Mr. C.A. Evans,
150 Fifth Avenue,
New York.

Dear Mr. Evans,

Enclosed please find a coupon from an interest-bearing Bond which I am holding for my brother
Leighton. Please deposit to his account when collected.
As requested, there is no marking or endorsement. Kindly acknowledge if only on a card.

Please tell the Yenching Secretary I would be glad to receive any printed or mimeographed matter of interest concerning Yenching or China in general.

With thanks,

Yours sincerely,

Warren H. Stuart.

Dear Dr. Stuart:

I am hastening to acknowledge receipt of your letter of April 24th, wherein you enclose interest coupon from a Davis & Elkins bond. We are presenting this for collection, and will give Dr. J. Leighton Stuart credit when the cash is received.

We are passing word on to the Yenching Promotional Office that any field information is to be forwarded to your desk. I believe that we urged this upon the office once before, and I trust you have not been left out in the mailing of any material which is of value.

With sincerest regards to you, I remain

Very truly yours,

My dear Dr. Stuart:

The news dispatches state that thirty-five Americans and four hundred students are barricaded behind the walls of Yenching University and carrying on their work.

You have probably received word that in the first days of the raid on Peiping Leighton and Dr. Galt took turns guarding the campus gate until the Japanese became so offensive that an appeal was made to the U. S. Embassy, and a detachment of Marines was sent down to stand guard. Since that time there has been no difficulty, although the Japanese are allowed to inspect the property, accompanied by one of the officers of the University. As the campus is now behind the Japanese lines, there does not seem to be much to worry about regarding damage to the property unless there is a very drastic change in the whole battle front.

A cablegram came to hand the day before yesterday, as follows:

"OPENING DELAYED BUT WITHOUT INTERFERENCE ENROLLMENT
TO DATE MEN 268 WOMEN 111"

We will keep you informed of any further news which comes through.

Most cordially yours,

CAE:RC
