCandliss.

The Medical School Hall was filled almost to overflowing by an audience consisting not only of Tsinan residents but of many visitors from other parts of the province. The programme given by Dr. McCandliss was of a most comprehensive nature, ranging from old favourites such as "The Londonderry Air" to the fiery sentiment and stirring music of "Gunga Din". Dr. McCandliss amazed and delighted us with the flexibility and richness of his voice, and with the depth of expression which he was able to put into his singing.

The programme opened with a group of three songs which included "Drink to me only with thine eyes", "Love has eyes", by Sir Henry Bishop, and Handel's "Where'er you walk". The beautiful melody and perfect rendering of this latter will long be remembered. Following this came a difficult aria from the "Masked Ball" by Verdi, which was enthusiastically received and deservedly encored, the encore being taken from Puccini's "La Boheme". Then came a group of four folk songs, of which the last, "La Paloma", a Mexican Folk Song, was one of the most heartily applauded pieces of the evening. In the two following groups by more modern composers, Dr. McCandliss gave us still further insight into his unusual ability as a soloist. One could almost see the rising of the red sun in the wonderful terminal crescendo of "Dawn awakes" by Braine; and the coming of the spring was brought very close in "The time for making songs has come". The aria from Tannhauser, "O! Star of Eve", sung in the German, was magnificently rendered and most appropriately encored by a repetition of a portion of the air.

The last group included two of Kipling's poems set to music, and, of these, "Gunga Din" had a most demonstrative reception. The sentiment of Kipling's words alone would be enough to carry "Gunga Din" a long way with any audience, but Dr. McCandliss's superb rendering of the song was one of the triumphs of the evening.

At the end of the programme Dr. McCandliss was twice recalled. The first time he sang "The Sleigh" with great descriptive power, and on the second occasion he repeated, by special request, "Some rival has stolen my true love away" to the Surrey Melody.

Any account of Monday evening would be incomplete without very appreciative reference to the part which the accompanist, Mrs. McCandliss, played in making the evening the great success that it was. One rarely hears such sympathetic accompaniment and such unobtrusive yet sustaining support from the piano as Mrs. McCandliss gave.

The Tsinan Literary Society owes a great debt of gratitude to Dr. and Mrs. McCandliss for the memorable evening of music with which they provided us, and we trust it is not too much to hope that they will visit us again in the not too distant future.

The Cheeloo Rural Institute Report for July-December, 1932.

In organization and function the Rural Institute corresponds somewhat to an extension department designed to meet the needs of a specific group. The overwhelming significance of the farmers and the country village to the whole life of China, the natural tendency to overlook and neglect these scattered and inarticulate units, and the special difficulties and peculiar problems encountered in rural work are sufficient reason for giving it special recognition. As an extension department the Rural Institute is to be regarded as a channel through which those departments interested and able to do so may render direct service to the life outside. Such activity is of special importance to such fields as education, social service, and public health, all of which require an actual social setting as a laboratory for any practical training. A second function of this office at Cheeloo is that we are enabled to keep in close touch with specialized agencies elsewhere, such as agricultural experiment stations. In carrying out these various activities the Rural Institute also serves as a point of crystallization for a cooperative program of rural training and research.

At present, the two main projects under the direct care of the Institute are those described below.

The Village Service Center at Lungshan. The market town of Lungshan lies 70 li east of Tsinan. It can be reached by a ride of one hour on the Kiao-Tsi Railroad. The town itself is within sight of the railroad station. It contains about 460 households, and is the center of a rather typical rural trading area. For the present, it has been decided to concentrate upon the forty or more villages within an eight li radius, although three special projects are carried on further away. As a whole, this region is a farming district with several types of agriculture. Socially, it is a conservative country community which is being awakened to the impact of a new civilization. The coming of the railroad has destroyed the old tavern trade while it opens up new but largely unrealized opportunities. The contact with the outside world has probably raised more moral questions than it has solved.

So far as records are available, the first visits of the University group to Lungshan began in the spring of 1922. Gradually there grew up a program for community development. Friends and acquaintances have

Wutingfu Hospital

On January 30th, the Hospital was opened—the culmination of thirty years' hoping and planning. Since the seventies the English Methodist Mission, working in the northern districts of this province, centred its work in the small village of Chu-Chia-Tsai. With the opening of the present century work was planned in eastern districts centring in Wuting and such has been its growth that in 1931 Wuting was made the centre of the entire work of the Mission in this province.

A small hospital, on Chinese lines, has been run in Chu-Chia-Tsai for many years but for thirty years it has been felt that medical work should be commenced in Wutingfu. Early a small dispensary was planned, but the first important step was made when Dr. F.R. Craddock was appointed to the city four years ago. The doctor opened a dispensary in one of the rooms of his house and plans were set on foot for the building of an efficient modern hospital. A seventy bed hospital, with two men's wards, one women's ward, several private wards and an out-patient department, now stands outside the south gate of Wuting city, ready to serve the needs of several million people.

At the opening ceremony, a simple service held in one of the men's wards, a representative of General Han, Provincial Chairman, was present, as also were Dr. Struthers, representing Cheeloo, Mrs. Yu the Tschow Hospital, and three sisters from the Roman Catholic Mission at Chiang Chia. During the day some eight or nine hundred men visited the hospital and on the following day over one thousand women came from the surrounding countryside. These were great days and our hearts were full of thankfulness to God that such a great work was launched in His Name.

The Hospital is equipped with electric light and it is planned to fit up an X-ray plant on Dr. Craddock's return from furlough. During his absence in England Drs. F.F. and Emma Tucker will take his place and Miss Maud Williamson, recently out from England, will be matron. We pray for God's blessing on this new centre of light and healing.

From Mrs. MacRae

We very much regret to learn, from a recent letter of Mrs. MacRae's, that Dr. MacRae's breakdown is more serious as time goes on, though physically he is very well. Our constant sympathies are with Mrs. MacRae and her children. We are glad to have news of the children. Marjory is taking an honours course in Modern Languages at Toronto University. Donald and Kathleen are growing fast. The former is doing well in the second year of Jarvis High School and Kathleen, who is now eleven, is hoping to become a nurse and is preparing to enter high school.

The Cheeloo Rural Institute Report for July-December, 1932.

In organization and function the Rural Institute corresponds somewhat to an extension department designed to meet the needs of a specific group. The overwhelming significance of the farmers and the country village to the whole life of China, the natural tendency to overlook and neglect these scattered and inarticulate units, and the special difficulties and peculiar problems encountered in rural work are sufficient reason for giving it special recognition. As an extension department the Rural Institute is to be regarded as a channel through which those departments interested and able to do so may render direct service to the life outside. Such activity is of special importance to such fields as education, social service, and public health, all of which require an actual social setting as a laboratory for any practical training. A second function of this office at Cheeloo is that we are enabled to keep in close touch with specialized agencies elsewhere, such as agricultural experiment stations. In carrying out these various activities the Rural Institute also serves as a point of crystallization for a cooperative program of rural training and research.

At present, the two main projects under the direct care of the Institute are those described below.

The Village Service Center at Lungshan. The market town of Lungshan lies 70 li east of Tsinan. It can be reached by a ride of one hour on the Kiao-Tsi Railroad. The town itself is within sight of the railroad station. It contains about 460 households, and is the center of a rather typical rural trading area. For the present, it has been decided to concentrate upon the forty or more villages within an eight li radius, although three special projects are carried on further away. As a whole, this region is a farming district with several types of agriculture. Socially, it is a conservative country community which is being awakened to the impact of a new civilization. The coming of the railroad has destroyed the old tavern trade while it opens up new but largely unrealized opportunities. The contact with the outside world has probably raised more moral questions than it has solved.

So far as records are available, the first visits of the University group to Lungshan began in the spring of 1922. Gradually there grew up a program for community development. Friends and acquaintances have been steadily added and the foundation now exists for steady advance. The work has naturally suffered from changing policies and personnel at Cheeloo. Perhaps one of its greatest contributions has been in preserving among the university group a focal point of interest in rural work. In July, 1932, the Rural Institute was asked to take the responsibility for the Service Center, and the work was reorganized as follows.

In Agriculture, we have been fortunate in securing the cooperation of the College of Agriculture and Forestry at the University of Nanking, who have recognized Lungshan as their extension center for this province and have placed there Mr. K. L. Zen who is the Nanking agricultural extension agent for Shantung. Mr. Yen has also acted as chairman of the service center staff, and has rendered invaluable service in the problems of reorganization. The agricultural work is also carried on in cooperation with the Famine Prevention experiment station at Tsinan. At the beginning of the season, meetings were held for farmers in five villages, with an average attendance of 500 people at each meeting. A night class has been carried on in Lungshan for the local farmers. This has been considered preliminary to more intensive work. The program for the year emphasizes cooperative demonstrations with selected farmers. Over thirty farmers, for example, have undertaken demonstration of the copper carbonate treatment for the prevention of kaoliang smut. Experience is also being gathered in cooperative organization, a beginning having been made with a small credit society and an egg-marketing association. From November 10-13 there was held the agricultural fair which has become a regular feature of the year. It was attended by over 3000 persons. The main effort, however, was made not for numbers but for reaching those with solid interests. The second day was featured by delegates from the mass education classes. The third day was given over to the women for whom special meetings were arranged. Students of the university gave valuable assistance and gained experience in conducting the fair. In all, two hundred and one exhibits were prepared by the farmers. During the autumn, Mr. Yen also assisted with similar meetings at Tsou Ping, Weihsien, Tehchow and Hwangtai.

The work in Homemaking has been under the direct charge of Miss Mary K. Russell, who has carried through a very successful experiment of actually living at Lungshan under the ordinary conditions of a village home. By beginning with village problems the hope is that there can be built up an application of the science of Home Economics to the practical problems of China. This work is just beginning and is now in the stage of investigation and the making of friends. Several literacy classes have been conducted and meetings held on occasion for the village women.

Mass Education. Ten schools for men and boys have been carried on in ten different villages with volunteer teachers. The students have numbered over 200. In addition to the removal of illiteracy, these schools serve as a training ground for local leadership.

Health. On every market day (fourth and ninth of the lunar calendar) a doctor from the Cheeloo staff conducts a clinic. A tabulation of the number of patients from September 27th to December 6th shows a total of 63 women and 127 men, or 190 in all. Seventy of these were from Lungshan, and others from 26 different villages. Fees are collected for the drugs and dressings. In addition to the clinics, a resident nurse is in attendance for minor ailments and for continuing treatments. The nurse is also a trained midwife and this service is gradually being developed. Special attention has also been given to the schools. All of the children have had physical examinations, treatment is given regularly for trachoma, and they are given instruction in health and cleanliness.

Schools. At the village of Yu Chang Chuang a school for boys is maintained by a subsidy for part of the teacher's salary, the rest of the support coming from the local people. In the case of this school the aim is to provide a center for other community activities as well as to have a village school adapted to the needs of country boys.

At Lungshan there is a flourishing school for girls. Here there is more opportunity for contacts with parents and for experimental work.

No discussion of this work would be complete without a reference to the problems of the church. As a Christian institution we seek to render full and efficient service to all members of the community in the name of our Master. At the same time as laymen we strive to help build the church in the community, to inspire it with a vision of service to others, and to cooperate with those agencies charged with the responsibility for evangelization and religious teaching. Meetings are held every Sunday in the Service Center under the auspices of the local church. It is hoped that the Rural Church Department of the School of Theology, which has already been giving time to this region, will be able to carry through an experiment in intensive evangelization and pastoral care in this area.

Village work in Wang Chia Chuang and Chang Chia Chuang. These two villages are the first ones met in a walk south and west of the campus. In each there is a school, one of which also serves a third village (An Chia Chuang). A nurse makes regular visits and two students have been giving special attention to extension classes for women. Special mention should be made of the literacy classes for men which have been carried on by the voluntary effort of students of the School of Theology. A student of the Medical School, who was formerly the school teacher, has organized a Sunday School in Wang Chia Chuang. The most encouraging feature of this work is the interest taken by students and the growth of appreciation and potential leadership among the people of the village.

Mrs. Macrae mentions a student who studied medicine in Cheeloo for two years before the 1927 troubles and, after four years in Toronto, graduated last spring. He has specialised in ophthalmology, doing post-graduate work in Toronto until the autumn and then proceeding to London, England, for further study.

Mrs. Macrae purposes sending more letters in this direction in the near future but we feel all our readers will want to share in this the first of the year.

Notes and Comments

The staff of our Rural Institute in Lungshan will be here tomorrow for an all day conference which will be followed by a retreat on Sunday. All interested are invited to attend.

Pastor Chi Chih-wen, leader of the Bethel Evangelistic Band, is in Tsinan addressing meetings arranged by the American Baptist Mission South, and will speak in the Medical College Hall this evening and tomorrow at 6.30 p.m.

Room 313 was packed out last Friday evening by students and staff most keenly interested in Mr. Menzies lecture on China of the Shang Dynasty. That the medicine shops of today should reveal the secrets of history of three thousand years ago, despite the removal of the writings on the 'dragon-bones' to make them better medicine, was news to many of us. Mr. Menzies has played no small part in the collection of these and other relics of the pre-Confucian era and showed us many excellent slides to illustrate how they have yielded their meaning to modern investigators. We ought to be printing a lengthy account of his lecture but we hold ourselves in because we hope someone will, before long, be able to announce that Mr. Menzies will give his lecture in English and in a room large enough to seat all those who will want to hear him.

The Finance and Property Committee of the Board of Directors met here on Thursday and the Administrative Council on Friday.

We are grateful to the School of Theology for the pleasant occasion on Friday afternoon last week when we were given an opportunity of meeting and welcoming Mr. and Mrs. P'eng, Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Djang, and Mr. and Mrs. Drake.

Cheeloo Annual. The preparation of this first number of the Annual has been somewhat lengthy and has meant not a little hard work for those responsible. The volume contains a mass of photographs illustrative of the student life of 1931 and 1932 and is a very attractive memento of those years in Cheeloo. Copies, price mex. $4.00 each, may be obtained from the office facing Miss Hickson's in McCormick Hall.

Basket-ball. Please note that basket-ball has been discontinued.

Bursaries

Since the autumn of last year thanks to the generosity of Chinese friends interested in the Arts and Science Colleges the sum of mex. $1985 has been received for bursaries for students in financial need. This year the total sum has been divided among about thirty students in amounts ranging from $40 to $120. A fund for the same purpose amounting to $1500 is already promised for the next two years also. We offer our hearty thanks to the generous donors

Radio

Mr. Wu Ching Huan and the technicians of the Physics Department are to be congratulated upon their good work in the construction of radio receiving sets. A number of these have already been completed in the Department workshop. During the last week or so a transmission set has also been completed and experimental transmissions have been very clearly received by friends in Tsinan. Arrangements are being made to test reception in Tientsin, Tsingtao, Shanghai and elsewhere. Cheeloo's station number is AC2CH and transmissions are made on a wave length of 200 metres. Plans for broadcasting at regular intervals are being prepared and we understand a small committee will be asked to take charge of the programmes.

Building.

The long unused site between the Cady and Heeren homes is the scene of preparations for a new residence for faculty members of the Colleges of Arts and Science. We say members because the house, a two storey one, is to be divided vertically from front to back so as to provide accommodation for two families.

There are bricks in readiness, too, on the land south of Brown Cottage and east of the water tower. A second hostel for women students is to be built there. This is much needed though this year the situation has been met by the loan of the Anglican Hostel to the women students. The new hostel will have accommodation for fifty students.

The Institute

The Institute has adopted a new policy with regard to the admission of women visitors, who are now permitted to enter on any day of the week. Formerly Monday was reserved for women, and the otherdays for men. The new policy has created its own problems, one of which is connected with young children. Those over eight years of age will be admitted with their mothers, but it has been found desirable not to admit those younger than eight. By way of making suitable provision for the entertainment of these younger children, a play-room is being prepared, near the main entrance, which will be stocke with rocking horses, see-saw, swing and other things to help the youngsters forget that their mothers have left them. Any friends who have large toys or things suitable for this purpose, no matter how dilapidated, if they care to send them to the Institute, will be making a useful contribution to the happiness of these young folk. H.R.W.

News from Overseas

We believe that Cheeloo's first D. Sc. is that awarded to Mr. Hsieh Yu by the University of Paris for 'A Contribution to the Chemistry of Buddleia Variabilis Hemsl (醉魚草)'. Dr. Hsieh, after graduating from Cheeloo in 1925, was on the staff of Chinghua University for five years. With a fellowship sufficient for one year's study abroad, Dr. Hsieh went to the Pasteur Research Institute of the University of Paris and remained there for two and a half years into order to complete his research. We understand that Dr. Hsieh discovered three new organic compounds during the course of his study of Buddleia. He expects to be back in China during the spring.

Word comes from Dr. Yu Chia-Chun who is doing work in dermatology in Vienna University and has been finding his time well filled with studies, practice and visits to the hospitals of the city. Dr. Yu expects to return to Cheeloo in May.

A recent letter from Dr. S. Cochran says that he is now at the Presbyterian Hospital, New York, and his youngest son, Sammy, having graduated from college now holds a position in a bank in the same city.

We are glad to have word from Mr. Wei P'ei-Hsiu now doing post-graduate study and research at the University of Chicago. He is much enjoying his work in advanced physics. Mr. Wei's address is International House, 1414 E 59th. Street, Chicago.

The Rev. J. C. Keyte, M. A., formerly chaplain of Cheeloo and for several years literary editor of "The Statesman" in Calcutta will be returning to England via Persia, etc., in March. He will arrive in England on May 1st. where his address will be: Authors' Club, 2, Whitehall Court, London. S.W. 1.

Notes and Comments

International Relations Club. All are cordially invited to the lecture announced for this evening whether members of the Club or not. Mr. Z.V. Lee, Salt Commissioner for the province of Shantung, will speak on The Relations between the Chinese Salt Revenue and the Foreign Loans and the Recent Programme of Salt Administration Reform. The meeting is at seven o'clock in Room 333.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Linn has yielded to persuasion and will actually take a short holiday. The Dean of Arts and Science has carried exceptionally heavy responsibilities since entering on his duties nearly three years ago and has scarcely allowed himself any break during that time. We believe that Mr. Linn will leave next Wednesday and be away for about two weeks.

We welcome to our staff this term Mr. P'ang Hua-Wen and Mr. Tuan Mu-Hsien who are teaching Party Principles and Military Training respectively.

We extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Cady. News has come that not only is Harriet in a very low state of health but also that Billy is suffering from mastoiditis. Mr. Cady has gone to Peping for consultations. Louise Heimburger is back in Tsinan and we are glad to hear reports that she seems better.

Whether it is that the pitch is on the small side or that its surface is extra fast or again that novices like ourselves rush in where internationals would fear to tread, this hockey season has been marked by a succession of minor injuries. We are sorry that Dr. Lair's injury on Wednesday is too serious to be put in that class but we are glad to know that he gives promise of a quicker recovery than some of us feared.

Refugee Camps

We learn that there are approximately four hundred and ninety refugees in the 'camp' off Shan-shui Kou near the University Hospital. This is one of three camps administered by the municipality with funds provided by the Relief Committee of the Provincial Government. The other two are in the east suburb and the northern part of the city and accommodate between them a further five hundred people. Inquiries at the south suburb camp elicited the fact that most of the folk there had come from T'enghsien and other districts in the south of the province where flood and banditry have caused hardship. On the other hand, it is learned that the occupants of the camps are chiefly people who came to Tsinan for the winter months and, failing to find employment, would have become street beggars without certain food or shelter if the authorities had not collected them from the streets into the camps. They have been provided with food, shelter, and clothing, when necessary. The municipality planned to run these camps for three months and they will probably be closed down during the next week or two.

For some time a large number from the south suburb camp have been coming to our out-patient department with minor complaints requiring attention but when, a short while ago, cases of relapsing fever began to appear our doctors feared the common sequel of typhus. Following our hospital's offer to cooperate in every way possible, steps are being taken to counter the menace and the municipality's health advisers have decided that all fever cases are to be isolated, deloused and returned to their homes. The expenses incurred in the treatment of ten cases of relapsing fever and other diseases as in-patients have been met by the Hospital Samaritan Fund.

The Rev. S. Couling's Contribution to Archaeology

The name of the Rev. Samuel Couling is one of those we hold in honour for the splendid work done in laying the foundations on which the Cheeloo of today has been built. For many years he was in charge of the English Baptist Mission's High School in Tsingchowfu and, after the union with the American Presbyterian Mission's educational work, was for a short time in charge of the Department of Natural Sciences in the Union College at Weihien. Later he was on the editorial board of the Christian Literature Society till his death in 1921.

Since the arrival of Mr. Menzies and Mr. Ch'i Shu-P'ing on the campus and their development of the Archaeological Section of the Chinese Research Institute, however, Mr. Couling's name is often mentioned in matters archaeological. He was the first discoverer of stone implements in this province and made a large collection of these, oracle bones, bronze objects, coins, fossils, etc.. This collection is now distributed amongst the Royal Scottish Museum, Edinburgh, The North China Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society, Shanghai, The Whitewright Institute, and the Department of Geology of our own University. A major part of the collection is considered by our experts to be of very considerable scientific value. Of Mr. Couling's writings, that best known perhaps is his 'Encyclopaedia Sinica' (1917) but he is frequently quoted in technical books on archaeology and will be found mentioned in Laufer's 'Jade', which is the treatise on its subject.

Mr. S.P. Ch'i is now searching for more facts about Mr. Couling and his work, which he as an expert admires, and will be very grateful to any who can give him assistance in this. We believe that the Research Institute hopes to be in a position to issue some publication on Mr. Couling's contribution in the near future.

International Relations Club

Room 333 was well filled last Saturday evening by faculty members, students and guests from outside the University campus. They showed deep appreciation of the very comprehensive lecture to which they were privileged to listen, a lecture given, under the auspices of the International Relations Club, by Mr. Z.V. Lee, Salt Commissioner for Shantung province, on the topic of "The Relations between the Chinese Salt Revenue and the Foreign Loans and the Recent Programme of Salt Administration Reform."

The lecture opened with a brief history of the inauguration of the Salt Inspectorate. Its purpose was to enable the inspector to supervise the Salt Revenue Administration and keep the revenue in appointed foreign banks, such as the Yokohama Specie Bank and the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, in order to meet, first of all, the interest and principal of the foreign loans (a sum of £25,000,000, known as Hou Ta Chieh K'uan, made by Yuan Shih K'ai in 1913) due for payment each year: and, secondly, to return the remainder to the Chinese Government for administrative expenses and other purposes. Mr. Lee then pointed out some of the defects of the old system of the "salt monopoly" with its "certificate merchants" from early in the Manchu dynasty.

The recent programme for Salt Administration Reform, prepared by the National Government, has three main ends. First, that the Ministry of Finance, by combining the Office of the Salt Commissioner and the Inspectorate, shall reduce administrative expenses (it is estimated that, in Shantung alone, a saving of about $280,000 has been made during the short period August 1932 to January 1933). Secondly that the salt revenues shall be placed in Chinese banks, such as the Bank of China, in order to restore China's sovereignty in the handling of her own revenue. Thirdly, that the Salt Commissioners shall be authorized to break down "the salt monopoly" and give the merchants equal opportunity for free competition, on the theory that more competition will mean lower price, lower price increased consumption and this, in turn, more revenue for the government.

At the close of the lecture Mr. Lee gave very satisfactory answers to many interesting questions. Regarding the large audience, the freedom in putting questions to the speaker and the latter's expert analysis of his topic, we consider this the most successful public lecture of the Club session.

Departments of Laboratory Technique and Massage and Electro-therapy

The Graduation Ceremony of these two Departments will be held in the Medical College Assembly Hall next Wednesday morning at half-past-eight o'clock. All friends are cordially invited to be present.

We think this an excellent opportunity to show our appreciation of the good work being done in these Departments which are perhaps less in the public eye than the larger sections of our institution.

Women's Club. Your attention is invited to the March meeting of the Club to be held next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Smyly, No. 6, The Campus. The programme will include Chinese and Western music.

The Annual Meeting of the Tsinan Foreign School Association will be held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lair, on Thursday evening, March 2nd, at eight o'clock.

Dr. Waddell arrived back in Tsinan from America on Monday evening but left again on Tuesday on a visit to her sister in Yenching and to the work of the Mass Education Movement in Tingsien, Hopei. Dr. Waddell will, we understand, be back in Cheeloo in about a month's time.

Mr. Linn left Cheeloo on Wednesday for a short holiday.

The Bulletin owes an apology to the Women's Bible Study Groups for the error in the last two issues. The Groups meet on Tuesday afternoons and the later one at a different home each month. Both have chosen the Book of Isaiah for study this session.

We are immensely pleased to see Dr. Lair out and about again already though we understand that he has to take things very quietly at present.

The Rev. Chia Yu-Ming, one of Cheeloo's distinguished graduates of Tengchow days, spoke on Baptism to a large gathering of students and staff in the Medical College Hall last Sunday afternoon. We remember Mr. Chia's visit in the summer of 1931, but we also have a record of his much appreciated address to a student conference in Weihsien as long ago as 1904.

"Rethinking Missions". We take the following from a cutting passed on to us by a friend.

"Word has reached China by cable that Harper & Brothers are issuing a cheap paper edition of "Rethinking Missions." The Commercial Press is to act as general distributors for Harper & Brothers in China and is offering the book at mex. $2.00. Any who desire to place orders for the book should do so through the Commercial Press either at their general office in Shanghai or at branch offices. A limited number of the cloth edition are being sent to the N.C.C. and upon their receipt may be procured for mex. $10.00 each."

The Arts and Science Colleges met on the soccer field on Wednesday and the struggle ended in a draw, one all. On Thursday they met on the volley-ball court and the game ended in a victory for Arts 3-0.

Medical Outcalls. Dr. Morgan will be in charge during March.

WANTED: Mr. Drake is anxious to obtain a copy of the Chinese Recorder for February 1930 and will be grateful to hear from any one who has a copy to dispose of.

The Situation in North China

Friends in the home countries will perhaps wonder at our silence in this paper concerning the military situation near the Great Wall. This has not been because we are not interested in it. The Chinese press and the English press have many columns daily on the latest developments and these are of intense interest to us all. The proceedings in Geneva have commanded great attention and the eyes of our Chinese friends are constantly on the League.

The fighting for Jehol (which some friends at home may like to know is pronounced 'rer-hor') is of course outside the Great Wall, and there are promises, of a kind, that it will not extend inside to the province of Hopei (Chihli). Peping is about fifty miles distant from the nearest point of Jehol, but the universities in Peping have started this term's work and are still continuing. We in Tsinan are some two hundred and fifty miles south of Peping so it is not surprising that our work goes on as usual. While saying 'as usual' however we cannot but feel how difficult it may be for our Chinese colleagues and students, particularly, to concentrate on their studies at this time. The eager group to be seen round the latest newspapers in the Library gives us cause to wonder where the thoughts really are of those apparently deep in Shakespeare, conic sections or anatomy. The Arts and Science students have devoted the eighty dollars surplus from last term's dining hall budget to the Volunteers on the north-eastern front.

We see that questions have been asked in the British House of Commons concerning the wisdom of evacuating British nationals from the province of Hopei. This however does not affect Shantung. Here our work goes on steadily and we hope that the war clouds will not break over China's territory within the Great Wall.

Graduation Ceremony

On Wednesday morning a large company of medical students and staff were present in the Medical College Assembly Hall for the Graduation Ceremony of the Departments of Laboratory Technique and Physiotherapy. The Medical College choir led the procession into the hall and were followed by the graduates and members of staff. The Associate-President, Mr. Davies, opened the meeting with prayer and the choir (whose size and quality impressed us) rendered an anthem.

In his speech from the chair, Dr. Kiang congratulated the Heads of the Departments and their teaching staffs on the results they have achieved and the graduates themselves on their successful completion of the courses. The Chairman went on to draw attention to the attitude implicit in the placing of graves of an Unknown Soldier in Westminster Abbey and the Arc de Triomphe. "We are learning," he said, "to show, at last, the respect due to the multitude of unknown servants of mankind. To be scientific is the fashionable thing today but I hope that, in addition to being scientific, our graduates will also be humanitarian and Christian."

Dr. Shields followed with an outline sketch of the development of the medical side of Cheeloo's work up to the formation of these two youngest Departments and pointed out that the smallness of the classes was by no means due to lack of applicants for admission but that numbers were necessarily restricted by lack of accommodation and insufficient teaching staff. In closing the Dean commended to the graduates the words of Jesus, "The Son of man has not come to be served but to serve."

Dr. Yu Fu-Hsin, Head of the Department of Laboratory Technique, introduced two graduates who received their diplomas from the Chairman, and Miss Nunn, Head of the Department of Physiotherapy, introduced the five graduating members of that Department who likewise received their diplomas. There was much hearty applause and not least for Dr. Yen Ching-Ch'uan who was one of Dr. Shields' early graduates from the Medical School in Nanking. Dr. Yen responded on behalf of the graduates and surprised Miss Nunn and her two colleagues by presenting them with engraved silver shields as tokens of appreciation from their students. The ceremony closed with a hymn and benediction.

We give below the list of the graduates and the spheres of service to which they are proceeding.

Department of Laboratory Technique.

Mr. Chi Hsueh-Ts'an 紀學參 Lester Institute, Shanghai.

Mr. Yen Ch'ung-Wu 閻崇武 Presbyterian Hospital, Paotingfu.

Department of Physiotherapy

Miss Chang Shu-Yu 張淑玉 Presbyterian Hospital, Temple Hill, Chefoo.

Miss T'ung Li Chen 童麗楨 Methodist Hospital, Wuhu.

Fellowship of Reconciliation Good-will Scholarship

The Fellowship of Reconciliation is promoting a good-will project to send a Cheeloo student to Canada to study and do friendship work there. Friends in Canada and the U.S.A. have subscribed G. $150 towards this project, and friends of international good-will in China have given nearly Mex. $1700. More than $200 of this has come from teachers and friends at Cheeloo. A special fund is available for travelling expenses. Due to the low value of silver about $700 mex. more is needed. An opportunity will shortly be given to all to help in this friendship effort. A committee is sponsoring their project, and correspondence is now going on with the University of Toronto, Canada, for this Cheeloo student to spend the school year there in the department of sociology. Any gifts, no matter how small, are appreciated. The more numerous the gifts, the larger is the spirit of good-will, on which this project depends for success. This scholarship is called "The China-Canada Good-will Scholarship". Dr. H. P. Lair, treasurer of Cheeloo University, is also treasurer for this good-will fund. Subscriptions may be sent directly to Dr. Lair. All donors, who send in their names and addresses with their gifts, will receive a receipt and letter of thanks from the committee in charge of this scholarship.

The Salvation Army

Adjutant Harris wishes to thank all who helped in the collection of forty dollars for the local work of the Salvation Army at the service two Sundays ago. He would like friends to know how directly they are assisting the Army's evangelistic work in Tsinan and perhaps they should know that when local accounts were last made out the only money in hand was the collection mentioned above. The Army have recently started a new corps near Ta Huai Shu on Wei 12 Lu and the funds that have made this new venture possible have been entirely contributed locally. Adjutant Harris is waiting upon us for our share in the Army's Self-Denial Week and we take this opportunity of wishing him and his colleagues Godspeed in their work.

Notes and Comments

We wish to thank Mr. A. L. Scott, General Chairman of the Appraisal Commission, for the copy of "Re-Thinking Missions" which he has given to the University. The volume will be found in the Library. While in China with the Commission Mr. Scott passed through Tsinan with Prof. J.B. Tayler, of Yenching, on a special visit to the glass works in Poshan.

Our very hearty congratulations to Adjutant and Mrs. Harris on the birth of a daughter, Marene Jewell, on Friday, February 24th.

Tsinan Literary Society. Please note that at the next meeting of the Society on Monday week, 13th. inst., the lecturer will be Dr. W.H. Adolph, formerly of Cheeloo and now at Yenching. Place and hour will be announced later.

Yesterday afternoon a women's prayer meeting was held in the South Suburb Church, Tsinan thus joining in the World Day of Prayer for Women.

With reference to the circular notice last week, a RECEIVED stamp from the University water on Feb. 25th, showed that there was no contamination.

Religious Study Groups

We do not pretend to be certain that we have discovered all the Bible classes and study groups that are meeting week by week in Cheeloo, but a few days persistent curiosity has revealed that there at least eight, totalling between them a membership of one hundred and sixty-five students (including all sections of the institution). Two of these are unusually large, having enrolments of sixty and forty-five respectively, but the average of ten is generally indicative of the size of the majority of the groups. All meet on Sundays, five in the morning, two in the afternoon and one in the evening. We believe there is practically no overlapping in the membership of these eight groups, but many of their members also attend, on Sunday evenings, the large meeting for prayer and testimony in the Medical College Hall or the quiet hour of the Friends of Christ group.

The programme of the first of the larger classes is arranged by a student committee while the second large group is studying St. Matthew's Gospel. Among the smaller groups we find the following subjects of study: 'Jesus, the Truth of God and Man', 'St. John's Gospel', 'St. Matthew's Gospel', 'The Basis of Character', and 'The Friendship of Christ'. One group discusses subjects chosen by the members week by week. The group studying The Basis of Character is a direct result of Dr. Stanley Jones's visit and the Sermon on the Mount is being taken as the starting point of thought on the subject. The second St. Matthew group is interesting in that it is composed mostly of students making their first serious approach to Christianity and the leaders are invited from the staff of the School of Theology.

We cannot close this article without reference to the class of from thirty to fifty of the University employees which meets every Sunday morning. Nor should we omit to mention that members of staff and their wives are doing very considerable work of the same nature among people of the city. In each house of one compound there are classes on Sunday afternoons attended by men from the Post Office, banks and businesses in Tsinan, and several classes are being conducted in connection with the different Missions working in the city.

Rural Service Union

The Shantung Rural Service Union was organized on Thursday at a meeting held in the School of Theology. Representatives were present from local institutions and from five mission stations. Other church bodies have signified their desire to participate. The aim is to bring together for mutual help and encouragement those groups which are actively engaged on rural problems. The Service Union will also serve as the National Christian Council's Shantung Committee on Christianizing Rural Life. A similar organisation is already functioning in Hopei province and it is expected that the two will combine to form a North China Christian Rural Service Union.

Alumni in Tsingchowfu

We are much interested in Mr. Linn's account of our alumni whom he met in Tsingchowfu. The English Baptist Mission Hospital there is in the charge of Dr. Yuan Chu-Ch'uan and Dr. Ching Cheng-Ch'ing who are doing very good work. The hospital has been considerably extended since 1931 and now has an accommodation of forty beds, twenty five of which are for men and are always full, while the majority of the remainder, for women, are also in steady use.

The Bible Industrial Institute and the Rural Mass Education Movement of the same Mission also have the leadership of our graduates. Mr. Wang Chun-T'ang is in charge of the former and Pastor Yang Ching-Wen, assisted by Messrs. Kao Hsiang-Hsien and Chang Wen-Fu, of the latter. Two are teaching in government schools, Mr. T'ien Kuan-Wu (who was in our Mathematics Department until a few years ago) in the Fourth Normal and Mr. Wei Hsing-Jen in the Tenth Middle School. China needs Christian personalities in her business world, and we are interested to learn that Mr. Chi Ming-Chu has started a small flour mill, Mr. Sung Hua-Hsiao is in the silk trade and Mr. Wang Po-Hsien has opened a book-shop. We extend our very best wishes to these friends in their different spheres of work and service.

Anopheles as Movie Star.

For some years our medical staff have been in touch with the firm of Bayer-Meister-Lucius whose antimony products are proving of great value in the treatment of kala-azar. While on furlough, Dr. Struthers was invited to the company's works and laboratories at Leverkusen, near Cologne, and was much impressed by the thoroughness of the work done there. A few years ago the company made a very handsome gift of drugs to the University Hospital and the latest expression of their interest was the visit to Cheeloo this week of Dr. Giese, one of their agents in China. At Dr. Struthers's request Dr. Giese brought with him a kinematograph film illustrating the causes and prevention of malaria. The film depicted the life cycle of the anopheles from the wriggling larva to the winged insect escaping from its pupa on the surface of the water—a delicate matter when a wet wing means death. The mosquito's attack on ourselves and the performance of the malaria germ in our blood was shown in a fashion rivalling our friends Felix and Micky. Then the experimental work with birds, the effect of various drugs in the treatment of the disease and methods of combatting the spread of malarial infection were shown in succession. The Medical Society, under whose auspices the film was shown, are to be congratulated on the occasion and we are glad to learn that Dr. Giese will be paying us another visit later this term with another film of a similar nature.

Notes and Comments

Department Reports. Department Heads of the Colleges of Arts and Science are reminded that the Dean is awaiting their reports on the work of the past few years, including numbers of students, standard of work and general improvements, and plans for the immediate future.

Literary Society. Your attention is drawn to the notice of Monday's meeting of the society. Dr. Adolph is bringing with him some very interesting slides and the need for a suitable screen and sufficient accommodation determines the room which is the large lecture theatre on the ground floor of the Chemistry Building. For the benefit of those who do not know the building well, someone will be at the main gate of the campus to give directions.

All students and staff are invited to the Sacred Concert in Room 333 tomorrow evening at 7.30. The concert has been arranged by the Friendship Bible Class.

A hearty welcome to Dr. Waddell who returned to Cheeloo at the beginning of the week.

Mr. Linn returned from Tsingchowfu on Tuesday.

Dr. Williamson, who leaves for furlough in eleven days' time, will be away from Tsinan Monday to Wednesday of next week.

Mr. S.D. Dean, in charge of the Presbyterian Building Bureau for China, arrived from Peping yesterday, being invited by the University as consultant engineer in the new hospital project. Mr. Dean is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe.

The Bulletin wishes to thank Dr. Mosse for his excellent work as Foreign Sunday School Superintendent. Dr. Mosse has had to resign as he is shortly leaving for furlough and Mrs. Struthers has very kindly promised to fill the gap till the end of the present session.

A meeting of the Education Club on Thursday evening was addressed by Mr. H. Tung, Head of the Shantung Mass Education Bureau, and cinematograph films of the work of the Kuang Wen School at Weihsien (noticed in a recent number of the Bulletin) were shown by the Principal, Mr. Ts'ui Hung-Chai.

On Friday of last week Mr. Yang Chih-Nung gave a lecture on Feeling in Plants, under the auspices of the Biological Club.

Having read with interest fragments of news of the Chinese Educational Mission which has been touring Europe during the last six months, we notice the daily press reports that the Mission was to leave for China yesterday. The leader of the Mission is Dr. Ch'eng Ch'i-Pao who was a member of the faculty of the Arts College, Department of Education, until 1929.

Adjutant Harris tells us that Major Frances Gillam arrived from Peping last Tuesday to spend three weeks in Tsinan in special work amongst women.

Those who have at various times been glad of the opportunity of purchasing cross-stitch embroidered articles, made in the Salvation Army Home in Peping, will be glad to know that Mrs. Harris has a stock of the same at the usual reasonable prices.

Rural Experimental Stations

The University having definitely set foot on the road of increasing service to the cause of rural reconstruction, has for the past few years been conducting a Rural Service Centre at Lungshan and an Experimental Farm adjoining the University campus. We are glad to be able to announce an extension of this work thanks to the whole-hearted and generous cooperation of the Kiao-Tsi Railway Company. The Company is much interested in the advancement of rural life in this province and has now in being a Committee for the Improvement of Agriculture and Forestry in the Railway Zone. The University authorities have been in negotiation with this committee and the following plan, now formally decided upon, is the result.

The work of improvement is divided into two sections, one from Tsingtao to Kaomi and the second from Kaomi to Tsinan. In the first section the Railway Company will cooperate with the Tsingtao Munipality's Department of Agriculture and Forestry in a way similar to that in which it will cooperate with Cheeloo in the Kaomi-Tsinan section. In this latter section, Cheeloo will be responsible financially for the maintenance of an administrative office in Tsinan and the continuance and development of the existing Experimental Stations, one adjoining the campus and the other at Lungshan. In this section there will be three other Experimental Stations; at Weihsien, Tsingchow and Changtien respectively, and for each of these the Railway Company will provide funds amounting to mex. $250 per month ($9000 per annum, in all) for running expenses. The Railway Company has invited the University to undertake the administration of these three stations on its behalf. The Company is also prepared to give some financial help towards meeting the initial expenses involved.

The University's programme will include experimentation in seed selection, seed testing, the combatting of insect pests, investigation of the agricultural situation and its problems and the development of farmers' cooperative movements. In this work the staffs of the existing Experimental Farm, the Rural Institute and the Biology Department will take their part.

A representative of the Company's Committee visited Cheeloo on Monday and it is hoped that the first steps towards the carrying out of the scheme may be taken in the early future. We would like to take this opportunity of thanking the Railway Company for their interest and generosity and of congratulating the University on this new effort to serve rural Shantung.

Church Conference at Lung Shan

Last Friday, Saturday, and Sunday saw about one hundred twenty folks gathered at the Lung Shan Service Centre for a revival meeting. All were Christians from the surrounding villages. Although an effort had been made to concentrate upon a radius of thirty li, one old man came eighty or ninety li (thirty miles). A group of six came by cart from their home seventy li to the north where they are the only Christian household in the community. Many came from thirty to sixty li. Dr. Stanley, Mr. Lo, and Mr. Djang, of the School of Theology, led the thought of the group for the three days of earnest and prayerful discussion. One thinks of Dr. Stanley's challenge to the little group of Christians to carry the light of their faith to the tens of thousands about them, of Mr. Lo as he talked on the coming of the Holy Spirit and what it had meant to the early Christians and what it might mean to them to-day, of Mr. Djang speaking quietly and lovingly and holding the folks in rapt attention unmindful of the curious crowd from the street.

Each day one hour was given to the discussion of the Christian home. Miss Tan, the Service Centre nurse and midwife, was scheduled to give the women one hour of instruction in the rudiments of pre-natal and post-natal care, but they would not let her go with that, and two additional hours left them eagerly asking questions. There were also lighter moments when a group of seventeen made an excursion to the rail-road station to have their first experience in seeing a train, or when the women guests, who numbered about seventy, gaily tossed beanbags in the courtyard of the women staffmembers, quite forgetful of bound feet and other inhibitions.

M.K.R.

Red Cross Volunteers

In response to an appeal by the Chinese Red Cross, the Tsinan Branch of the China Medical Association last week sent Dr. P. C. Kiang and Dr. C. H. Han to Peking to consult with the authorities there. The result has been a request for two Red Cross units of ten members each. Medical staff and internes (fifth year students) met together and divided themselves into four groups two of which have left for the north this week with Dr. P. C. Kiang in general charge. Their membership is as follows:—

Group 1.

Doctors: Ch'en Yen-Ping, Fan P'ei-Lu, Lang Kuo-Chen, Liu Hua-Yang.
Internes: Cheng Huan-Chang, Kuo Ch'uan-Ch'ing, Lan Hsi-Ch'un, Miao Fu-Sheng, Pi Ch'uan-Chao.

Nurse: Chang Kuei-Wen

Group 2.

Doctors: Chang Hai-Han, Chao Ch'ang-Lin, Hou Pao-Chang, Li Shou-Ch'eng.

Internes: Chang Mei, Ch'en Feng-I, Jen Ping-Cheng, Kiang Ch'eng-Hsin, Kung Chen-Tung.

Nurse: Chang Ming-Tung.

The units left on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and were given a rousing send-off at the railway station by a hundred and more students and staff. On Wednesday evening Dean Linn made a speech of good wishes and encouragement to the group leaving and Dr. Hou spoke in reply. It is understood that if the situation does not demand the services of all four groups at the same time then the third and fourth may replace the first two after a month or two. The situation is too uncertain to predict anything. Meanwhile the Medical College, though sadly depleted in staff, is carrying on cheerfully the full schedule of work. We offer our sincerest good wishes to those who have gone north and hope they may be able to do much towards relieving the suffering of the wounded.

The Tsinan Literary Society

It was with great pleasure that those of us who have known Dr. Adolph for many years listened to him again on Monday evening. As Mrs. Mosse, who presided over the meeting, rightly said, we felt that a lost member of the family had returned. After Dr. Adolph's last lecture to the Literary Society we all went home and scrutinised our bread and other food-stuffs. This time we returned to reconsider our pictures and see if any of them could lay claim to being genuine engravings. If, in these days, few of us are fortunate enough to possess such treasures, we shall, at any rate, in the future have a much greater regard for postage stamps and bank-notes. Formerly, we have accepted these as merely useful and necessary (most necessary!). But, now Dr. Adolph has let us into the secret of their production, we shall handle them with more respect! The minute care which each stroke of the tools requires and the tremendous time that even a small thing, like the plate for a stamp, takes to prepare, make us realise that steel engraving is indeed an Art.

Some of the pictures shown on the screen, especially those of Durer, were very beautiful. The marvellous arrangement of lines of different depths and thicknesses to produce shading was something new to many of us. Certainly, it has increased our interest in what may before have seemed a little colourless.

Whatever we may remember or forget of the lecture, at any rate Dr. Adolph himself is still "intaglio" in the memory of Cheeloo.

Rural Life Exhibition

There will be the official opening ceremony of the Rural Life Exhibition in the Intitute on Tuesday next, the 21st inst., at 11 a.m. We are hoping that the Governor will speak, but that is not quite certain at the moment. We shall be glad to see any members of staff or students who are free to come at that hour. The Exhibition will last a fortnight and represents the cooperative efforts of the University Rural Unit and the Institute, aided by a number of official and Christian Rural organisations.

Notes and Comments

Last Sunday, being the eighth anniversary of the passing of President Sun Chung Shan, staff and students joined in the public commemoration at Ch'ien Fo Shan where a tree-planting ceremony was carried out on the hill.

Dr. Williamson plans to leave next Wednesday morning for Shanghai whence he expects to sail on the 'Empress of Canada' on the 27th inst. He hopes to reach Glasgow on April 28th. in time for the annual meetings of the Baptist Missionary Society which are to be held this year in that city. Our heartiest good wishes to Dr. Williamson for a furlough full of good things.

The Sacred Concert last Sunday evening was a great success. The varied programme arranged by the committee of the Friendship Bible Class included pianoforte solo and duets, baritone and tenor solos, duets, a trio and a quartette, also a violin solo and a quintette of Chinese instruments. It appears to us that there is a place for something of this nature, though with a less ambitious programme perhaps, at regular intervals, say once or twice a month on Sunday evenings. We can imagine a pianist, another instrumentalist and a soloist giving restful (and we fancy some of our students need to be helped to rest themselves after their very full week) and inspiring hours in Kumler Chapel or Room 333.

We have received a copy of the 1933 list of Graduates of the Medical College which gives, in Chinese and English, the names of the graduates from 1915 on and the position at present held by each of those surviving. In addition there are similar lists for the graduates of the North China Women's Union Medical College from 1913 to 1923, of the University of Nanking Medical Department from 1912 to 1922, and of the Hankow Union Medical College from 1908 to 1922. Lists of graduates since those dates become united in our own Medical College and may be obtained from the office of the Dean.

Rural Life Exhibition

The second annual Rural Life Exhibition was opened at the White-wright Institute, Tuesday, March 21st, under the auspices of that institution in cooperation with the Cheeloo Rural Institute and other organizations. The exhibits cover many subjects, agriculture, local industries, health, home-making, mass education and rural organization, and moral reform and religion.

A very interesting collection of local agricultural products has been loaned by the Shantung Agricultural College. The Provincial Mass Education Bureau not only supplied material for display, but enlivened the first two days by theatricals of an educational nature. Among the exhibits brought by the Tsou-P'ing Institute of Rural Reconstruction is the huge Poland-China pig which always attracts a crowd of enthusiastic spectators. The friends of the Rural Education Department at Tsingchow will find a display showing the progress of the mass education classes and also the products of the vocational school. Probably the section attracting the greatest and most sustained interest is that which deals with the home, foods, and the care of children, where Miss Russell and her assistants have been kept busy with explanation and the answering of questions. Students from the Nursing School and University have helped to act as interpreters for the various exhibits. In the present state of agricultural research in the province, it is inevitable that not all of the material is directly applicable to the practical problems of the farmers. However, it all helps to arouse interest and stimulate thinking. Much valuable information is given, and one is impressed by the fact that, from a good many directions, progress is being made towards the means for a better life in the villages. It is hoped that this Exhibition may be made the means of bringing together annually those persons and organizations working on this problem, to exchange experience as well as materials.

In spite of unfavourable weather, the attendance for the first half-day was 2,359, and for the second day 4,678. The Exhibition opens at 8.30 a.m. and closes at 5.30 p.m. each day. It will continue for two weeks, or until the 31st.

Where our Medical Graduates are Working

We have received from the Dean of the Medical College a supplementary pamphlet giving in detail the distribution of Cheeloo Medical Graduates, 1915-1932 and attempt below a summary of the same.

The 271 graduates are grouped according to present location as follows:—

|--------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Cheeloo Hospital and Medical College | 19 |
| Peking Union Medical College | 6 |
| Other Mission Hospitals | 82 |
| Private Practice including Private Hospitals | 111 |
| Government Service and Public Institutions | 42 |
| Not located or deceased | 11 |

In this list the term Private Hospitals includes several former Mission Hospitals or local Church Hospitals.

The number who entered Mission Hospitals including Cheeloo on graduation and worked in them for one to fourteen years or up to the present is 195, that is 75%. Of the remainder, 29 entered the P.U.M.C. Of the 265 graduates now living, 101 are in Mission Hospitals, that is 38%.

From the point of view of geographical distribution, we notice that fourteen provinces are represented, those with the largest number of graduates working in them being Shantung with 86, Kiangsu with 51 and Hopei with 41. An analysis on the basis of rural areas as compared with the large cities shows that rural China is being well served. 66% of the graduates are outside the cities of Nanking, Peking, Shanghai, Soochow, Tientsin, Tsinan (including Cheeloo), and Wuhan. Of the 97 working in those cities 47 are in Mission Hospitals or the P.U.M.C.

Those who doubt the wisdom of training women doctors, in view of the possibilities of marriage, should note that, of 26 women graduates, 7 have married and 22 are in practice, half of them in Mission Hospitals.

Nine Foreign Missionary Societies unite in the support of the Medical College but 101 of our graduates are to be found today serving twenty-four Missionary Societies in fifty-six hospitals, five of which are union institutions. The Missions employing the largest numbers are the American Presbyterian North with 16 and the American Presbyterian South with 13.

The last two pages of the pamphlet show that 15 out of 23 Pharmacy, 4 out of 6 Laboratory Technique, and 8 out of 9 Physiotherapy Course graduates are serving in Mission Hospitals.

We feel this is a record of which we may be proud and which should be made widely known.

The Materialistic Current in China

In earlier issues of the Bulletin we have noticed The Chinese Journal of Sociology, edited by Dr. T. H. Yü of our Sociology Department. We have now received with much pleasure a copy of the first number of a new publication, The Chinese Sociological Bulletin, also edited by Dr. Yü. This monthly Bulletin purposes "to supply a summary in the English language of current sociological developments in China". The major part of the publication is composed of editorials, abstracts from contemporary Chinese sociological literature, and reviews. We are particularly interested in the paragraph on The Materialistic Current in China, largely the result of a very great increase in the translation and publication of communist and quasi-communist literature. During the last four years nearly one half of the social science literature published has been of this type. "The bookstores throughout the country are flooded with such literature. . . . Many students above the middle-school grade are now absorbed in ideas of this kind. The damaging effect of this movement is beginning to reveal itself in certain aspects of Chinese life."

We congratulate Dr. Yü on this new venture and wish it every success. An annual subscription of mex $1.50 in China, G. $1.00 abroad, will bring you the ten issues of the Bulletin, one for each month of the academic year.

Notes and Comments

The preacher at tomorrow afternoon's English service will be the Rev. Harold Cook of the English Methodist Mission, Wutingfu. Mr. and Mrs. Cook are passing through Tsinan on their way to England on furlough and are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. King.

A hearty welcome to Miss Ellie Poulsen who arrived from Tientsin at the beginning of the week. Miss Poulsen will take Miss Morton Smith's place in the office of the Dean of Medicine during the coming twelve months.

We desire to express our sincere sympathy with Dr. and Mrs. Carson who received on Wednesday a cablegram telling of the passing of Mrs. Carson's father.

Mr. Chiang Wen-Han, Student Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Shanghai, spoke at Morning Worship in Room 333 on Thursday morning and afterwards to one of the larger classes. Mr. Chiang was Chinese representative at the meeting of the World Student Christian Federation in Holland last year.

A letter from Peking tells that our two Red Cross Units are attending to some three hundred wounded near the Hsi Chih Men in that city. Dr. Kiang is being kept busy with interviews with the authorities and Dr. Hou is in charge of the hospital.

Mr. Lautenschlager, in response to an invitation from President Chu, will leave next Tuesday or Wednesday for Changsha to deliver a series of lectures on International Relations and allied topics in that city. Mr. Lautenschlager expects to spend a day in Kaifeng with some of our graduates teaching there, and to address a meeting of the Students' Christian Union in Wuhan. He will be away two or three weeks.

Some of us may not know of the artesian well that is being sunk at the foot of Ch'ien Fo Shan close to the point where the paved road up the hill begins. Mr. Scott and a party of geology students, who visited the spot last Saturday, report that the well is almost completed. A depth of some four hundred feet has been reached—and water. The core extracted shows that the soil for twenty feet down is a yellowish sandy limestone and for the rest of the distance is the ordinary black ordovician limestone. The igneous rock, which is found higher up in the hill at the level of the temples, does not appear in the core of the well.

WHERE IS IT? A copy of Galsworthy's "Carevan" the property of Mrs. Ingle. Will the present borrower or finder please return to Mrs. Ingle as soon as possible.

Holiday Plans

Tomorrow three parties leave the University for Poshan, Ch'ufu and T'ai Shan respectively. Mr. and Mrs. Pailing with sixteen Pharmacy students go to Poshan to visit the glass works, coal mines and the local church. They expect to return late on Monday evening. The Sociology Club of the Arts College have organised a trip to Ch'ufu and T'ai Shan and have invited any student who wishes to join them. There will be about thirty-three in the party. A party of similar size goes direct to T'ai Shan. This includes the senior class of the Ch'ung-Te Primary School with teachers, a Geology group led by Mr. Scott, and a few other students in addition. We learn that Mr. and Mrs. Menzies, Mr. and Mrs. Drake and Bernard, and Mrs. Scott and David will be accompanying the party.

In Tingshien at the end of next week a conference, arranged by the National Christian Council, meets to discuss Literacy and Rural Reconstruction. Miss Russell and Mr. W.B. Djang hope to be there for the beginning of the conference and Dr. Stanley and Dr. Carson will go later.

Mr. Ch'en Wen-Pin left for Nanking on Wednesday evening to represent Cheeloo at a conference on university work in Astronomy, Mathematics and Physics. The conference has been called by the Ministry of Education.

Dr. and Mrs. Hsieh and their children left this morning for Shanghai where Mrs. Hsieh and the children will probably remain for the summer.

Yen Pia An Appreciation

Sixteen years ago, a modest lad of eighteen, the son of the late Pastor Yen Shou-Ting, came from Tsingchowfu to work in the clinical laboratory of the School of Medicine. At least once a year since then, the question has been asked, "Can't we find another Yen Pin?" That unanswered question recurs to us today with special force as we mourn the loss of his skilled hands, his keen mind and his gentle presence. It is literally true that every Cheeloo family is indebted to him for his valuable assistance to our physicians in the care of our community health. When one thinks of the physicians and technicians helped to train through these years, one realizes that his influence goes far beyond our own province.

During his last illness of only three weeks, we have seen him characteristically appreciative of the thoughtful attention a large circle of colleagues and students has lavished upon him, and eager, with a true scientific spirit, to have the understanding of his illness furthered in every possible way.

We extend our sympathy in a special way to his family—a widow and six children—and to his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Yü Fu-Hsin.

To lose a valued staff member and friend at the age of thirty-four is truly hard. We comfort ourselves with the thought of his rich and enlarging development in a great, adventurous experiment under The Master Technician.

The Experimental Farm

The agricultural experiment station which now adjoins the campus on the south was first established in 1929 by means of a grant from the International Famine Relief Commission. The general administration of the station is carried on under the Shantung Committee of this body, Dr. Stanley being its chairman.

When first organized, the farm was located at Lungshan, but in 1931 was moved to Tsinan to facilitate supervision and scientific procedure. The University grants the use of the land and renders some technical assistance. Close cooperation with the experiment station is an essential feature of the new plan sponsored by the university and the Kiao Tsi Railway for agricultural improvement along the railway. The experimental work is in direct charge of Mr. Li Hung Hsun, an agricultural graduate from the University of Nanking. A second agriculturist, Mr. Kung Ling Shen, is due to arrive from Nanking this summer.

This station is one of the several in North China cooperating in the Plant Improvement Program developed by the University of Nanking, and the technical direction of the work is under the specialists from that center. Originally, the program included only wheat and millet. In the summer of 1932, the soy bean and kaoliang tests, formerly carried on at Weihsien, were moved here, a small financial grant being made at the same time from the Plant Improvement funds. Last autumn, the farm also entered into an arrangement with the Bureau of Industries to carry on some wheat tests under the direction of Dr. H. H. Love, agricultural adviser to the national government. At present, the whole work of the farm is centred upon this plant breeding work, other crops being grown merely as sidelines in order to keep the ground occupied. It is in no sense a model or demonstration farm. Later on, as soon as improved varieties are available, regional tests will be carried out at other localities and the seeds propagated and spread among the farmers. The methods used in this work are the standard ones of selection and pedigree testing. This will require several more years before results are visible, but if the work is carefully done, there is every assurance that an important contribution can be made to the agriculture of Shantung.

Notes and Comments

We much regret to have to announce that Mr. Yen Pin, Assistant Clinical Pathologist, who was taken ill with septicaemia three weeks ago passed away last Tuesday. The funeral service was held in the Medical College Hall this afternoon following which the interment took place at the East Suburb Church Cemetery near K'ai Yuan Ssu. We print on another page a tribute from one of Mr. Yen's colleagues.

Postponed: The Old English Evening planned for this evening in the Medical College Hall is postponed to next Monday, the 3rd. Some friends have been unable to accept the invitation for this evening; Mrs. Ingle wishes them to know that they will be cordially welcomed on Monday should that day happen to be more convenient for them.

Women's Club. On account of the vacation the April meeting of the club will be held on Thursday, the 13th., instead of next Thursday.

Dr. J.C. Ferguson's Visit. Please make a note of the following dates. Dr. Ferguson will lecture before the Tsinan Literary Society on the evening of April 10th. and before the faculty and student body on the evening of Wednesday, the 12th. Dr. Ferguson will be addressing the Tsinan Rotary Club on the afternoon of the 12th. Places and times will be announced in our next issue.

Miss Morton Smith leaves for furlough next Wednesday and will sail from Shanghai on the 'Empress of Russia' on the 9th.. We wish her good voyaging and a most pleasant furlough.

We are grateful to the Rockeller Foundation for a grant of money to cover the expenses connected with the local survey of flora and fauna conducted by Mr. C. N. Yang of the Biology Department and with the proposed research programme on Ascariasis and Amoebiasis in the Tsinan area.

We desire to thank Mr. Yu Yao-Hsi of the Yu Hsing Dye Company, Tsinan, for his generous donation of $100 for Arts and Science bursaries. Our hearty thanks also to Mr. Lu Chih-Shun, of the Lu Ta Iron Works, Tsinan, for his gift of $50 for the same purpose.

Dr. H. H. K'ung, Chairman of the University Board of Directors, passed through Tsinan last week on his return journey to Nanking after visiting the troops at the front. Mr. Davies and Mr. Linn were able to see Dr. K'ung for a few minutes at the railway station.

The Chinese members of the University staff have recently contributed the sum of $655 to the fund being raised by educational institutions in this province for the comfort (慰勞) of troops on the north-eastern front. The fund is the result of a proposal made by the Provincial Board of Education which has appointed a committee to administer it. We learn also that two members of staff have, in addition, given a sum of $60 for bandages and gauze.

Mr. C. N. Yang left for Nanking at the end of last week to consult with Dr. H.H. Love on matters concerning Cheeloo's plans for extended rural experimentation in cooperation with the Kiao-Tsi Railway.

The two upper dining rooms (not generally in use) of the Arts and Science men's dormitories have been occupied this week by sixty students of the Engineering School of Peiyang University, Tientsin. The group, led by Mr. C.H. Wang, Dean of the School, are on a tour of inspection of engineering works in east China. They arrived here on Monday evening and left on Friday, one section for Tsingtao and another for Shanghai.

Hockey is over and some of us are feeling pleased that we have survived the season intact. It has been good exercise and splendid fun and we recommend those who see it as a perilous affair to study the statistics of American football.

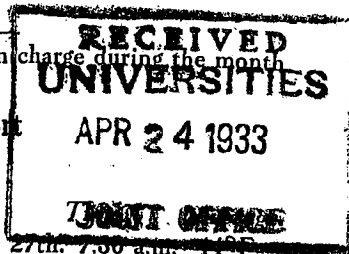

Baseball begins this week. Let's go!

Medical Outcalls. Dr. Stearns will be in charge during the month of April.

Notes and Comments

Mr. Yü Fu-Hsin wishes to express the deep gratitude of the family of Mr. Yen Pin for the many thoughtful courtesies extended to them at the time of his illness and death. Mr. Yü speaks especially of his conviction that the beautiful expressions of sympathy they have received are the peculiar contributions of Christian and Christ-like fellowship.

The Rural Life Exhibition at the Whitewright Institute closed at noon on Friday of last week. The total number of visitors during the nine days was 50,432.

The Rev. Wang Ming Tao, an evangelist of repute who was with us at Easter 1931, has conducted meetings each evening of the vacation in the Medical College Hall.

A very hearty welcome to Mrs. Russell Watson and Rhoda who arrived from England on Thursday. Mrs. Watson has been away five months, Rhoda several years.

Bon voyage and a happy furlough to Dr. and Mrs. Mosse, Helen and Mary, who leave Tsinan next Wednesday. They expect to sail from Shanghai on the P. & O. S. S. Chitral on the 18th.

Several friends have been to Weih sien this week for the jubilee celebrations of the beginning of mission work there. We hope to publish next week some report of the occasion.

Good Friday. Please note that there will be a service in Kumler Chapel on the morning of Good Friday.

Literary Society: Dr. Ferguson's lecture will be given in Room 313 on the ground floor of the Chemistry Building which is the room most suitable for showing the many excellent lantern slides that Dr. Ferguson is bringing with him.

Radio

We have forgotten how many years it is since we were first able to send marconigrams in China and in recent years broadcasting has been making steady it slow progress. This year, for the first time to our knowledge, several students have installed receiving sets in their rooms. Undoubtedly a field of opportunity and service is opening up in the wireless world and the Science College is therefore planning to open this autumn a special course in Wireless Telegraphy. The course will be of two years duration and will therefore provide an opportunity for students, who for financial or other reasons are unable to embark on a full four year university course, to gain some of the benefits that a university education provides and at the same time to fit themselves for a definite career in radio engineering.

A detailed statement of the Course and entrance regulations will be found on the last two pages of the Arts and Science Colleges Entrance Regulations 1933 (issued this week). We append a summary below.
Entrance Requirements: as for the Science College, except that in the Entrance Examination the elective science subject must be Physics.

Fees: as for the Science College, with a Laboratory Fee of $5.00 for each practical course.

Curriculum: First Year: Mathematics, General Physics, Applied Electricity, Wireless Telegraphy and Party Principles.

Second Year: Mathematics, Advanced Practical Electricity, Wireless Telegraphy and Engineering.

Mr. Lautenschlager's Tour.

Mr. Lautenschlager returned on Thursday evening and has a very interesting story to tell of his trip to Ch'angsha. On his way thither he stayed three days in K'aifeng and spoke in the Y.M.C.A., the College of Fine Arts and the Baptist Middle School. Mr. Lautenschlager was much impressed by the work done among students by the two Cheeloo alumni, Cheng Fan-Ch'iao and Wang Mo-Yuan, who have been in the Y.M.C.A. there this last year. Apathy and antipathy have been transformed into interest, entrance has been gained too nearly every school and the university, and two to three hundred students come to the Y.M.C.A. weekly.

In Wuch'ang Mr. Lautenschlager and Dr. King Chu, who came from Ch'angsha for the occasion, gave addresses before the Wuch'ang Students' Christian Union Conference in Boone Middle School. The arrangements for the conference were largely in the hands of Mr. Hu Jen-An, a member of the school staff, who graduated from the Cheeloo School of Theology last summer.

Dr. Chu returned to Ch'angsha with Mr. Lautenschlager who was entertained at the Government Club as the guest of Provincial Chairman Ho Chien and Dr. Chu, Commissioner of Education. During his week's stay in the city, Mr. Lautenschlager spoke in the mornings in Hunan University, outlying government middle schools, the three Christian middle schools and Yale medical College. In the afternoons he addressed crowded meetings of middle school students in the Chung Shan Hall. The attendance was from one thousand to fifteen hundred on each occasion and was composed of different students each day. Mr. Lautenschlager was much impressed by the tremendous educational activity in Ch'angsha and by the progress of the Christian forces in that city despite two severe handlings by the Communists. Cheeloo friends of Miss Winifred Galbraith will be glad to learn that I-Fang Girl's School is very much on its feet again with Miss Tseng in charge. The Communists, during their reign of power in the city, attempted to close the school and, when the first attempt failed, went with fixed bayonets to clear the girls out. With two hours notice to quit, the girls, having finished packing, found time to hold a prayer meeting and sing hymns despite the soldiery. They then marched out undaunted between the files of fixed bayonets. That was a few years ago. Now they are back again and the school as strong as ever. The Communist danger to Hunan however is once more very real.

On his way back to Cheeloo, Mr. Lautenschlager had an opportunity of speaking in the University of Nanking. He brings back with him President Chu's greetings to all.

Employees' Evening School

The Education Club, organized by students of the Department of Education, is continuing the evening classes which in past years it has arranged for University employees. Some of the employees attend the classes organized by the Whitewright Institute but many have been taking advantage of the Education Club's arrangements this term.

Each of the four classes meets on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from eight to nine and the Club members do the necessary teaching in rotation, three students being responsible for the instruction of each class. One class is studying Health, another History and the remaining two are doing books in the Thousand Character Series. On Saturday evenings the school meets for a lecture on some subject of general interest given by one of the teachers. At the end of each term prizes are awarded to those with the highest grades.

Notes and Comments

Last Sunday afternoon's collection on behalf of the American, British and Foreign, and Scottish National Bible Societies amounted to $48.00.

We wish to thank all who cooperated in making the Good Friday and Easter services memorable—the preachers, Mr. P'eng, Mr. Drake and Dr. Lair for their messages, the choir for their special anthems and the ladies who decorated the Kumler Chapel so beautifully.

Mr. and Mrs. Castleton have booked berths on the P. & O.T.S. Ranchi which leaves Shanghai for England on May 2nd. We wish to extend to them our sincerest sympathy in their illness and wish them a restful voyage and a sure and speedy return to good health.

The University Library is indebted to Rev. A. G. Castleton for the gift of five copies of the Peking Daily Gazette from the reign of Kuang Hsu. They are interesting historical material.

We learn from Adjutant Harris that Commissioner and Mrs. Benwell, accompanied by Staff Captain Stranks and one other officer, arrived in Tsinan on Thursday for special Salvation Army meetings which began on Friday. The party expects to return to Peping next Wednesday evening.

Nan Kuan folks are invited to attend the Tsinan Club on Wednesdays. Saturday is to be Visitors' Day at the South Suburb Tennis Club. Tea will be served, weather permitting.

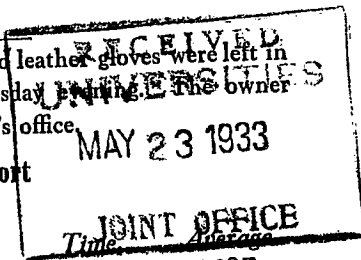

FOUND. A fountain-pen has been picked up in the Phillipps' garden. Will the owner please call for it.

ALSO FOUND: A pair of tan fur-lined leather gloves were left in the School of Theology Chapel on Wednesday. The owner may have the same by calling at Dr. Stanley's office.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Castleton

Our friends left on Thursday for Shanghai accompanied thus far by Miss Nunn. On the 'Ranchi' they will have with them Miss Mary Walker, formerly of Chowtsun and in recent years of the E.B.M. Hospital, Sianfu. They left ordered home for health reasons, and we wish them to know how much we regret the causes of their departure, how much we shall uphold them in prayer on their journey and believe with them in their return to health in the early future.

Mr. Castleton first came to China in 1906 and after two years at Tsingchowfu was joined by his bride and with her went to Chowtsun. With the exception of three years at Peichen, 1910 to 1913, they have worked in Chowtsun ever since. Of our friends work for the English Baptist Mission in this province this is perhaps not the place to write. Members of other missions pay tribute to the high order of the contribution made in that work. In recent years Mr. Castleton has been devoting himself to be cause of the Church of Christ in China and, since return from furlough eighteen months ago, has been secretary to the Shantung Synod. He will indeed be much missed from that position in which he has worked so zealously for the united church. He will be missed too from the National Christian Council on which he has served for several years as a Shantung representative. Mr. Castleton's connection with Cheeloo's Field Board of Managers, now the Board of Directors, dates back to its initial meeting in May 1919 when he was the E.B.M. elected representative and was appointed recording secretary, a position he has filled, with various breaks during furloughs, almost ever since. At the meeting of that body in June there will be a gap hard to be filled. We cannot close this inadequate tribute to our friends without recalling the students who came to Cheeloo eventually after receiving a start in the Chowtsun school and recalling also the many times Mr.

Castleton has ministered to us from the pulpit of Kumler Chapel. His sermon on "The Ways of Life" on Sunday afternoon, March 18th. was the utterance of "a very gallant gentleman."

Godspeed them both.

April 26th.

Dear Cheeloo Friends,

Farewell. Tomorrow we set out in search of better health and we know your prayers go with us. It has been good to share in the wonderful Christian fellowship of the campus. We have been overwhelmed with sympathy, with kindness, with real friendship. We shall never forget it. Thank you all. You will forgive us if we have not called on you one by one won't you? The loss is ours. Our memory of you all will ever remain as the sweet fragrance of true friendship.

Cheerio. E. E. and A. G. Castleton

Knowledge and Life

This was the subject chosen by Mr. Shao Yuan Ch'ung, Vice-Chairman of the Legislative Yuan, for his address to the students and staff on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Shao and Mr. Chang Wei-Han, a member of the Yuan, were visiting Tsinan on an official tour of investigation and at the end of the day paid a visit to the University. Mr. Shao's address may be summarized as follows. Past generations pursued and gained knowledge and we have entered into their heritage. We should continue their work and gain more knowledge for the benefit of posterity, for the society of the future and not merely for our own selfish ends. The real purpose of knowledge is the benefit of others, the motive in its pursuit should be the betterment of society, race and the world. Selfishness is not the royal road to our own happiness, the way to it lies in the service of others. Hence the seeker after knowledge should first cultivate personal virtues, should be a good man. Then he may proceed to the conquest of natural forces and their employment in the increase of wealth and production for the benefit not of himself but of others. Thus and thus only can we achieve a better society, a better nation, a better world.

Fire.

It was indeed fortunate that the burning beam, in the wall of the laboratory at the east end of the Chemistry Building, revealed itself before every one was a-bed. Students enjoying the cool of the campus, after our warmest day so far, saw flames issuing from the top corner of a window frame about nine o'clock on Monday evening. The alarm being raised, the electric light in the building was disconnected and many willing helpers arrived on the scene. The root of the trouble was a beam in the wall too near to a chimney leading from a furnace, in use that evening for distilling purposes. Water hosed round about prevented any immediate spread of the fire but it could not be finally disposed of until the roof tiles and chimney piece had been removed. When this had been done the local fire brigade turned up in force—six motor vehicles, five of which carried hose and water supply. The firemen then took charge and, with their hoses of greater power, easily extinguished the burning beam. So we returned home with minds at rest and grateful to all the workmen, students and staff who had given their help and to the Fire Brigade for their timely assistance.

Sports

On a day that furnished almost every type of weather except snow and frost the Arts students gained a well deserved victory with 87 points in the Inter-college Sports. The other totals were Science 64, Medicine 24 and Theology 21 points. Lack of sufficient training prevented any Cheeloo records being broken but several fine finishes were witnessed. The occasion was notable too for the introduction of five events for women students who eagerly took advantage of their opportunity. The University undoubtedly possesses not a few students who might with more training accomplish good performances but, except for Arts men, who are not hindered by long laboratory periods in the afternoons, the question of training seems not easy to solve. Perhaps a series of monthly contests beginning in the autumn term with Seniors' Sports and Freshmen's Sports and continued with inter-college competitions in rotation might provide the stimulus necessary for longer and more persistent training. Several have been heard to express their gratification on the speeding up of the programme for the day and we should like to thank all concerned for the manner in which the sports were carried through. The results were as follows:—

The Bible Societies

Letters of thanks have been received from each of the three societies for their shares in the collection made the Sunday before last. With Dr. Watson's permission we quote a few sentences therefrom.

"The opportunities for the distribution of Scriptures, in practically all parts of the country, is very good. The output from Shanghai during the past winter has been as heavy as at any time in the past and quite up to the limit of our financial resources."

"We do heartily thank the members and congregation of Union Church for their co-operation in the work of the Bible Societies in China."

Notes and Comments

Professor J. B. Tayler of Yenching and Mr. Lu Kuang-Mien are visiting Shantung this week in connection with a forward project of the North China Industrial Service Union.

Welcome to the children! William and David on holiday from Chefoo, and Lucille, Louise, Bobbie, Billy and Howard, who arrived on Thursday morning from T'ungchow.

Adjutant and Mrs. Harris, Lawrance and Beulah expect to leave for a new post in Shanghai about the 9th. of May. Their place will be taken by Adjutant and Mrs. Melbourn and Joyce. We extend to our departing friends our warmest wishes for all success in their new sphere.

Last week-end we had the pleasure of seeing a number of the Tingsien Rural Literacy Institute delegates on the campus, including Mr. Sun T'ien-Hsi and the Rev. Sampson Ting.

A letter has been received from Mayor Shen of Tsingtao, who was on the campus two weeks ago, expressing his appreciation of the work of the University, the application to study and the good discipline of the students. We desire to thank Mayor Shen for the generous donation of $1000 which he sent with his letter.

Mr. Liu Shou-Chung, a member of the Central Executive Committee of the Kuomintang, was in Tsinan on a tour of inspection when taken ill and admitted to the University Hospital. An operation was performed and Mr. Liu has now left the Hospital and is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Linn for a few days before leaving for Sian.

We regret that space prevents us including this week an adequate notice of the April issue of the Chinese Sociological Bulletin. We hope to do so next week.

Medical Outcalls: Dr. Ingle will be in charge during May.

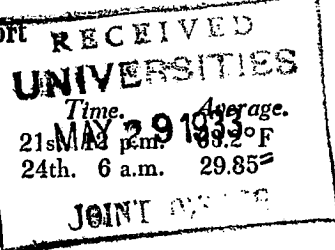

Erratum: In the University Calendar 1933-34 printed last week, read 'March 30. Good Friday'.

Stop Press: Before giving financial help to Mr. Chang Pi-Te (張被得) for the 濟南基督教得救救人佈道團, we invite you to make enquiries of Adjutant Harris or Mr. Phillips.

Sociological

The April number of the Chinese Sociological Bulletin, edited by Dr. T.H. Yü, is even more interesting than the last. The San Min Chu I (Three Principles of the People) are perhaps usually thought of as wholly political in nature but we here find them noticed as an alternative to the materialistic current in this country. Another editorial is devoted to Mushroom Publications, sometimes called 'mosquito sheets' because, we assume, they are stinging and difficult to catch.

An Analysis of Chinese Talent based on the statistics of 4,600 persons in a Chinese Who's Who 1920, shows that of this number one third were successful candidates in the former competitive examination system, slightly less than one third were students returned from abroad and one fifth were graduates from schools and colleges in China. Of the 1341 returned students, 902 were from Japan, 317 from America and the remainder from England, France, Germany, Belgium, Russia and Italy. The overwhelming majority held political posts and the geographical distribution was very marked, the provinces which contain Shanghai, Canton, Peping and Tientsin being at the top of the list.

Notes and Comments

This Afternoon: We have received the following for publication from Mr. Wolfe but we cannot let it go at that. If we were different from what we are, we should undoubtedly 'boost' this event with the biggest headlines obtainable, but being ourselves, we offer our heartiest congratulations to Mr. Wolfe and those under him on the successful completion, despite many difficulties, of the new Plant.

All are cordially invited to a Tea at the New Power House in the Medical College grounds this afternoon from four to six o'clock to celebrate the opening of the Power Plant for service.

J. B. Wolfe.

And this Evening: In response to several requests for a more detailed account of his recent trip to Hunan, Mr. Lautenschlager has decided to give this evening for that purpose and friends are invited to Mr. and Mrs. Lautenschlager's home at 7.30 p.m. The talk will be in English and will deal mainly with the progress of Christian schools in Hunan. Mr. Lautenschlager has been away in Tsingtao for three days this week giving addresses before the Lions Club, the University, and the Cheeloo Alumni.

We welcome to the University this week-end Miss Eleanor M. Darroch who is a member of the Institute of Educational Research, Sun Yatsen University, Canton. Miss Darroch has come to China under the Universities' China Committee of London and is the first British student to occupy such a post. She is at present touring different provinces studying the problems connected with teacher training. Miss Darroch is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell.

Our prayerful sympathy is with Mr. and Mrs. Lord and their family in the illness of Mr. Lord. Mr. Lord arrived from the S. P. G. station at Yenchow last week and successfully underwent an operation for appendicitis on Tuesday.

The preacher at last Sunday afternoon's service was Dr. J. Milton Vance of the Department of Religion of the Presbyterian College of Wooster, Ohio. Dr. Vance has been spending his sabbatical year in India and spoke of the difficulties and encouragements in missionary work in that country.

The Prayer Meeting on Wednesday was led by the Rev. Paul Abbott of Chefoo who gave us a most practical talk on Guidance, closing with a recent experience of his own that has helped him—and now us—greatly. Mr. Abbott wants us to expect guidance, both general and specific, in the present and future with as much confidence as we believe in the guidance we have received in the past.

We are much indebted to Mrs. Heeren and those helping her for the special music prepared for morning worship in Room 333 this week. The Chinese translation of Fullerton's hymn 'O Saviour of the World' was much appreciated as was also the rendering by an octette of students and staff of a Chinese version of Goss's 'O taste and see.' Holidays are good but we hope this week's will not prevent us enjoying the rest of Mrs. Heeren's four day programme.

Yesterday was a holiday in celebration of the anniversary of the establishment of the Revolutionary Government.

Today no classes will be held in view of the Provincial Athletic Sports.

Final examinations for Arts and Science students graduating this term begin on Monday, June 5th.

We have before us a reprint from the Proceedings of the Royal Society entitled 'The Stark Effect for Xenon', by H. W. Harkness and J.F. Heard. The paper was communicated by A.S. Eve, F.R.S.. We notice on the first page that one of the authors' identity is given more clearly as H.W. Harkness, Ph. D., Associate Professor of Physics, Acadia University. We lose no time in extending to Mr. Harkness our very heartiest congratulations on the success of his research and on the doctorate of which this is our first news.

We offer our apologies to Adjutant and Mrs. Welbourn, the new arrivals at the local Salvation Army Depot, for the reversal of the first letter of their name last week.

Lack of space in our last issue compelled us to hold over the details of the winners in the following Inter-class competitions. Banners were presented at the close of the Sports two weeks ago.

Chinese Sculpture

The Tsinan Literary Society has been fortunate in having a continuation of Chinese Artistic Culture, in the lecture last Monday evening by Mr. F. S. Drake of Cheeloo. Mr. Drake not only gave us the 'leading threads' to a most interesting subject, "Chinese Sculpture", but contributed an enthusiasm to the absorption of his audience in watching the delicate tracery of his 'tapestry' unfold. One felt that with the uplift of the Buddhistic interpretation of the decorative line, through Mr. Drake's quick appreciation we were also uplifted. He has indeed brought an understanding of a branch of this historic art in China nearer home to us.

"Nearer home", yes, for we have learned that in our own province of Shantung have been found the beginnings of the sculpture that later developed to a high degree of perfection. In the Han Dynasty Pre-Buddhistic Sculpture took the form of low relief on monumental stones. Pictorial hunting scenes showed horse and hound in sinuous, realistic action. Also in Shantung we find the first early examples of sculpture in the round. There is the unique lion, found and photographed by Mr. Drake at LingChih near Tsingchowfu, so like the winged lions on guard before the Wu Burial Grounds at Chia Hsiang (dated 147 A.D.) and the five lions of the Liang Dynasty near Nanking. These are, in posture, striding with heads thrown back in fearless challenge like the figureheads of Viking ships. In all these early pieces a little further attention reveals an amazing resemblance to the earlier trend in Assyrian art.

As the Chinese territory increased at the end of the Han Dynasty, caravan routes crossed the desert to Western Asia. From Afghanistan, where Alexander the Great left vestiges of Greek Sculpture, Indian buddhism crept in. So, the Wei Emperor, from his capitol at Tatungfu in Shansi, formed his mountain temples. In the twenty-two Yun-Kan Caves and niches are flat Buddhistic figures carved in sandstone. What is characteristic of Indian workmanship is the suggestion of filmy drapery. Also the Indian deity Siva is seated on her mythical steed at one of the entrances. The North Wei capitol was moved to Loyang, Honan, in 494 A.D., and again the Emperor built mountain shrines. Elaborately cut buddhas and bodhisattvas at the Lung-Men Caves were worked into the finer limestone. The tendency to modify the sculptured figures with designs more individually Chinese was evidenced by the flattened pleats of the garments sweeping down below the feet to a bell-shaped base.

The North Ch'i and Sui Dynasties were marked by a more definite cylindrical shape in the sculpted form. The cave buddhas of the Sui Dynasty at Shing Lung Shan and Lung Tung are familiar to all Tsinan, while the best examples of this time are to be seen at T'o Shan and Yun Men Shan, also in Shantung.

A renewed Indian influence returned in the Tang Dynasty with the Buddhist pilgrims, and again the figures are in garments of gauze-like texture, but now bodies are more plastically moulded, and there is a new grace in the 'at ease' posture of the bodhisattva.

There is also a phase of portraiture in Chinese Sculpture which shows a high standard of genius. In temples may be seen bodhisattvas with visages of beatific serenity, and now and again the expressive features of a lay figure depicts an actual character. The fine, gracefully moulded figures of the Tang Bodhisattvas and Kwan Yin, shown last in the lantern slides, lead up to exquisite perfection in Art.

For preparing the illustrative slides that truly appealed to the 'child in each of us', thanks are due to Mr. J.C. Scott. For his splendid and graphic review of this wide field showing us Chinese Sculpture as it was advanced, we are grateful to Mr. Drake.

New Power Plant

"It will roar you as gently as any sucking dove," so they said, but we scarce believed them, for was it not a power house to furnish light and water for the whole University and had we ever compared the plant outside the wall to a cooing dove? The new plant is situated between the medical students dormitories and the Out-patient Department, therefore very near the Hospital block, but the engines had been running off and on for a week without anyone outside the little gate, that used to lead to Dr. Wheeler's bungalow, being aware of it. We do not know how Bottom would have offered to imitate a chimney but he could not have smoked with less smoke than the new stack. So fears were dispelled and all joined in congratulating Mr. Wolfe and his shopmen on the fine job they had made of the power house. Last Saturday the workmen stopped work at three o'clock and were served tea in the boiler room and later were joined by all of us who were able to go.

One or two facts about the new plant may be of interest. The building was erected by a local Chinese contractor, the steel roof trusses and steel windows being made by a Tsinan firm. The engine and electrical equipment came from Germany, the boilers from England and the whole was erected by our own shopmen who also made several important parts of the equipment. The electric equipment is to synchronize with our present Diesel oil engine to furnish water and light. The two high pressure steam boilers provide steam power for the engine, while the exhaust steam, augmented by 'live' steam from the boilers, will give heat to all Medical College and Hospital buildings, hot water for the Hospital, dormitories and laundry, and steam for hospital sterilizing purposes. It is estimated that the total cost of the plant has been approximately mex. $60,000.

Medical College Prayers

Last week and part of this, the Medical College has been greatly indebted to Drs. Gault, Evans, King, and the augmented choir for the rendering of a set of Negro Spirituals. These gave us a good insight into the psychology and religious feeling of the negro mind. The deep simplicity of these spirituals brought us all into very close touch with first things.

We would like to suggest that these friends might like to repeat them one Sunday evening for the benefit of the whole University.

Athletics

As a result of their successes in the recent Provincial Athletic Sports, the following Cheeloo students will represent Shantung in the North China Sports to be held in Tsingtao early in July.

Notes and Comments

Literary Society Please note that the closing meeting for this session on Monday evening is not to be merely a business meeting. There is also a short programme arranged Mrs. Croome.

We would like to thank the Friends of Christ group for their gift of a handsome wall clock for Room 333.

There has been quite an exodus this week end. Dr. Lair has gone to Tientsin as representative of Tsinan Rotary at the Tientsin Rotary's tenth anniversary celebrations. Mr. and Mrs. Pailing are in Chowtsun where Mr. Pailing is giving the Nursing School Graduation address.

Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell are in Tsingchowfu Dr. Mitchell is giving a series of addresses in connection with the E. B. M. work there. Dr. Carson left for Nanking on Thursday and expects to be back here next Thursday after attending meetings in Ihsien, south Shantung.

It is good to have news of the Hunters. Mrs. Hunter and the children are all well and J. W. seems to be still busy with deputation work. The most important news in the letter is that Mr. Hunter is appointed to work in Doncaster where a new church is now being erected and will be completed in June or July. Letters reaching England after July 1st. should be addressed to 28 Imperial Crescent, Doncaster, Yorks.

They send greetings to all Cheeloo friends.

STOP PRESS: Anti-typhoid Inoculations will be given at the Medical College to-day at 3 p.m. and on the three following Saturdays at the same time.

Those who have not been inoculated during the past two or three years are recommended to attend.

Tingsien Christian Rural Conference Impressions.

At the Tingsien conference there were present one hundred delegates from fourteen provinces. Cheeloo was represented by a number of delegates from all faculties. In a short report, given at the Monday Commemoration Ceremony last week, Mr. W. B. Djang made the following observations.

From the Conference itself:

1. A rising tide of rural interest is seen in the very fact of the wide representation at the Conference. People flocked in from every part of the country and every walk of life to participate in the meetings.
2. A varied programme is needed to suit the local needs throughout the country. No two places had exactly the same programme and no one programme was acceptable in all places. A vital movement can always adapt itself to local environment.

From a visit to the Mass Education Movement work at Tingsien:

1. A correlated programme. There is nothing new in their actual working. Everything that is being done has been and is done by Christian groups throughout the country. But they have a well planned programme for every piece of work and a correlation of all departments into a united movement. The Church may learn much from them.

2. A group of devoted leaders. The M.E.M. is not a religious group but their work is their religion. They do it so religiously that after seven years in Tingsien the local people still think of them as a religious body. It is inspiring to find a group of China's best qualified leaders willingly sacrificing their lives in the weary task of rural reconstruction in an out of the way place like Tingsien.

3. A challenge and an opportunity. It is often said in China that great gifts should not be employed in small jobs, that when one has received a higher education it would be a pity to have to go to the rural districts. The experience of the Tingsien men, however, convinces us that no one is or can be too well qualified for rural work. These people find far more than they can possibly tackle.

But the task is not impossible. To see the profound changes that have taken place in the folk of certain villages of the district in respect of habits, outlook, social relationships and corporate spirit is itself an inspiration. The work is far from being finished but there are results sufficient to prove that the workers are on the right track.

Rural reconstruction is a hard task, but it can be done and must be done by the best and ablest leaders of China.

World Student Christian Federation

This week we have had the privilege of a visit from Mr. Luther Tucker and Mr. Brewster Bingham, both of Yale and Union Seminary New York, who are travelling at their own expense in the interests of the Federation. Mr. Tucker is a member of the Executive Committee of the Federation. Our visitors have been in India for two months and have already spent half a similar stay in this country. They plan to go on to Japan in June and thence to Vladivostock and Moscow returning to the East Indies via Port Said in time for a Far Eastern Christian Students' Conference in Java early in September. While here Mr. Tucker and Mr. Bingham met and talked with several groups of students and staff with a view to arousing a local consciousness of fellowship with students in the other twenty-two countries represented in the Federation.

A proposal that Cheeloo should send one or two student representatives to the Java conference deserves full and immediate consideration. We gather that, if we do not send anyone, the North China delegates are likely to be confined to Hopei. This question has its value, too, in reminding us that, at the moment, there exists no active organisation to include all the many students who show their Christian keenness in Bible classes and religious discussion groups week by week. We need such an organisation anyhow and we need it especially at this moment with the Java conference in sight. We have a month in which to act.

Tsinan Literary Society

The large number of folks who turned out for the business meeting last Monday evening were well rewarded when, business concluded in rapid fashion, they were provided with an acting-reading of 'The Bathroom Door' by way of relaxation. We must congratulate those who took part on the atmosphere they created during the first minute and maintained throughout and on their success in bringing out all of the many clever things in the farce. There is no doubt how much the audience appreciated the effort. During the interval between the business and the play Mr. Hughes gave us a Welsh solo with fine effect.

Of this session's committee Dr. Lair alone remains in Tsinan, the others having left on furlough. In Dr. Lair's hands the business was carried through promptly and the committee for 1933-1934 was elected. We desire to thank Dr. Lair and the absent members of the retiring committee for the excellent programme they have given us during their period of office.

|----------------------|-----------------------------------------------|
| Chairman: | Mrs. L. M. Ingle |
| Secretary-Treasurer: | Rev. F. S. Drake |
| Members | Lt. Commdr. J. C. Croome. Dr. Fr. Siebert. |

We are asked to announce that if members of the Literary Society care to send in suggestions for next year's programme, Mrs. Ingle will be glad to receive them by next Wednesday, the 24th..

Archaeological Museum

The handsome gift from Mayor Shen of Tsingtao to the University recently has made it possible to carry out plans for a museum which have earlier been under consideration by the Institute of Research in Chinese Studies. The new museum will be on the ground floor of the Augustine Library and will include the University's collection of material of archaeological and artistic value and also Mr. Menzies's private collection.

Notes and Comments

JOINT OPENING This evening, at the joint social of the International Relations Club, Dr. Heeren will show a large number of lantern-slides illustrating the work of the League of Nations. All are invited.

The social will be preceded by a business meeting of the International Relations Club at 6.30 in the same room. Officers for next year will be elected.

Our very best wishes to Dr. and Mrs. Stearns, Anne, Paul, Kway and Mariel, for a good journey home and a splendid furlough. They leave Tsinan next Tuesday for Shanghai whence they sail on S.S. President Hoover.

Some students and staff members of the Medical College laboratories are beginning a study of Dr. E. Stanley Jones's book "The Christ of the Mount." If members of the community have copies, either in English or Chinese, which they are willing to lend for a few months, will they please communicate with Dr. Gault.

In view of the advance of Japanese and Manchukuo forces from the north and east, the T'ungchow school for missionaries' children has been closed early. Billy Cady, Billy Stanley, Bobby Heimbürger, John Lair and Howard Torrance have arrived back in Tsinan. Louise Heimbürger and Lucille Wolfe belong to the senior class which is remaining in T'ungchow or Peping for final examinations next week.

Where my 'Caravan' has rested? Mrs. Ingle asks if people will kindly have another look on their bookshelves for her copy of Galsworthy's 'Caravan'. It was lent to Dr. Williamson and it is presumed that someone may have borrowed the book from him.

FOUNTAIN PENS: The one found in the garden of No. 2. remains unclaimed, but the number of people who have enquired for pens other than that one leads us to expect that we shall soon be scarce able to walk the campus without treading on these useful articles.

A valuable Schaffer Lifetime pen has been lost by Mr. Davies, probably between the home of Mrs. King Chu and McCormick Hall. It is black with two gold bands. The owner will be most grateful to any friend who can help to bring the pen home again.

In Memoriam

Jen Kuo-Tung 任國棟

We much regret to have to announce that Miss Jen Kuo-Tung, a student who was studying in the first year of her pre-medical course in the Science College, died yesterday morning. Miss Jen was admitted to the University Hospital at the end of February suffering from tuberculosis and after three months of great suffering bravely borne, has now passed to the other side. Her mother, and her brother had come from the home in Hsiachin city, west of Tchow, and her sister, a graduate of our School of Theology, has been with Miss Jen during the last weeks. The Dean of Women Students, Mrs. L.H.L. Yui was with Miss Jen when she died and bears witness to the firm faith in Christ which upheld the sufferer in her pain to the last. We desire to extend our sincerest sympathies to the bereaved family, her many student friends and all who will miss her bright presence.

The funeral will take place at Miss Jen's home. A memorial service will be held this afternoon in Kumler Chapel at five o'clock.

The North China Industrial Service Union

The purpose of the Service Union is to relieve the economic distress of the common people of North China. They are largely dependent upon the growing of crops for their livelihood, but there are constant crop failures, floods and other disasters. In the meantime, the population pressure is heavy and increasing. All surveys tend to show that the farmers of North China have no more than five months of productive employment. In the winter they often subsist on one meal a day.

The Union has already begun two kinds of work. One is in wool-weaving. China is now exporting wool and importing cloth. For this there is need of simplified machinery and cooperative production.

The second project under way is in iron production. In North China, iron is found in thin and scattered deposits. The work is very hard, and about one-half of the ore is lost in the process of smelting. For the purpose of helping with this problem, an expert has already been brought out from England. A related project, receiving attention at some cooperating institutions, is the improvement of farm tools, such as ploughs.

The question is often asked, "How can we expect village industries to compete with large-unit production?" In answer we may point out two features of the proposed development of village industries. (1) Use will be made of idle time. There will be low labour costs and low overhead. (2) Emphasis will be placed upon the cooperative type of organization. Thus we hope to secure the advantages of group action and also avoid some of the evils of capitalistic production on the large scale.

(The above is a summary of an address given by Mr. Lu Kuang-Mien at the Memorial Ceremony on the 1st. inst.. It has been unavoidably held over till this issue.)

A Generous Grant.

We are much indebted to the Rockefeller Foundation for a grant of G. $2,500 for the maintenance of the Science College. In this connection we would not forget to offer our sincere thanks to Mr. N. Gist Gee, formerly Vice-President of the Foundation's China Medical Board, and to Mr. S. K. Gunn, his successor in that office, for their interest in the University.

Medical Postgraduate Course.

A Short Course in Recent Developments in Medicine and Surgery will be offered next October by the Medical College. This course, we believe, is intended primarily as a refresher course for our own graduates but is also open to graduates of any recognised medical college. Men and women doctors are eligible. Though the curriculum is already planned, intending students are invited to send in their own suggestions as to courses of study. If rooms are available, some accommodation will be provided in the Medical College dormitories. A minimum enrolment of six is necessary if the course is to be given and numbers will be limited to twenty.

Candidates for admission should communicate with the Dean of the Medical College, giving details as to the institution from which they graduated and date of graduation.

Date of Course: October 14—31, 1933

Tuition Fee: $8.00

Board (with the Medical students) at the rate of $10.00 per month.

Rent of room in Medical College dormitory: $2.00

Notes and Comments

PLEASE NOTE that in view of the Memorial Service this afternoon there will be no play on the tennis courts between 4.30 and 6 p.m. and tea will not be served at the courts.

The Tsinan Foreign School is having an informal concert on Friday next at 4.30 p.m. The School term closes on that day. The Children's Service in St. Paul's Chapel on Sunday, June 4th., will be the last this summer.

Our hearty thanks to the British Consul-General, Mr. H. I. Harding, and the members of committees for the enjoyable occasion last Wednesday when Empire Day was celebrated at the British Consulate-General. All nationalities were represented and the forty or fifty children had a great time with conjuror, tea and a hunt in the Consulate grounds for hidden treasures bearing the names of the intended recipients. We understand that the surplus of the funds subscribed is to be given to the fund for unemployed British in Shanghai.

A very hearty (if late) welcome home to Dr. Yu Chia-Chun of the Department of Dermatology who returned from his studies in Vienna on the 11th. inst.

And a welcome, also, to Mrs. Chao, the April bride of Dr. Chao Ch'ang-Lin, who has arrived from Peking. Dr. and Mrs. Chao are living at 84, Nan Hsin Chieh, the house formerly occupied by Dr. Chang Hui-Ch'uan.

The head of the Department of Foreign Languages next academic year is to be Mr. T. Y. Lin. Mr. Lin, who is a graduate of Chinghua and of Yale, has in the past been professor of English at Tsingtao University, Head of the Foreign Language Department at North-Eastern University, Mukden and, recently, secretary to the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs in Peping. Mr. and Mrs. Lin, with their children, are expected in Tsinan next month and will occupy one of the two new semi-detached houses between the Heeren and Cady homes.

The preacher, who gave such a fine witness to his Christian faith at last Sunday morning's service, is Dr. Chang Hui-T'ing a postgraduate student at the Medical College. Dr. Chang has for several years been serving in the Canadian Episcopal Mission Hospital in Kueitch (Honan), a city which changed hands several times during really severe fighting in the civil war of 1930.

We are very pleased to hear that Mr. Wei P'ei-Hsiu of the Physics Department, now studying in the University of Chicago, has been granted an additional year's fellowship by the Rockefeller Foundation.

Lucile Wolfe and Louise Heimburger arrived on Wednesday, having left T'ungchow a few minutes before the first firing was heard in the vicinity. We learn that all American nationals have been evacuated from T'ungchow.

FOR JULY. Miss W. Galbraith of Changsha writes to enquire about accommodation at Iltis Huk in July for Miss Kavoughian, an American nurse in the Yale-in-China Hospital, Changsha. Will those who can help please communicate early with Mrs. Phillips, No. 2. The Campus, Cheeloo.

Memorial Service

The memorial service to Miss Jen Kuo-Tung last Saturday in Kumler Chapel was very largely attended. We were impressed. Impressed by its dignity, reality and essentially Christian character. By the Scripture readings and prayer with which the Vice-President led us. By the tribute to her friend uttered by a fellow premedical, Miss Chang Chiang-O, and her readings from Miss Jen's hospital diary. By the quartette "Take comfort, Christian," beautifully rendered by four men students. By the response, on behalf of the bereaved family, made by Miss Jen Te-Ch'ing expressing whole-hearted trust in God and assurance that all is well with her sister. By the scrolls of loving tribute hung by the choir and especially the simplest and most beautiful "We have suddenly lost a good friend," sent by her girl friends. Impressed most of all, perhaps, by the radiance of the photograph placed on the Communion Table.

Though the hour was late, several students and teachers followed the bier to the South Suburb Church Cemetery amid the wheat fields south west of Ma-An Shan. There, with hymn and prayer, the body was laid to rest and, in the twilight, students sang again what they had sung in the chapel, "God will take care of you." To sing at a funeral is a very Christian act. We thank God that our students can sing on such an occasion.

Chinese Sociological Bulletin

A number of very interesting facts are brought to our notice in the May issue of the Bulletin. An extract from the Report of the Shantung Superior Court, 1932 tells of rapid improvement in the six modern and in the other prisons in the province. We learn that in the modern penitentiaries instruction is given in a score of different trades in addition to teaching with a view to raising the moral standard of the inmates. Less encouraging are the reports of the failure of the government's attempt to rid Nanking of prostitution and the decision to revert to the former licensing system to escape the appalling clandestine traffic that has sprung up since it was suspended. We would much like to know facts concerning the women of Shantung on the lines of those given concerning Lanchow, the capital of Kansu province. Those in Lanchow who have been privileged to receive some education still lack a sense of social responsibility and we read 'the main future of women students is to become concubines'. A report of the progress of the Nanchang Leprosy Hospital states that about one half of the two million lepers in the world are to be found in China. Dr. Heimburger, Superintendent of our own Leper Home, estimates that in this province the ratio is one per thousand inhabitants.

Every issue of the Bulletin is a challenge to the Christian forces in this country.

Notes and Comments

A Correction. We apologize for the error in our last issue that has been kindly pointed out to us. Mr. N. Gist Gee was not "Vice-President of the Rockefeller Foundation's China Medical Board," but was Adviser in the Far East for the Natural Sciences. Mr. Selskar M. Gunn is one of the two Vice-Presidents of the Rockefeller Foundation itself. Mr. Gunn has offices in Shanghai. Although he handles some of the business which formerly went through Mr. Gee's hands, the two positions are entirely different.

Children's Sunday. We have received word that tomorrow will not be the closing service of the present Sunday School session. Children's Sunday will be June 11th. and will be marked by a special service in St. Paul's Chapel at 11.15 a.m. Parents and friends are cordially invited.

We much regret to have to report that our Vice-President, Mr. Davies, was suddenly taken ill on Wednesday and is at present in the University Hospital. At the same time we are glad to know that his condition has improved.

Miss Eleanor Booth will be leaving in ten days or a fortnight for Chefoo where she expects to stay for three weeks with her parents before sailing for the United States. Miss Booth intends taking a two year course in librarianship at the University of Chicago. In March 1931 Miss Booth came from Chefoo to reinforce the staff of the Department of Foreign Languages. The staff of the Arts and Science Colleges are losing a trusted colleague and all of us the presence of a good friend. As we know only that Miss Booth means to leave at the earliest date possible, we would take this opportunity of wishing her Godspeed and great opportunities of service in the future.

We are indebted to the Canadian group in our midst for the very pleasant opportunity of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Lautenschlager before they leave on furlough which they provided us on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Lautenschlager and their children will be spending the summer at Iltis Huk before sailing for Canada.

On Friday June 9th. at 9.30 a.m. the wedding of Miss Dora King to Rev. W. Cranston Bell will be solemnised in the Kumler Chapel. Miss King, who is the sister of Dr. Gordon King, is already known to many members of our community and has been studying at the Language School in Peiping since her arrival in China last October. Mr. Bell is a member of the English Baptist Mission and is stationed in Sianfu, Shensi. All Cheeloo friends who are interested will be welcome at the church service.

A sum of $134.05, being the surplus balance of the funds subscribed for British Empire Day in Tsinan, has been sent to the British Consul-General, Shanghai, for the relief of unemployed British in that port.

It is learnt that the four non-executive Chinese delegates to the Java Christian Students Conference have already been chosen. Canton and Foochow provide one man each and Nanking and Yenching one woman each. Very heavy expenses and unsuitable date (after the autumn term opens) make it impossible for Cheeloo to send a delegate of her own.

WANTED ACCOMMODATION. Some friends will remember with pleasure meeting Miss E. Couche and Miss P. Blenkinsop of the C. E. Z. M. S. in Tsingtao and Tsinan in 1930. They write now from their up-country station in Taochow, Hunan, enquiring for accommodation at Iltis Huk this summer from mid-July to mid-August. Will those who can help please communicate with Mrs. Phillips, No. 2. The Campus, Cheeloo.

Practical Studies

In a recent order of the Ministry of Education attention is drawn to the fact that in 1931 70% of university and college students were studying Arts, Law, Commerce, Education or Fine Arts, while only 30% were studying such subjects as Natural Science, Medicine and Engineering. It is felt that China needs a greater proportion of practical scientists and hence it has been decided that, beginning this year, the number of new students admitted to courses of the first type shall not exceed those admitted to courses of the second type. Further that the average number of students per Department in colleges of the first type shall not exceed the corresponding average for the second type. In Cheeloo the Science College already has a larger enrolment than the Arts and the new regulation will mean that this position will continue.

Foreign School Concert

We wish that the Bulletin this week were a little larger in order that we need not remember that the account of the Concert given by the pupils at the School on June 2nd. must be a short one for it was all such a joy and so well done.

The three Rhythm Bands showed a real understanding of the technique of keeping time and evidently enjoyed doing it together, while the class singing, with correct voice production and clear enunciation, was good to listen to. The value of the Junior's Ball Game was very apparent.

We envied Eleanor Cady and Frances Heimburger their agility of body and lightness of step as, in costume, they so easily and gracefully danced for us the Irish Jig and 'The Highland Laddie'. The recitations by Theodora Lair, Mary Struthers, Angela Croome, Louise Cady, Muriel Hibbard, Ruth Carson, Katherine Pailing and Harriet Cady made us wish that our memory was like theirs and that public speaking before a critical audience could be for us as natural a performance.

Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan", Act 1, Scene 1, was excellently played by Laurence Thompson as Squire Robert de Baudricourt, Douglas Heimburger as his Steward, Jesse Wolfe as Bertrand de Poulengy and Eleanor Cady as Joan. As Joan stood so quietly unafraid and spoke so convincingly in spite of the scrutinising gaze of the Squire, we agreed with Knight Bertrand and the Steward that there was "something about the girl" and we knew the Squire, for all his dignity and determination, must accede to her request.

When the two ruffians of Shakespeare's "King John", in the persons of Laurence Thompson and Douglas Heimburger, appeared, and Jesse Wolfe as Hubert de Burgh prepared to put out the eyes of Prince Arthur, none other than our David Struthers, we saw such a realistically alarmed, confiding, pleading and, finally, struggling young prince that we wanted to go to the rescue.

At the close of the programme School certificates were presented by Mrs. Struthers to Harriet Cady, Jesse Wolfe and Laurence Thompson who have finished the full School course, and then Theodora Lair and Mary Struthers presented a lovely bouquet of Dorothy Perkins roses to the retiring Principal, Miss Evy Shields. The happy occasion closed with the singing by all of one verse of "My Country, 'tis of thee," and one of "God save the King."

Notes and Comments

Sunday Afternoon Service: Please note that the Service in English will commence at half-past five tomorrow and following Sundays during the summer.

The Mid-week Prayer Meeting on Wednesday evening next will be the last of the regular series this term.

The last meeting this academic year of the Tsinan Fellowship of Reconciliation will be held at the home of Mrs. Evans on Monday next at eight o'clock. A part of the meeting will be devoted to the memory of Henry Hodgkin, founder of the Fellowship. All members of the F.O.R. and interested friends are cordially invited.

The School of Theology Spring Term closes next Friday the 16th. and Graduation Exercises will be held in the Kumler Chapel at 4.30 p. m. Dr. H. H. Ts'ui, formerly on the faculty of the School and now one of the secretaries of the National Christian Council, will give an address. All are cordially invited to be present.

The members of the University staff and their wives are being invited to a reception and tea in the School of Theology Hall on Thursday afternoon next to meet the graduating students and the members of the School's Board of Directors.

We much regret the departure from our midst of Dr. H. Hsieh who for the past three years has been Head of the Chemistry Department of the Science College. Dr. Hsieh, who left for Shanghai yesterday, wishes to take advantage of the Bulletin to say his farewells to the friends whom he tried but failed to see before he left. Dr. and Mrs. Hsieh's address is 424 B, Rue Lafayette, Shanghai.

Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Winfield are expected to arrive in Cheeloo on Monday or Tuesday next. We give them a very hearty welcome as they come to take up permanent residence on the Campus.

We are glad to report that Mr. Davies is out and about again, having left hospital last Saturday.

Dr. Mitchell leaves for Weihwei, Honan on the 16th. for his customary visit to the summer school organised by the United Church of Canada Mission at that station. Dr. Mitchell will be giving a fortnight's lectures.

At a very pleasant informal tea given by Miss Shields last Monday in honour of Mrs. Wolfe, her successor as Principal of the Tsinan Foreign School, the other members of the staff took the opportunity of presenting Miss Shields with a silver bowl in token of their love and their appreciation of all she has done for the School during the past five years.

Among the visitors to the University this week was Dr. Y. T. Tsur of the International Famine Relief Commission.

Yesterday fifty-eight students of the Engineering College of Peiyang University, Tientsin, arrived in Tsinan. They will be accommodated in the Arts and Science Dormitories for about a month while they carry out surveying work in this locality.

We learn that, instead of the usual single copy of examination questions, the Registrar's Office now requires three copies, two of which are to be forwarded to the Board of Education. Will examiners please note.

The University Library is indebted to Mr. K. K. Thompson for the gift of eleven volumes of "Religious Book Club" books and to Dr. H. J. Smyly for two periodicals, "Headway" and "The Round Table."

Nestorian Crosses. Mr. Nixon, the Postal Commissioner in Tsinan, possesses a unique collection of several hundred bronze Nestorian Crosses gathered, we surmise, at great trouble and expense. Last Saturday he kindly loaned a part of the collection for exhibition to the Church History class of the School of Theology. The Principal of the School, realising the rareness of such an opportunity, very kindly extended an invitation to the University community to be present. There is still much debate as to the original use of these small pieces of engraved bronze which are found in the neighbourhood of the great bend of the Yellow River near Suiyuan along with other relics of the Mongol Dynasty. If Mr. Nixon is still in Tsinan in the autumn we hope that the many who were unable to be present last Saturday will be afforded another opportunity of seeing this most interesting collection.

Wedding. A great many of the community gathered in the Kumler Chapel yesterday morning for the wedding of Miss Dora King and the Rev. W. Cranston Bell. The Rev. A. E. Greening of Tsingchowfu performed the ceremony assisted by the Rev. Y. C. Li, who was a fellow-student of the bridegroom's at Regent's Park Theological College, London. Dr. Gordon King gave the bride away and the bridesmaids were her two little nieces, Alison and Margaret King, and Miss C. H. Greening. The Rev. T. W. Allen of Sinchow, Shansi, was the best man. Among the guests from outside Tsinan were Mrs. Greening and Mrs. Donald Smith from Tsingchow and Miss G. Menzies from Honan.

We wish them all happiness and success in their life and work in Sianfu, Shensi, where they will be going at the end of the summer.

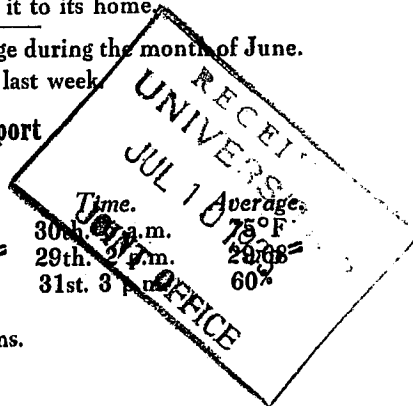

A cooling thought! Have you a sled in your cellar? If you have will you please ascertain whether or not it is the larger of the Evans's sleds borrowed last winter and kindly return it to its home.

Medical Outcalls: Dr. Gault is in charge during the month of June. We apologise for having omitted this notice last week.

Graduation Ceremonies.

It is expected that all members of staff will take part in the processions on Sunday and Tuesday. Owing to the large number of graduates on this occasion the Registrar's Office will not be in a position to loan caps and gowns to staff. We believe that some of us, who have not academic dress of our own, will be able to borrow from folk who will not be taking part—and we hope those who have and to spare will come forward and help. In view, however, of the lateness of this notification, we are asked to announce that those who fail to secure academic dress for the occasion are nevertheless invited to take part in the processions.

For the procession from McCormick Hall to Kumler Chapel on Sunday, please assemble in McCormick Hall at nine o'clock.

For the Graduation Ceremony in the Institute Hall on Tuesday, please assemble in the class-room facing the south door of the Hall at 9.15 a.m.

The Bulletin in the Autumn

The University Executive Council has approved of a change in this publication in the future. Beginning next September the Bulletin in its present form will give way to a weekly and a monthly publication. The weekly will be issued primarily in the interests of the University and Tsinan community and will usually consist of a calendar and notes and comments on current events in the University, together with a meteorological report. The monthly will have readers abroad in view and will consist mainly of articles on the work of the University supplemented by notes on the current month's activities. It is expected that the weekly will occupy the two sides of a single sheet, while the monthly will probably fill the six sides of a double folder.

Please note that, unless a special request to do so is made by individuals or offices, it will be assumed that the weekly publication is not required outside Tsinan.

Subscription rates are as follows:—

|-------------|-------------|-----------|----|-----------|
| The Weekly | $1.00 Mex. | per annum | in | China |

Notes and Comments

CANCELLED. The Tea-Party for Graduates originally planned for this afternoon and later postponed to tomorrow afternoon will not take place. It is much regretted that conflicting engagements have compelled its cancellation.

We give a hearty welcome home to Dr. King Chu. The President will preach the sermon at the Religious Ceremony on Sunday morning.

It will be noticed that the degree of Doctor of Medicine is being granted our Medical College graduates for the first time. This does not imply that the course has been changed or lengthened. The alteration is merely to bring Cheeloo into line with Medical Colleges in the United States which have already been followed in this matter by the University of Toronto and the P.U.M.C.. British readers will understand that this M.D. is not the fruit of post-graduate work but is equivalent to the M.B. with which they are familiar.

Our heartiest good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Lautenschlager, Kathleen and Robert for their coming furlough.

Miss Eleanor Booth left for Chefoo on Wednesday.

The Rev. Henry Payne is expected to arrive in Shanghai from England on Sunday. Mr. Payne will take Dr. Williamson's place in the Whitewright Institute during the latter's furlough.

Our spot on the globe. Friends will remember the visit to Cheeloo last October of members of the Peping Research Institute for the purpose of making a determination of the latitude and longitude of Tsinan. The base chosen for observations was on the lawn south of the Physics Building and a metal plate recording the result has now been received and will be fixed at the point. The results are as follows:—

Longitude E. 117° 0' 38" (ie. — 07h. 48m. 25s.)
Latitude N. 36° 39' 15"

A Short Course in Photo-engraving is planned to open in the autumn. Details will be published in the near future in the Chinese Bulletin (齊大旬刊).

At the Fellowship of Reconciliation meeting last Monday evening, Dr. Heeren was elected Chairman of the local branch for the coming session and Dr. Smyly Secretary.

The June issue of the Chinese Sociological Bulletin is devoted wholly to the problem of Rural Reconstruction.

A letter dated May 5th. in London has been received from Dr. Williamson. In Toronto he paid a visit to the headquarters of the United Church of Canada Mission where he found "Bill Chang's memory still fresh and green." The day following his arrival in England Dr. Williamson attended the meetings of the E. B. M. committees in London and spoke at the evening public meeting in the Queen's Hall. He and his family send greetings to all. Their address is 3, St. Michael's Terrace, Highgate, London, N. 6.

To all huntsmen. Please hunt among your books for the lost, strayed or stolen copy of "Microbe Hunters" belonging to Dr. Shields, and kindly inform him of its whereabouts.

Medical Outcalls. During July Dr. Heimburger will be in charge, and Dr. Smyly during August.

This is the last issue of the Bulletin this academic year.
